GERMANS ATTACK IN WOEVRE, BUT ARE DRIVEN OFF

Paris Says a Few French Positions at Fresnes Were Penetrated, but Teutons Were Expelled in Counter Attack.

Bombardment of Positions Near Verdun Continues—French Assault on Douaumont Fails.

Joffre Prepares for German Effort on Aisne—Has Not Yet Drawn on His Great Reserve.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, March 2.—The War Office announcement of this afternoon says that there was intermittent bombardment of the Verdun and Woevre front during the night, but that there were no developments of importance.

The announcement reads:

"In the region of Verdun the enemy bombarded violently last night Le Mort Homme (the Dead Man) at the Cote de l'Oie, between Malancourt and Forges, as well as the principal crossings of the River Meuse. There was little activity on the part of the artillery to the east of the Meuse.

Fresnes Positions Penetrated.

"In the Woevre district, after an intense retaliatory fire from the artillery, the enemy yesterday evening delivered a spirited attack on our positions at Fresnes. They were at once driven back by our counter-attack from the few positions which they had succeeded in penetrating.

"In the Lorraine district a bombardment of several hours' duration against the Sainte Marie farm to the west of Berange was followed by an attack on the part of the enemy which resulted in complete failure.

"In Alsace certain tentative movements undertaken by strong German patrols against our outposts in the valley of the Lauch were repulsed by the use of hand grenades."

The press and public of France are mystified at the continued pause in the German attacks around Verdun. Caution born of experience leads generally to the rejection of the view that the Germans have given up all hope of trying to capture the Lorraine fortress. It is thought more likely they are merely resting before starting afresh with greater energy. It is believed in many quarters that the attack on Verdun was only a preliminary to operations on a much larger scale.

However, Gen. Joffree is fully prepared for all eventualities. So far, only the local French reserves have been called upon at Verdun, the great general reserve forces remaining intact for use in repelling other heavy onslaughts or for carrying out a great counter attack when the opportune moment comes.

The question is raised as to whether the next German attack will again be at Verdun or along the front from the Somme to the Aisne, as it is known that the Germans have been making preparations along the latter lines, the southern limit of which is many miles nearer to Paris than is Verdun. These preparations, however, are not so elaborate as those which had been made for Verdun and should the Germans attempt the latter plan the military observers say they would be liable to a flank attack by the British in Artois and Flanders.

Difficulties for the Germans.

On the other hand, if the Germans continue their assaults against Verdun from the plain of the Woevre their infantry will have to attack virtually unsupported by the heaviest of the German guns, it is argued, as the water-soaked clay soil of the Lorraine plain makes the transport of such guns almost impossible. The plain is only crossed by four military roads, and troops and light artillery would be obliged to deploy in the open under fire from the French positions on the heights of the Meuse.

Two valleys lead to Verdun from the plain. Both are blocked by Forts des Tavennes and Roellier, and everywhere else the infantry would face thickly wooded heights with a straight drop of 250 feet. The Germans would have here, however, all the resources of Metz within easy reach.

No news has been received of Lieutenant-Colonel Driant, a son-in-law of the late Gen. Boulanger and Deputy for Nancy, since the beginning of the battle, in which he commanded two battalions of light infantry.

The exact figures of the French losses at Verdun have been given to the committee of military affairs of the Chamber of Deputies by Col. Boucabelle, chief secretary to Gen. Galleni, Minister of War. It is stated that they were not high.

The Petit Parisian says that the German losses to date in the Verdun fighting amount to between 125,00 and 130,-

NAVY OFFICIALS TO FULFILL PROMISE MADE BY LINCOLN

As Result Surviving Member of Monitor's Crew Will Go Through Canal on Warship.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A promise made by President Lincoln more than half a century ago to John Driscoll of Hampton, Va., said to be the oldest living survivor of the battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac in the Civil War, is about to be carried out by the Navy Department.

After the naval engagement President Lincoln summoned the members of the crew of the Monitor to Washington. He thanked them for their valor and said if any of them ever wanted a favor from the Government it would only be necessary to ask it.

Recently Driscoll decided to ask for the proferred favor. He requested to be taken aboard a battleship going through the Panama Canal, which, he said, he longed to see before he died. Arrangements have been made to take him on the next warship that passes through the great waterway.

SAILOR, REGARDED AS A JONAH, KEPT OFF VESSEL BY THREATS

Man Who Was on Titanic, Lusitania and Other Ships Lost, Told He Would Be Chucked Overboard.

LONDON, March 2.—Charle Dunn, a sailor, pleaded guilty to the charge of failing to report for duty on an Admiralty transport which sailed without him but no punishment was inflicted upon him.

Dunn seems to bear a charmed life but the ships on which he sails almost invariably go to the bottom. He was on the Titanic and the Empress of Ireland when they went down, and on the Lusitania and Florizian when they were torpedoed by German submarines. His portrait, as that of the man who couldn't be drowned, has been shown at many of the "movies." Among sailors his reputation as a Jonah is firmly established. He said they had threatened to throw him overboard if he joined the ship.

"So you see, your worship," he explained to the magistrate, "if I had sailed on the ship they wouldn't have let me stay on her long."

CITY TO GET BACK $229 OF MONEY PAID FOR FOREST PARK

Has Been in Boatmen's Bank Since 1875 and Was Advertised as Being Unclaimed.

Judge Hennings made an order today directing the Boatmen's Bank to credit to the account of the Circuit Clerk a balance of $229.72 which was left over in the bank from the fund of $817,452.45 deposited in 1875 to pay for Forest Park. The balance was discovered by clerks in the office of Circuit Clerk Graves a few days ago when they were reading an advertisement of unclaimed funds in the bank.

At the time the land now embraced in Forest Park was condemned it appears that the city paid into the bank $817,452.67 to pay the owners for their land, and that only $817,225.45 was needed. The Circuit Clerk, J. Fred Thornton, killed himself about that time, and the balance was forgotten.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 2.—A donation of $1000 from President Wilson to the Ellen Wilson Memorial, a fund being raised here for awarding scholarships to children in mountain sections of the South, has been received by officers of the memorial. The President's personal check for that amount was enclosed in a letter from Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, requesting that it be added to the fund.

WATCHMAN TELLS HOW HE PAID $100 TO GET MOVIE JOB

Ado Lang Testifies He Was Made Director When He Put $121 More in Company.

KEEP CROWD TITTERING

Declares at Trial of Lansdowne Promoters He Spent $11.30 for Coal to Heat Studio.

Ado Lang, former night watchman in a packing plant, kept a crowd in titters in Justice Townsend's court in East St. Louis today as he sorrowfully related how he had spent every cent he had, $221, in an effort to finance the Lansdowne Photoplay Co. and the Ham-Ex Film Co. He was appearing as the prosecuting witness at the preliminary hearing of Mr. and Mrs. George Harry Hamilton of 2031 Park avenue, St. Louis, charged with operating a confidence game. Hamilton is president and his wife secretary and treasurer of the motion picture concerns.

Lang, who lives at 1630 St. Louis avenue, in East St. Louis, said he had been unemployed and applied at the studio, in Lansdowne Park, on Jan. 4 for a job, in answer to an advertisement. He said Hamilton offered him a place as "superintendent of the studio," at $50 a month salary, provided he would buy $300 stock in the Lansdowne Photoplay Co.

Takes Look Around.

"I told Hamilton I would take a look around and see how I liked the place," Lang testified. "I went into the woods with a gang of actors and actresses to look at places that would be suitable for taking pictures of 'The Old Armchair,' the photoplay to be produced. We found plenty of good places, but didn't take any pictures.

"Upon my return, Hamilton asked how I liked it. 'It looks good,' I replied; 'but I want to sleep over it.' Next day, on a Tuesday, I took $100 to the studio and told Hamilton that was all I had.

"'You're just the kind of man we're looking for,' Hamilton told me. Mrs. Hamilton said that if my work as superintendent improved, I would be put on as an actor at 50c cents an hour. That sounded good. I got the job as superintendent.

"Three days later Hamilton wanted more money. I got $50 from the bank and gave it to him. It was getting cold, so I bought $11.30 worth of coal to heat the studio.

"Two weeks later Hamilton said he just had to have more money. I told him I only had $10.85 left in the bank. 'Every little bit helps,' Hamilton replied. 'Go get it.'

Down to Last 85 Cents.

"I got it, but kept the 85 cents for carfare. Several days later Hamilton said we'd have to close down if he didn't get more money. I had 35 cents left, but told him that some people were owing me, and that I might be able to collect some money, but that if I went out collecting I couldn't get down to the studio by 9 a. m.

"'I don't care if you don't get down by 2:30, just so you bring the money,' Hamilton told me."

Lang said he collected $50, gave it to Hamilton, and that Hamilton then made him a member of the Board of Directors, and said that that increased his salary $10 a month. Mrs. Hamilton, he said, gave him 20 shares of Lansdowne Photoplay stock, par value $10 a share.

Later Hamilton asked him to bring back the stock, he testified, promising to reissue him 25 shares of Lansdowne Photoplay and 25 shares of Ham-Ex stock. The Lansdowne Photoplay Co. is a $2500 Illinois corporation, capital stock partly paid up, and the Ham-Ex is a $100,000 corporation, chartered in Delaware, where one is not required to have the capital stock paid up.

Lang testified he had been pushing Hamilton for his wages, never having received any, and that he had told Hamilton that he was "bled out" and didn't even have carfare to get to work. Lang lived two miles from the studio, and didn't want to walk.

"We haven't either," Lang says Hamilton declared. "We haven't got a thing. The money will come in some time. Don't worry. We will make $100,000 next summer."

Lang declared the Hamiltons kept his old stock, and never reissued the new stock, as promised. It was on this declaration that he last week caused Hamilton's arrest on a charge of operating a confidence game.

Hamilton's lawyer asked Lang if the filing by Lang of an attachment suit two weeks ago didn't halt the progress of filming "The Old Armchair." Lang said it did not. "They had been waiting for a good day," he said, "and one came before I filed attachment suit, but they didn't have any film to take pictures with."

About 15 men and 15 women were in the cast. They got jobs by answering ads, and only three had had previous experience in the movies. Most of them, according to statements made by Lang, were asked to buy stock in order to get jobs.

MAYORS ARRIVING FOR CONFERENCE ON PREPAREDNESS

Dahlman of Omaha on Hand, New York Party Due This Afternoon.

FIRST SESSION TOMORROW

Committee That Called Convention Holds Executive Meeting in City Hall Tonight.

Mayors from virtually all sections of the United States are due to reach St. Louis this afternoon and tonight to attend the national conference of Mayors in connection with the campaign of the National Security League for preparedness, which will be held tomorrow and Saturday.

Mayor John L. Vaughan of Mart, Tex., was the first delegate to arrive, having reached here Saturday. Mayor Lewis Fisher of Galveston, Tex., arrived last night in the first snowstorm which he had seen in 15 years.

James Dahlman of Omaha, known as the "cowboy Mayor," registered at the Planters Hotel in the morning with a party from the West. A committee had been appointed by Richard S. Hawes, chairman of the General Reception Committee, to welcome Mayor Dahlman, but the latter failed to notify them of his time of arrival, saying he wished to be the object of as little ceremony as possible.

Forty New York men, including Mayor Mitchel, Cornelius Vanderbilt, chairman of the New York Defense Committee of One Thousand; Alexander M. White, and former Congressman Martin W. Littleton, will arrive during the afternoon.

Robert Bacon, former Ambassador to France, and Mrs. Bacon, will arrive at 5:50 o'clock. Both delegations will be met by a reception committee headed by Chairman Hawes and Mayor Kiel.

Miss Morgan Here Tomorrow.

Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, Mrs. Lindsay van Rennssalaer of New York, and party, will arrive tomorrow afternoon. Both will speak on "Woman's Share of Preparedness," at the Town Club Luncheon Saturday noon at the Annex Hotel.

Among others arriving during the afternoon are: Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, J. G. Woodward of Atlanta; New Orleans delegation, headed by Harold W. Newman, Director of Public Safety of that city; Joseph S. MacLaughlin, Director of the Department of Supplies of Philadelphia, who will represent Mayor Thomas Smith of that city; Mayor T. L. Kirkpatrick of Charlotte, N. C., and Henry Harmon Chamberlin, representing the Mayor of Worcester, Mass.

The Chicago delegation will arrive tomorrow morning. Mayor William H. Thompson cannot leave Chicago until tomorrow night, but until his arrival he will be represented by Henry Rathbone. Mayor H. P. Pearsons of Evanston and Mayor Craig A. Hood of Chicago Heights will accompany this delegation.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of 11 Mayors who signed the call for the convention will be held tonight in Mayor Kiel's office. Mayor Kiel will open the convention at the Planters Hotel tomorrow morning with an address of welcome. George M. Brown will be chairman of the first session, and a different chairman will succeed at each session. As fast as the Mayors arrive tomorrow they will be escorted directly to the convention hall so that as little time as possible will be lost.

The Business Men's League will act as hosts at a noonday luncheon tomorrow to the Mayors at the Hotel Jefferson. A similar luncheon will be given in honor of the visiting women at the St. Louis Women's Club.

The first session of the conference will be devoted to general and industrial preparedness. The second session, tomorrow afternoon, will be devoted to the navy. Prof. Roland G. Usher of Washington University, author of "Pan-Germanism," will speak on "The European View of the Monroe Doctrine."

The third session, Saturday morning, will be given over to discussion of the army.

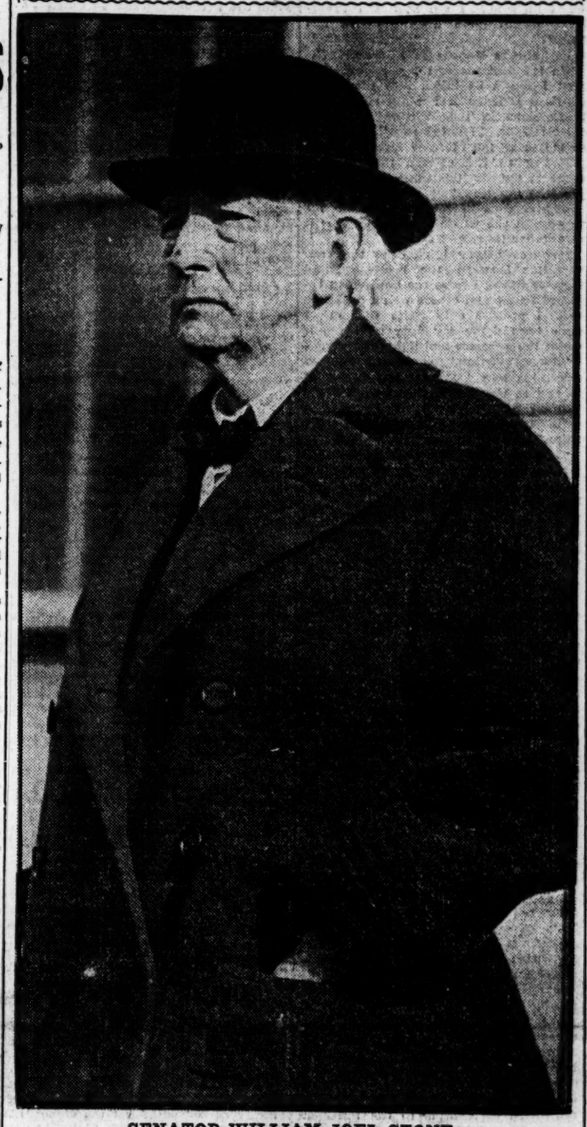

The fourth and final session will be held Saturday afternoon with "Resolutions" as the theme. The conference will close with a banquet to the Mayors at the Hotel Jefferson at 7 o'clock.

Many Give Views.

Many of the Mayors who will attend the conference have written letters to the committee in charge giving their views upon the question of national defense. Mayor Schram of New Orleans writes that he favors preparedness so that no citizen shall ever have reason to be ashamed of his flag. Daniel W. Wilbur, Mayor of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., writes that he does not believe in the kind of peace that abridges our rights as American citizens. James C. Dahlman, Mayor of Omaha, Neb., expresses the hope that the action of the conference will serve to arouse Congress to action for preparedness.

STATE CLERKS SET TO WORK TO AID MAJOR'S V. P. BOOM

Installed Next to Executive Chambers to Prepare His Literature for Mails.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 2.—The Post-Dispatch correspondent learned today that Gov. Major had requisitioned the services of several of his appointees in the State Insurance Department to prepare and send out literature in his campaign for the vice presidential nomination. The force was working behind closed doors this morning, in the large board room connected with the executive chambers.

It was learned also that the insurance clerks are preparing and mailing in circular letters containing the Governor's reply to the charge of H. B. Kelly, a Kansas City bond broker, that the Governor had broken faith with Kelly's brokerage firm when the Mercantile Trust Co. of St Louis was permitted to sell the State capitol bonds for a commission of $41,000.

Gov. Major is not in town. He left Sunday for Pittsburg to attend a good roads meeting and has not returned. N. E. Williams, private secretary to the Governor, denied that the clerks from the insurance department were doing political work for the Governor, when first questioned by the Post-Dispatch correspondent. He declared they were "helping him out" with the work of the executive department.

When confirmation of the real employment of the clerks was received from other sources Williams admitted that they were folding and preparing for the mail literature and newspaper clippings to aid the Governor's vice presidential candidacy, and also the Kelly circulars, but said he hoped nothing would be published about the matter until the Governor's return.

Walter Chorn, Superintendent of the Insurance Department, said the work in the Insurance Department was not lax and that the clerks had plenty to do there, but that he had lent them to the Governor today at the request of Williams Chorn said he did not know what the clerks were doing.

FIVE SHIPS SUNK, 18 ON A RUSSIAN VESSEL DROWNED

Three of Craft Sent to Bottom in North Sea Fishing Smacks.

LONDON, March 2.—The sinking of five more vessels was reported today. The crews of three British smacks landed at Lowestoft. Their vessels are said to have been sunk in the North Sea.

The Italian ship Elisa also is reported to have been sunk, and announcement was made of the sinking of the Russian steamer Alexander Wentzel. Eighteen of the crew were drowned and 11 rescued.

The Alexander Wentzel was reported in latest available shipping records as having arrived at Cardiff on Jan. 23. The steamer was 320 feet long and 45 feet beam.

Lloyd's agent at Blyth reports that the British steamship Thornaby was sunk by a mine on Monday.

A dispatch of yesterday's date announced that Thornaby had been sunk in the North Sea and that nearly all of the crew were killed or drowned. Later it was reported that the steamer Devereaux had arrived in the Tyne, bringing the steward of the Thornaby, who had been rescued and reported that two other persons had been saved by the steamer Highgate.

A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Co. from Christiania says a German aeroplane attacked with bombs the Norwegian steamer Moderni, bound for England, but that the vessel was not damaged.

25,000 WOMEN ON RAILROADS

PARIS, March 2.—The number of women employed on the railways of France has reached a total of over 25,000.

In practically every department where they have been tried their work is characterized by Government officials as entirely satisfactory.

During 1915 the Post-Dispatch printed 14,623 Lost and Found Want Ads, which is 1584 more than appeared in the four other St. Louis newspapers combined covering the same period.

STONE TAKES LEAD AGAINST PRESIDENT; LODGE DEFENDS HIM

Missourian Declares in Speech Armed Ship Carrying War Material Is War Vessel.

GORE TELLS OF REPORT WILSON DISCUSSED WAR

Declares He Heard President Said Conflict Between Germany and U. S. Might End War in Summer—Executive Summons Minority Leader Mann to a Conference.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—There were several developments today in the fight between Congressmen and the President on the armed ship controversy. In brief they were:

1—Senator Stone, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, on the floor of the Senate announced he was not in accord with the President on the question, and the most stirring debate of the session followed, in which Senators James, Williams and Lodge defended the President, and Senator Gore repeated what he characterized as a report that President Wilson had told certain congressional leaders that war between the United States and Germany might result in "advancing civilization by bringing about the end of the war by midsummer." Senator Stone denied the President made such a statement.

2—President Wilson summoned Minority Leader Mann of the House to a conference at 5 p. m. to discuss the attitude of Republicans on the question.

3—President Wilson flatly told Chairman Flood of the House Foreign Affairs Committee that he wanted a vote on one of the resolutions warning Americans off ships to dispose of the question once and for all. Flood said he hoped a resolution acceptable to the President would be reported.

The conference between the President and Mann aroused much discussion over whether the administration forces had lost some ground in the House which they hoped to overcome with Republican votes or whether the President considering the question entirely a non-partisan one, wanted to inform the leaders on all sides. The latter view was predominant.

After a day of conferences and inaction by the House Foreign Affairs Committee, word went forth from the White House last night that the President would accept no compromise; that he wanted Congress to pass upon one of the pending resolutions and that no resolution of confidence in the administration or other device to prevent members from recording their position would be acceptable.

Senator Stone, at the opening of the Senate today, proposed an adjournment, to take the Senate out of recess, in which it has been working, so as to clear the parliamentary situation for a vote on Senator Gore's resolution.

Senator Stone made the suggestion after a conference with administration leaders who decided the situation in the House was so complex, with possibilities of delay that they would not wait for a vote, but would go ahead in the Senate, where they are confident the anti-administration resolutions can be defeated.

It seemed to be the plan to bring the Gore resolution up tomorrow. In this connection Stone announced from the floor of the Senate that he was not in accord with the President on the issue.

Senator James, one of the administration supporters, said: "It has been decided to bring the resolution up for action as soon as possible but probably not today. We have the votes in the Senate to smash it."

Stone Tells His Objections to President's Armed Ship Policy

Senator Stone, on the floor of the Senate today, is seeking to pave the way for a vote in that body on the armed ship warning resolution, stated that he was not in accord with the President on this question.

"I desire to state the entire situation, as I understand it," said Senator Stone. "A sharp issue has been defined between Germany and Great Britain as to the status of armed merchantmen. Germany contends that armed merchant vessels are the equivalent of auxiliary war vessels and has announced her policy to be that after March 1, armed merchantmen would be regarded as warships and subject to rules of war.

"On the other hand, Great Britain contends that under international law, merchantmen have the right to be armed for defensive purposes and that armed merchantment are entitled, under the law, to the same immunity as unarmed ships, without regard to cargo. She has announced her intention to carry out this policy.

"That is the issue between these two Governments.

How United States Comes In.

"Now where does the United States come in? In this way: If both persist in these courses, neither yielding to each other, nor to the importunities of neutral nations, and if Germany attacks an armed merchantman, and any American citizen is injured the question is presented to this Government what our attitude would be. If no American citizens were on board we would have no cause to interfere, unless we proceeded on the altruistic theory of obligations to humanity.

"To my mind, this emergency is of high importance. The President, Senators and Representatives should speak with each other, and with the country, free from political bias. We should wear our hearts on our sleeves, so we may know our positions exactly.

"The President's attitude is this: He supports the contention that belligerent merchantmen have the right to bear arms for defensive purposes, but he does not say, nor do I doubt if any one does, what constitute defensive purposes.

"Furthermore, if a German warship without warning, should attack and sink a merchantman, the President proposes to consider the attack a lawless act. He will be disposed to hold the German Government to a strict accountability, and if the German Government persisted, he would be tempted to sever diplomatic relations, and submit the matter to Congres, which, under the Constitution is the war-making body.

View on Belligerent Ships.

"If it must come to this, and I must disagree with the President, and if I must disagree with my colleagues. I must not face this as a political question. My duty is clear. I cannot but believe that if a belligerent merchantman is armed, whether for defensive or offensive purposes, if it is transporting war material it is the equivalent of a war vessel.

"I cannot discuss the question now, but will merely state that in duty to myself, to my constituents and to my country, I will discuss it here at length in the near future. The President is opposed to the Gore resolution. He is not only opposed to laws on the subject, but to any form of official warning, keeping people off belligerent vessels.

"If I could have my way, I would take some step to save this country from becoming embroiled in the European war through the recklessness of some thoughtless citizens.

"The President has written Representative Pou that the resolution has been a source of embarressment to him in the diplomatic negotiations with the belligerents. I am sure that is so. I have diligently sought to prevent resolutions on this subject being adopted and sought to allay agitation on this subject. Now we are informed that the resolution must be defeated."

Right Not Questioned for Centuries, Says Lodge, Defending the President

"I have listened with profound interest to what has been said by the Senator from Missouri," said Senator Lodge. "I thoroughly appreciate the gravity of the situation to which he has called attention. I agree with him that this is not a party question. I also agree that our first duty is to dispose of the precise issue that has been raised by the discussion to which he has referred.

"I think the President, hampered, as he tells us in the letter to Representative Pou, in his diplomatic negotiations, has a right to ask for a vote on the precise proposition in order that he may know whether he can go on with his negotiations with Congress behind him or whether Congress takes the view of the belligerent power with which he is negotiating. I hope the Senate will take an early vote on the precise question as to whether American citizens can travel on armed merchant ships, a right which has not been questioned for centuries past."

Senator Williams Speaks.

Senator Williams of Mississippi, weak from illness, spoke with great deliberation and feeling, apologizing for the weakness of his voice.

"There are times in the history of all people, all administrations and all parties," said he, "when men come to the parting of the ways, to unavoidable conflict, when each must stand as best he may for that which he thinks to be brave, just and patriotic.

"That time, I think, has come for you and for men concerning the proposition that now faces us."

"The time has come, continued Senator Williams, "when the question states itself in this way: 'Shall I acclaim America first, or shall I acclaim "Deutschland ueber Alles." I have the highest contempt for one who would inject politics in this situation. Politicians looking for a racial vote of some kind to be gained from this are not only poor Americans, but poor politicians.

"From the moment a factional element participating in the Government of the United States shall implant in themselves an idea of pleasing a racial element, that moment they will consolidate against them every other racial element and all that great element of citizens who are just Americans, without frill, without politics and without hyphens or anything else. They have a right to be here.

"The citizenship of this country is derived from every race under the sun. We are not Irish, not Germans, not English, not Latins, not Russians, not French. We are here if we have the right to participate in American Government, simply as Americans.

"Therefore, American ideals and everything that responds to the noblest in America can be relied upon to push aside any man whose idea of politics consists of pleasing some racial prejudice. The initiative in foreign relations lies with the executive and Congress ought not to attempt to assume the initiative.

"Through resolutions and in speeches and whispers, the chief magistrate has been prodded and nagged and dared. To do what? To surrender the initiative the Constitution places with him and let Congress take the lead in foreign relations. Now the patience of a very patient man has been exhausted. Now, he says, 'You have given comfort to foreign nations, you have given them a contempt for your own Government, you have weakened my hand, now I want a showdown. And I believe it will be a show up. I am through.'

"You have nagged and prodded him until he has picked up the gauntlet and said: 'If the patriotism of Congress is behind me, let's find it out, and if it is not behind me, let's find that out. If I'm to be ham-strung just kill me as a negotiator and have done. If I am helpless say so and let me and the people know it. You already have done as much harm as you could do by adopting the resolution. I have pleaded with you not to go on, and, in spite of all, you have kept it up. Therefore, without evasion, I say now, let's bring this to an issue. Bring on your war resolutions, and your other resolution and let a motion be made to table them.'

"The President has offered no new doctrine. The proposition of armed merchantmen is a principle recognized in the war with Spain and in the Civil War. What Germany wants to do, what she wants us to do, is to change international law, and she is trying to make us a particeps criminis.

"The only danger of war today, the only cloud on the horizon, comes from the fact that the politicians have not let him alone and that some of you must seek to create the impression that the American people are not behind the American Government, and to your action alone is due the last position taken by the Germans."

Senator Williams described the President's conduct of Mexican affairs as a strong man turning from the wrath of an impotent child. In the present situation, he said, he was faced by the menace of a great, self-reliant, important power.

Gore Defends His Resolution.

Senator Gore defended his resolution.

"In my judgment, any American placing Germany's interest above those of the United States is a traitor," declared Senator Gore. "And there are many traitors of that class in America. I think any American placing Great Britain's interest above ours is a traitor, and there are as many of that class. These two types are equally offensive, disloyal and reprehensible.

"I do not doubt that American ship owners whose ships are flying the allies' flags would like to have the United States police and protect their vessels plying to European ports. I do not doubt that the buyers and brokers of the $500,000,000 allies' bonds sold in this country rejoice to have the United States underwrite their investment. I have no more sympathy with them than I have with any hyphenated American who is disloyal to his adopted land.

"When the honor of this republic is involved the essential rights are those of American citizens. And every American sword will leap from its scabbard in defense of those rights. The sentiment must not be trifled with. It is not a plaything for the hands of Americans who are disposed to risk their lives on belligerent ships.

"Rule Survival of Piracy."

"I believe that the law gives neutrals the right to travel on belligerent ships. The right is a survival of piracy and ought to be withdrawn. The law once gave them the right to hold slaves.

"Perhaps anyone of a hundred million Americans has the right to risk his own life, and any madcap American citizen may boast that it is his inalienable, his sacred right under international law, to involve the nation in war. But I believe the hundred million others have the right to be protected against the recklessness of the one.

"Of course, the right of the millions is not to be balanced against the right of the one.

Gore Tells of Report that Wilson Discussed the Possibility of War

Senator Gore declared that at the proper time he would put squarely before the Senate whether the sinking of an armed merchant vessel by a submarine would be considered sufficient cause for war.

"I introduced my resolution because I was apprehensive we were heading toward war," he said. "My act was based on a report which seemed to me to come from the highest authority that certain Senators and members of the House in a conference with the President received from him the intimation, if not the declaration, that if Germany insisted on her position the United States would insist upon hers, and that this would result probably in a breach of diplomatic relations, and breach of diplomatic relations would probably be followed by a state of war, and that a state of war might not be an evil, might not be ungrateful, might end the war by midsummer and thus might render a great service to civilization. I cannot certify to the truth of the report. I tell the tale as it was told to me. There were such external and internal marks of truth that I feared it might be the truth.

"If the Senator from Missouri, the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, will deny it, that will satisfy me. If the Senator from Indiana says it is not true, I will accept that."

"I do not know why the Senator quoted me," replied Senator Stone.

"I did not quote the Senator," responded Senator Gore.

Stone Denies Statement.

"Well, in fairness to the President," said Senator Stone, "I think I should state that the President never stated to me nor stated in my hearing that he believed or in any way entertained the thought that war between the United States and the central Powers would be desirable or would result in any good or would not be ungrateful."

"I have no passion for peace," Senator Gore responded. "I do not believe all pesce is honorable, or that all war is dishonorable, but I repeat that when I heard of the reported conversation between the President and the Senator from Missouri, I believed it to be founded on fact because of the source from which it came to me. I was convinced that there must be some basis for the report that the President suggested to the Senator from Missouri that the Unied States might bring the war to a close in the middle of the summer."

Senator Stone jumped to his feet a second time.

"The President of the United Sttaes made no such statement as quoted by the Senator from Oklahoma," Senator Stone declared emphatically. "Whatever the Presidetn did say is something that I do not care to repeat. Whenever I go to the White House for a conference with the President, what he says to me is sacred. I have not repeated the conversation I had with the President. I have stated impressions the conversation made on my mind. I stated in substance my impressions in my letter to the President which was made public."

"I made no intimation that the Senator from Missouri had repeated the conversation," Senator Gore replied.

"When this rumor came to his ears," damended Senator James of Kentucky, "why didn't the Senator from Oklahoma go to the President and aks if it were true? The Senator from Oklahoma is on good terms with the President, is he not?"

"I received an invitation to go to the White House with Senators Stone and Kern, but I did not go," replied Gore.

"The Senator from Oklahoma is one of the President's closest friends," Senator James continued. "Why did he not go to him and ascertain just what he said? I am sure the President would have been glad to tell him."

Hopes Report Is Untrue.

"In the first place, I had no evidence that I might be taken into the President's confidence or I might receive his impressions in the matter," Senator Gore replied. "I acted on what seemed to me to be the facts. I have only undertaken to tell of the report as it came to me. If it is untrue, everybody must be gratified."

Senator Gore said he would endeavor to present the whole issue as he sees it at another time, and added:

"Whatever may have been the conversation between the President and Senator Stone, I hope the impression received by me and others was a mistaken one. I possess only finite wisdom. I have been doing my duty as I see it under the evidence and lights that avail.

"My conviction," continued Senator oGre, "is that Congress has the right to say to the American people for the welfare of the country and for their own preservation, 'stay off these ships.' "

"The resolution expressly states that it does not withdraw such a right. It specifically asks that Americans forbear to exercise their right."

"There is absolutely no misapprehension here on that point," interrupted Senator Lodge. "It only says if Americans exercise their right this Government will withdraw its protection."

President Emphatic for Vote.

In his talk with Representative Flood, who called at the White House today, the President said flatly that what was wanted was a vote on the McLemore resolution or a similar one. He made it plain that he wanted the armed ship agitation disposed of once and for all, so it will not come up later to embarrass the diplomatic negotiations.

Reports to the administration today were that yesterday 10 members of the Foreign Affairs Committee were in favor of reporting out the McLemore resolution to warn Americans off armed ships, and nine members were against it. There are 21 members of the committee. Some of those who expressed opinions were opposed to the McLemore resolution because it contains expressions not connected directly with the issue on which the President insists on a vote. It asks for evidences of orders to British merchantmen regarding armament and war on submarines.

A meeting of the committee, which was to have been held this morning, was postponed until 3 o'clock this afternoon, when Chairman Flood will deliver the President's message. The President was prepared to see any members, if necessary. Flood said on his return to the Capitol that he believed some resolution acceptatble to the President would be agreed upon in the Foreign Affairs Committee today.

Called "Soft Soap" Resolution.

Administration officials characterized the proposed vote of confidence as "a soft soap" resolution to indorse the President and at the same time warn Americans of armed ships. They reiterated that no such resolution would be satisfactory.

"This is a clear-cut issue," said one administration official, "and we do not want it muddled."

There were some indications, according to these officials, that the President's stand was having the desired effect on the House. They felt that the Rules Committee was ready to act and that the only possible obstacle now was in the Foreign Affairs Committee.

If the Foreign Affairs Committee continues to put off bringing the issue before the House, the Rules Committee probably will be urged to carry out the request originally made by the President in his letter to Chairman Pou, and report out a rule incorporating a warning resolution and providing for a vote on it after limited debate. The President's friends declare that decisive defeat of the resolution would follow.

Representative Garrett of the Rules Committee, after a talk with the President, spoke of the possibility that the committee could bring in a rule to discharge the Foreign Affairs Committee from consideration of one of the resolutions and thus force the question out for a vote in the House over the opposition of those who want to prevent it. No action along that line had been determined upon at this stage, he said.

Besides Chairman Flood, the members of the Foreign Affairs Committee are Cline, Indiana; Linthicum, Maryland; Goodwin, Arkansas; Stedman, North Carolina; Harrison, Mississippi; Smith, New York; Walker, Georgia; Shackleford, Missouri; Sabath, Illinois; Ragsdale, South Carolina; Loft, New York; Huddleston, Alabama; Cooper, Wisconsin; Porter, Pennsylvania; Rogers, Massachusetts; Temple, Pennsylvania; Foss, Illinois; Miller, Minnesota; Mott, New York, and Kennedy, Rhode Island.

It was made known last night that the latest German assurances conveyed by Count von Bernstorff regarding the conduct of submarine warfare were not as broad and satisfactory as those previously given. But the administration will make no further move in the controversy for the present, and the proposed agreement for settlement of the Lusitania case will remain unaccepted while the President waits on Congress.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy, foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, whtile the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Judge & Dolph Drug Co.'s 3 stores, Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., Weipert Drug Co., Johnson-Enderle-Pauley Drug Co.'s 7 stores and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh-builder, and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—ADV.

ARMS TO REMAIN ON ITALIAN SHIPS

ROME, March 2.—The Italian Ambassador at Washington, Count Macchi, has been instructed to notify the American Government that notwithstanding the German and Austrian decrees regarding the sinking of armed merchantmen, Italian merchantmen will continue to carry armament.

The Ambassador also has been instructed to say that Italian merchantmen will se their artillery only for defensive purposes.

Italian Ambassador Discusses Armed Ships With Lansing.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Count Macchi di Cellere, the Italian Ambassador, conferred today with Secretary Lansing, presenting the views of his Government on armament of merchant ships. It was said that the Italian Government's reply to the American memorandum is not final and that its formal answer will be a joint one with its allies.

The information being presented now, it was said, was a statement of the reasons which had actuated Italy to arm Italian merchantships, which hitherto had carried no guns.

HOGS SELL FOR $9, HIGHEST PRICE IN MORE THAN YEAR

National Stockyards Dealers Predict Values Will Go to $10 Because of Light Receipts.

Hogs were selling at $9 a hundred pounds at the National Stockyards, East St. Louis, today. This is the highest price in more than a year, stockyard officials said. The highest price ever paid at the National Stockyards was $11.15, in March, 1910.

The present high price, stockyard officials said, is due to a shortage of hogs. The farmers' desire to sell their hogs last fall resulted in the largest fall receipts at the National Stockyards in its history. Last fall the daily receipts were more than 20,000 hogs, while today's receipts were 12,000, which is above the average for the last few weeks.

Dealers said the price, which has jumped from $7.50 since the first of the year, is likely to go to $10.

E. V. SELLECK WILL LEAVE THE CITY IF HE IS PAROLED

Judge Kimmel However Rejects Plea of Lawyer Sentenced to Two-Year Term.

Elliot V. Selleck, an attorney in the Hoisand Building, under sentence of two years for obtaining the signatures of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Linke, of 1721 California avenue by false pretenses, called on Judge Kimmel today and asked that he be paroled on condition that he leave St. Louis and never return.

Selleck was convicted a week ago in Judge Kimmel's court and gave a $2000 appeal bond. He told the Judge today that if permitted to leave town he could save his license to practice law.

Judge Kimmel curtly rejected Selleck's proposal and told him he would have to take his chance on his appeal to the Supreme Court.

PROMINENT MEN SIGN A PETITION FOR BRANDEIS

Former Mayor of Cleveland Presents Appeal for Confirmation at Senate Hearing.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Advocates for the confirmation of the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis as a justice of the Supreme Court had an inning today before the Senate Committee investigating charges against Brandeis.

Francis Peabody of Milton, Mass., last of the "character" witnesses for those oposed to Brandeis, testified that Brandeis' reputation was that he was not trustworthy and sailed under false colors. Peabody testified that he had talked with more than 50 members of the Suffolk bar and only one gave him the impression that Brandeis was trustworthy and honorable.

Knew of Race Only Recently.

"How far is the esteem in which Brandeis is held due to his being a Jew?" asked Senator Fletcher.

"I didn't know until the last few years that he was a Jew," the witness answered.

Newton D. Baker, former Mayor of Cleveland, and president of the National Consumers' League, had a petition for confirmation from a group of New York manufacturers, labor leaders, publicists and social workers.

Among the signers of the petition are: Oscar Strauss, chairman of the New York Public Service Commission; Frederick C. Howe, Commissioner of Immigration, New York; Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent; John Mitchell, chairman of the New York State Industrial Commission; Charles McFarland, secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America; Henry R. Seager, president of the American Association for Labor Legislation; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, New York; Charles R. Crane, Chicago; Edward T. Devlin, New York; Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary National Consumers' League, Owen R. Lovejoy, secretary National Child Labor Committee; Henry Bruere, New York, and George W. Kirchway, Ossining, N. Y.

High Regard for Brandeis.

When Baker appeared to present his petition he was asked as to Brandeis' reputation as a lawyer.

"I do not know his reputation in Boston," he said; "but among public service workers he is known not only as the best lawyer, but a detached, spiritual, high-minded man."

Henry Moskowitz, president of the Municipal Civil Service Commission in New York and secretary of the Arbitration Board in the needle trades of which Brandeis is president, described Brandeis' work on that board.

"If Mr. Brandeis has one characteristic, it is his capacity to see both sides, not only in a judicial statement, but in judicial thought," he said.

BERLIN WEIGHING QUESTION OF BREAK WITH U. S. AND ANALYZING CONSEQUENCES

What Might Follow Death of More Americans Causes Speculation in Official Circles—Public Insists U-Boat Attacks Be Waged Relentlessly.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

(Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)

BERLIN, March 1.—Germany is looking squarely in the face the possibilities of America breaking off relations. She is weighing the chances and analyzing the eventualities that might follow the death of any more Americans on the sea, but she appears determined to press the submarine warfare along the lines of the memorial with all possible energy.

That is the impression I gain in all quarters. The desire to avoid renewed complications with America still exists but the hope that some clear understanding will be arrived at with Washington for the protection of American citizens, reducing the danger to them to a minimum, has all but been given up.

New View Taken.

The impatience to hear from Washington is giving way to a growing conviction that nothing will be done there, and that the United States will "continue to permit Americans to act as shields for the British against German submarines and constitute themselves protecting angels for British ships."

Just how far Secretary Lansing's attitude has anything to do with it, I cannot say, but there has been a change in public sentiment within the last few days. The tide is setting in for a prosecution of the submarine war against England in the most rigorous manner, regardless of Washington, in a way that it is doubtful if the Government can stem, even if the price of such a campaign be a rupture with America.

To get an idea of public opinion outside the press expressions, I have, in the last few days, talked with persons in almost every walk of life. With but one exception they demand that consideration for Washington cease, and that the submarine war begin against England relentlessly, with every means at Germany's command.

Brake on Germany.

The attitude is taken that while on the one hand it has been giving every aid and assistance to England, the Washington Government, on the other hand, has been a "brake" on Germany, seeking to restrain and restrict Germany's war against England; that the nation is prepared to take the consequences if Washington gives Count von Bernstorff his passports, and that after Germany's every offer to safeguard American life in a manner which would not interfere with the war against England having been ignored or refused, the moral responsibility of such a break would rest upon Washington.

Secretary Lansing's "altered" refusal to settle the Lusitania case now, and his making it dependent upon Germany's new submarine war, is more or less resented as a "club" with which, it is declared, he is trying to "frighten Germany." In the mind of everybody with whom I have talked is the deep-rooted conviction that the Washington Government dosn't want England defeated, to which, it is affirmed, the submarines under the new plan will contribute largely.

Change of Sentiment.

To show the change of sentiment, the following is from the Cologne Volks Zeitung, the leading organ of the powerful Catholic party, one of the most influential parties in the Reichstag:

"From an immense number of expressions from the front, from officers and men on land and sea, received in the past weeks, and from various strata of the people at home, there sounds but the one passionate cry: 'Deeds, deeds and again deeds.'

"For nine months America, at the instance of England, has led us about by the nose. Can the unsuspicious not even yet see the nose rings? Nine months has England, through the help of America, tried to forge the chains for us and our allies. Are these chains of such red gold that they can be borne as brilliant ornaments, or as sticks? No, they are not, but the red blood of thousands and again thousands of our bravest soldiers, noblest of our people, who had to die for America's great money-sickness.

"Four to six weeks of energetic U-boat war around about England; every, yes every ship with food or munitions sent to the bottom, and England, which through starvation wanted to force us to peace, will then herself in all humility beg for peace, a peace at any price. Think of our compatriots in Africa whipped and butchered by negroes, think of the murder ship Baralong and the L-19." (The L-19 was a Zeppelin lost in the North Sea on returning from a raid in England. The British trawler King Stephen refused to rescue the crew of 18.)

What Break Might Mean.

Even in places where there has been a disposition to apply the brakes to anything that might lead to a conflict with America, there is a change of tone. The opinion is even expressed that a break of relations with America would mean England's finish within a few months, because in that event Germany would submarine every ship and need have no consideration nor exercise any care.

Such persons, and there is a constantly increasing number of them, believed that England, by such measures, could be starved out in less than six months, and that even America could not save her. These contend that if England has the power and the right on the surface of the seas to starve out Germany, Germany, having the power beneath the seas, has a similar right to apply her submarines to starve out England.

To a certain extent there is an analogy between the conditions in England and Germany. Sir Edward Grey is constantly restraining the naval party from measures which increases the ill will of neutrals, while here also there are factors which would prefer arriving at a clear understanding with America to avoid a further crisis. The standpoint, however, is taken that England is more dependent on neutrals than Germany.

London dispatches of attacks on Count von Bernstorff by a portion of the New York press are adding to the bitterness here. It is pointed out that while the American situation has been at times acute here, and popular feeling strong, the press never attempts nor does the Government permit any criticism, much less attacks on Ambassador Gerard.

000 and constitute about one-third of the German effectives actively employed.

German sports by way of Amsterdam say that Fort Vaux, five miles to the northeast of Verdun, has been destroyed by heavy mortars, but the Germans cannot approach the fort, as the French are playing heavy artillery on the approaches. It is added that a German battery has been destroyed by French shells, and that the Germans have concentrated 90,000 men near Buzy who are to resume the offensive with reinforcements from the Argonne. Buzy is about 16 miles to the east of Verdun.

Artillery Is Active.

The communication from the War Office last night said:

"In the region of Verdun there was no infantry action during the course of the day. The enemy bombardment continued to the west of the Meuse in the zone between Malancourt and Forges, to the east of the Meuse, and especially in the regions of Vaux and Damloup, and in the Woevre, on our trenches at Fresnes.

"Our artillery displayed great activity on the entire front of the enemy. To the west of Pont-a-Mousson our trench guns shattered the German organizations in Le Pretre wood, and our heavy artillery bombarded the enemy establishments in the region of Thiaucourt.

"In Alsace there were rather spirited actions by our batteries in the valleys of the Fecht and the Doller."

Kaiser Reported to Have Left Verdun Front and Returned Home.

LONDON, March 2.—The German Emperor left the Verdun front and returned to Germany Tuesday, according to a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mail.

Two hundred and twenty hospital trains with men wounded in the Verdun battles have arrived at Aix-la-Chapelle, according to the Echo Belge, says an Amsterdam dispatch.

There has been much impatience in England the last few days because the British on the west front have been comparatively inactive, while the French have been engaged in desperate encounters.

The Daily Sketch believes that the British may get a chance soon to take a hand by the use of their fleet and quotes Lord Fisher as saying he is convinced that "a big Anglo-German fleet action may take place at any day or hour now."

Unofficial advices recently placed the extreme southern end of the British line in the region of Lens. The British official communication of last night reports the British fighting to the north of the Somme, which would show that they have stretched their front between 30 and 40 miles down to the region of Amiens.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON THE WATER WAGON

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.—ADV.

BRITISH CRUISERS REPORTED TO HAVE CAPTURED MOEWE

German Raider Sank Several Ships Off West African Coast, Captured the Appam.

BUENOS AIRES, March 1.—A press dispatch from Montevideo says that a steamer arriving from Europe intercepted, near the coast of Brazil, a wireless message stating that British cruisers had captured the German auxiliary cruiser Moewe.

The Moewe, it is said, was taken by the British cruisers to the Island of Trinidad.

There is some doubt, however, as to the identity of the vessels reported captured. Another version is that it was the German cruiser Roon, which was taken.

The Moewe has sunk a number of British ships off the West African coast. She captured the British liner Appam off the Canary Islands Jan. 15 and sent her in charge of a prize crew to Newport News, Va.

The American steamer Santa Barbara has arrived at Montevideo, her captain announcing that a French cruiser which put out from Dakar, on the west coast of Africa, encountered a German raider, name not given, and opened fire on her. Under cover of drkness, the German ship got away. She was, however, damaged by the French fire.

Germans in 1914 Proved Heights Were Not Impregnable.

BERLIN, via London, March 2.—While in the battle of Verdun attention is concentrated chiefly on the spectacular German attack from the north against the permanent fortress lines, the offensive from the east is no less deserving of notice.

To one familiar with this country, which the Associated Press correspondent visited in September, 1914, during the thrust leading to the capture of St. Mihiel and the reduction of several other barrier forts in the line of Verdun-Toul, the offensive from this direction might seem so impracticable and hopeless as to be almost foolhardy. The so-called Cotes Lorraine, a lofty plateau serving as a watershed between the Meuse and Moselle, rises abruptly from the flat plain to a height of 300 to 500 feet. The plateau, apparently the product of a geological fault, runs north and south. Between Verdun and Toul the slopes seemingly are as steep as the sides of a house. The few roads crossing the Cotes are af a serpentine order.

The Germans proved in 1914, however, that this tremendous natural rampart is not impregnable. Gen. Strand's army carried the heights on a 15-mile front between Combres and Apremont, although the steep slopes were defended by triple rows of trenches which were able to fire one above the other, and by other formidable artillery posted in the shelter of the plateau above.

The new advance has brought the Germans to the foot of the Cotes from Combres north to Blanzee, east of Verdun. The slopes here are even more abrupt and precipitous than to the south.

COONEY FIRM HAS DYNAMITE IN SHED ON THE CITY LINE

Large Quantity of Explosive Is Stored on Unter den Linden Street.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED

Concern Owned Supply That Caused Blast in Maplewood, Killing Two.

A large quantity of dynamite, belonging to the Cooney Construction Co. is stored in a shed on Unter den Linden street, standing on the city boundary line, partly in the city and partly in St. Louis County, according to a complaint forwarded to Chief Young today by Capt. Schwarz of the Mounted Police District.

The Cooney company was the owner of the dynamite which exploded in Maplewood Monday afternoon, killing two women, injuring 60 other persons and wrecking 11 dwellings.

Jurisdiction Is Involved.

Capt. Schwarz said a patrolman found the shed locked, but looked in through a crack and saw it to be filled with cases of dynamite. The company had a shed three months ago near Commonwealth avenue, 10 feet inside the city line, and Capt. Schwarz learned at that time that it contained 1000 pounds of dynamite, which he compelled the company to remove. From the report made to him, he believes that the shed on Unter den Linden street contains about the same amount of explosive.

The location of the shed on the city line tends to confuse the question of jurisdiction. Chief Young said a survey would be made, if necessary, to determine whether any part of the shed was within the city, and that if so, it would have to be removed. Unter den Linden street is in the vicinity of the suburb of Greenwood, near the River des Peres. A number of dwellings are near enough to the shed to be damaged if it should blow up.

A city ordinance prohibits the storing of explosives within the city. There is no effective State law on the subject.

Maplewood Suit Filed.

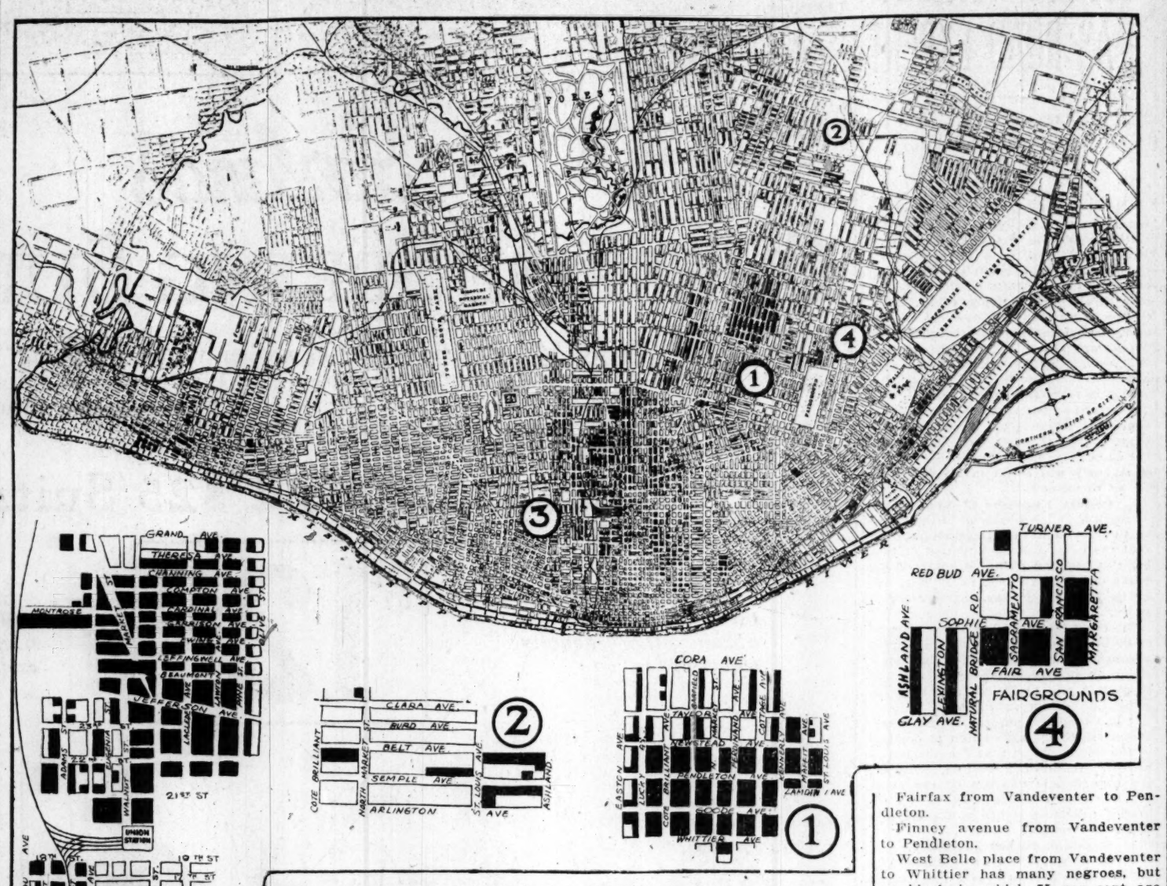

Robert E. Cooney and John Schmoll, alleged to be copartners in the Cooney Construction Co., were named as defendants in a $2500 suit filed at Clayton yesterday by Charles H. and Ella G. March of 7216 Moller avenue, Maplewood, for damage to their home in Monday's explosion. This is the first of what is expected to be a series of such suits. The City of Maplewood, which let the contract to the Cooney concern is named as a codefendant.

Schmoll, who is chairman of the St. Louis Republican City Committee and president of the Tower Grove Bank, denied today that he was in partnership with Cooney, but said he had backed the Cooney company financially.

The March home was a two-and-a-half story frame house. No one was injured there.

The inquest began yesterday at Maplewood into the death of Mrs. Emma Evans of 7242 Sarah street and Miss Effie Barnett, a maid in the home of E. A. Chenery, 7207 Anna avenue, was continued to Saturday. The testimony of Cooney and others yesterday was that the explosion must have been caused by fire, as the shed was seen to be burning before the explosion. They could not explain the fire, but Cooney, in speaking with reporters, offered the theory of spontaneous combustion.

Blocks in Which Negroes May Hereafter Take Up Residence as Provided in New City Ordinance

The solid black marks indicate negro sections.

THE blocks in which negroes may hereafter acquire residence under the segregation ordinances adopted Tuesday, are definitely established by those ordinances, as blocks in which all the residents are negroes, or blocks in which 75 per cent of the buildings are occupied by negroes. The negro blocks are:

From Broadway to the Mississippi River between Krauss and Soper streets.

Minnesota avenue between Fillmore and Bowen streets.

Pattison avenue from Cooper to Edwards street.

Northrup avenue from Cooper street to Macklind avenue.

Barron avenue from Wise to West Park avenue.

Tenth street from Clark to Walnut.

Spruce street from Twelfth to Seventeenth.

From Fourteenth to Fifteenth between Market and Clark.

The district embracing Pine, Lawton, Chestnut, Laclede, Market and Clark, from Twentieth street to Cardinal avenue, except three or four blocks.

Market and Laclede from Cardinal to Channing.

Pine from Cardinal to Theresa.

Lawton from Cardinal to Grand avenue.

Morgan from High to Nineteenth.

District bounded by Twenty-first, Lucas, Wash and Ewing is nearly all negro territory.

Fairfax from Vandeventer to Pendleton.

Finney avenue from Vandeventer to Pendleton.

West Belle place from Vandeventer to Whittier has many negroes, but no block in which 75 per cent are negroes.

District bounded by Whittier, Kennerly, Lamdin, St. Louis, Newstead, Taylor, Cottage and Lucky.

There are also a few negro blocks in the neighborhood of Fair avenue and Natural Bridge road, on Talcott avenue, near Bulwer; on Prescott near Clarence.

There are a few negro families residing in many scattered parts of St. Louis, but acording to information already compiled, it is doubtful if there are other complete negro blocks.

There is a row of negro houses on West Cabanne terrace, which branches off from West Cabanne court, an exclusive residential neighborhood.

NEGRO ATTORNEY OUTLINES PLAN TO FIGHT SEGREGATION

Will Have White Man Remove Into Block Occupied Entirely by Blacks.

Nego opponents of the segregation ordinances, adopted at Tuesday's initiative election, have begun preparations to contest the legality of the ordinances as soon as they become effective, March 10, according to a statement today by Homer G. Phillips, a negro attorney.

Phillips said the first step would be to cause a white man to remove into a block occupied entirely by negroes, and when he is arrested, to file habeas corpus suit to obtain his release.

Phillips said the constitutionality of the ordinance could be tested in such a proceeding, and that if the decision of the lower court was in favor of segregation, that the case would be carried ultimately to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Would Test Ordinance.

Such a proceeding would test the ordinance known as the "100 per cent block ordinance."

Phillips said the mixed block ordinance probably would be tested by an injunction proceeding against Building Commissioner McKelvey in an effort to prevent him from using public money in carrying out the provisions of the ordinance which requires him to make a map of the city showing the white, negro and mixed blocks.

McKelvey said that he had no funds with which to comply with the ordinance, and that he did not expect to do anything toward carrying out its provisions until a special appropriation was made by the Board of Aldermen for the purpose.

"I would have to have $30,000 and 15 draughtsmen and 15 field inspectors to do this work, and it would take six months," McKelvey said. "I haven't a man in my office who can be spared for the work. If it takes the Efficiency Board as long to give me men for this work as it does for it to give me one first-class clerk when I need him, I could probably get a good start on it in about five years."

SCORE HURT IN RIOT AT A LECTURE IN CHICAGO

Firemen Use Water to Dispel Crowd at Former Priest's Address—30 Are Arrested.

CHICAGO, March 2.—A riot followed an attempt last night of Dr. Joseph Slattery of Boston, a former Catholic priest, and his wife, Dr. Mry E., a former nun, to deliver a lecture. Hundreds inside and outside a hall at South Halstead street and Garfield boulevard, were fighting, and all efforts to suppress disorder failed until firemen turned streams of water on the rioters. About 30 persons were arrested. A score or more of persons were injured.

Dr. Slattery and his wife were escorted to a hotel. The couple are on a lecture tour, and it is said that in their talks on civil and religious liberty, no attacks are made on any religious denomination.

A number of men threatened the residence of R. Keene Ryan, pastor of the Englewood Presbyterian Church, who lives near the hall, under the impression that he was one of those who induced Dr. Slattery to speak. A brick was thrown through a window of the house. Dr. Ryan was in St. Louis.

WADE'S PLAN TO REORGANIZE FRISCO ROAD IS REJECTED

State Public Service Commission Finds Voting Trust Would Violate Constitution.

The Missouri Public Service Commission in Jefferson City late yesterday afternoon rejected the modified plan for the reorganization of the Frisco Railroad, submitted Feb. 18, by Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co., on the ground that the voting trust, by which all stock would be held by the voting trustees for five years, was in violation of the Missouri Constitution.

Under the Wade plan the stockholders would have four of the seven voting trustees, but all would be selected by the New York banking interests represented by Seligman & Co. and Speyer & Co.

The plan provided that the trustees could become interested in contracts with the Frisco, could issue preferred stock with the consent of a majority of the security holders and were not responsible for anything except malfeasance.

The Commissioners in their opinion said the stock issuance provision would be illegal because the Missouri Constitution prohibits the issuance of stock except with the consent of all the stockholders.

With the rejection of the Wade plan there is no Frisco reorganization plan before the commission.

The New York banking interests announced Monday they had another plan and it is expected this will be filed with the commission within a few days. The original plan offered several months ago was rejected by the commission. The bankers filed a motion for a rehearing, but withdrew the motion the day after Wade sent in his modified plan.

The bodies of Jens and his bride have been sent to Rock Island, Ill., where they were married.

BLAMES CHARLIE CHAPLIN FILM FOR "CUTTING UP" IN THEATER

Youth Charged With Acting Indecorously Fined $100—Said Comedian's Capers Caused It.

Clyde Hoyt, 19 years old, of 3155 Brantner place, who was fined $100 by Judge Sanders in Police Court this morning for disturbing the peace at the Novelty Theater, 3536 Easton avenue, the night of Feb. 24, blamed a Charlie Chaplin comedy film for his boisterousness to which the private watchman, Michael Collins, objected.

Collins testified that the youth, accompaned by two girls, sat in the rear of the theater and laughed, talked and used profane language so louldly that he and an usher ejected them. An usher testified that Hoyt swore and fought when they were putting him out of the theater.

Hoyt said he went to the theater with his sister and a girl neighbor and declared they behaved decorously. He admitted laughing loudly but said the capers of Charlie Chaplin caused it. The girls also testified to this. Justice Sanders paroled Hoyt upon learning that he is the sole support of his mother.

$100 FINE FOR CONDUCTING GAMBLING GAMES AFFIRMED

Cigar Store Clerk's Arrest Followed Confession of Boy Who Embezzled to Spin Poker Top.

Judge Clark in Court of Criminal Correction today affirmed the fine of $100 imposed two weeks ago in Police Court against Harry Silverstein, a clerk, on a charge of running a gambling game in a cigar store at 801 Pine street. The fine was stayed, however, upon the payment of costs and the promise of Silverstein that no more gambling would be permitted in the store.

Silverstein's arrest followed the confession of Elmer Placke, 16 years old, of 2211 Farrar street, that he had embezzled $150 from his employer, W. J. Miller of 113 North Eighth street, and had lost it spinning a poker top, rolling dice and playing a punch board in the store run by Silverstein.

Silverstein testified today that since his arrest no gaming had been permitted in the store. He said the Stickney Cigar Co. owned the machines with which the boy gambled and that he as a clerk simply took the money and put it in the cash register.

Only Four Schools Remain to Be Heard From.

Additional reports from schools this morning of the Elephant day collections taken Tuesday brought the total to $2275.67. There remained only four schools to be heard from.

The money will be turned over to the Zoological Society of St. Louis to buy an elephant for the Forest Park Zoo. At the office of Superintendent of Schools Blewett this morning it was said the flag winning school could not be determined for several days until the teachers' reports of Tuesday's attendance are received.

FEDERAL AGENT'S RIGHT TO BE DIVORCE WITNESS QUESTIONED

His Information Found to be Hearsay and He Is Excused Without Point Being Settled.

When James J. McLaughlin, a special employe of the Department of Justice, was put on the stand in Judge Arnold's court today to testify in a divorce case, Assistant United States District Attorney Woodward objected to his being questioned, on the ground that any information he might have was confidential and he might lose his Government position if he disclosed it.

Judge Arnold ruled that McLaughlin must testify unless expressly forbidden to do so by a Federal statute. On questioning McLaughlin, the Judge found he had only hearsay information, and he was excused.

The divorce case was that of August Tockstin of 2500 South Broadway against Kate Tockstin, who, it was testified, left her home, last April. Her sister, Mrs. Nellie Schmidt, of 3628 South Seventh street, later received a letter from a man who said Mrs. Tockstin was with him in Milwaukee. This letter was turned over to McLaughlin for investigation as to whether the Mann act had been violated.

Judge Arnold granted a divorce to Tockstin.

SWEDEN TO STAY NEUTRAL, FORMER MINISTER DECLARES

Will Stand Aloof as Long as Her Sovereign Rights Are Not Violated, He Says.

STOCKHOLM, March 2.—"Sweden is just as determined as she was 18 months ago not to interfere in the was as long as she can maintain her national honor and dignity," said Eric Trolle, formerly Swedish Minister of Foreign Afairs, and later minister to Germany, discussing the country's policy.

"The only consideration on which Sweden would end her neutrality would be one involving violation of her sovereign rights by belligerents. I do not believe, however, that any of the belligerents would take the risk of adding to the enemies they have at present. The Swedish Government and people are unanimous in favor of peace, but not of peace which means a sacrifice of rights."

MAN FOUND IN STREET DIES, BROTHER REQUESTS INQUIRY

What Was Thought to be a Slight Wound Was Fracture of Skull.

John Conlin of 2337 Hickory street today asked the police to investigate the death of his brother, Owen Conlin, 37 years old, who died of a fractured skull at the city hospital last night.

Policemen found Conlin unconscious at Laurel avenue and the Hodiamont car tracks Tuesday afternoon. At the city hospital he was said to be suffering from alcoholism and an injury on his forehead was classified as a "laceration." Later symptoms showed that his skull was fractured. The police believe Conlin received the injury through falling while intoxicated. By a clerical error he was entered on the hospital records as a negro.

No one who knew of any fight or disturbance in which Conlin might have been engaged could be found in the neighborhood where he was picked up.

MAN DIES AFTER SAYING HE HAD TAKEN POISON BY MISTAKE

Becomes Unconscious Before Any Details Can Be Learned From Him.

Edwin W. Freitag, 25 years old, a diamond setter employed by the Hess & Culbertson Jewelry Co., died under peculiar circumstances last night at his home, 2919 South Compton avenue. An autopsy and inquest will be held to determine the cause of death.

After dinner he went into the basement to polish his shoes and a few minutes later he staggered upstairs and told his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Stunkel, that he had swallowed cyanide. He tried to say another word, but became unconscious.

William C. Freitag, the father, forced warm milk down Edwin's throat, but the son died five minutes later. No trace of cyanide could be found about the house. Cyanide is used in the jewelry business.

COUNTY JUDGES OPPOSE TRAVILLA AS ROAD EXPERT

Entire Charge of Work Will Be Given to William Elbring, Regular Engineer.

Efforts of the Executive Committee of the Permanent Bridge and Road Association of St. Louis County, headed by Harry B. Hawes, at a meeting of the County Court in Clayton yesterday afternoon, to have James C. Travilla, former Street Commissioner of St. Louis or "some other equally competent engineer," appointed engineer in charge of the construction of $3,000,000 of roads and bridges for which bonds were voted a month ago, met with an antagonistic reception from the court.

Although no person in authority would consent to be quoted, it is understood in Clayton that the fact that Hawes and the association had championed Travilla so strongly will result in his failing to get an appointment.

County Engineer 17 Years.

Presiding Judge Wiehaupt of the County Court told a Post-Dispatch reporter that the court had no intention of taking the direction of the building of the roads out of the hands of William Elbring, county highway engineer for 17 years.

The court has made no announcement of its intention regarding the naming of a consulting engineer, but it is understood an outside engineer of national reputation will be chosen and that Elbring will consult with him.

It has been the purpose of the representatives of the association to demand of the County Court that Travilla be appointed. Before the meeting, however, the antagonistic attitude of the court became known and Hawes, in his remarks, talked at length of the employment of Travilla.

Mentions $10,000 as Salary.

Hawes suggested that a salary of $10,000 should be paid to Travilla, and urged that the court have a conference with Travilla, which Hawes said he could arrange by telegraph with Travilla, who is in Texas.

In urging the appointment of Travilla, Hawes told the County Court that the residents of St. Louis County would hold the court responsible for the proper expenditure of the $3,000,000 to be derived from the bond issue, and that the members of the court should be careful to make no mistake in the selection of an engineer.

Fred Essen, a county Republican leader, answered Hawes. He said that the Judges in the county always worked in the interest of the residents of the county.

Prosecuting Attorney Ralph, defending the placing of the work in Elbring's hands, said there probably should be somebody employed to assist Elbring, but that Elbring should be in complete charge of the work.

Elbring in Charge.

Presiding Judge Wiehaupt said to a reporter that the Court would provide Elbring with such assistance as he needed, but that there was no intention of placing anybody over Elbring. Judge Wiehaupt said that Elbring had suggested the employment of four or five divisional engineers to have charge under him of the work in various parts of the county.

Associate Judge Philip Rott said if the county appoints an outside man as consulting engineer he will work under Elbring, and that Elbring will be the directing engineer in charge.

The committee urging Travilla for the place is composed of Edward M. Flesh, Harry B. Hawes, Con. P. Curran, A. E. L. Gardner, Isaac T. Hedges and Philander P. Lewis. The communication they filed asked for the appointment of "James C. Travilla or a man of equal attainment or experience either as directing or consulting engineer."

Engineer Was Promised.

The communication states that in the 60 meetings held in the bond issue campaign, the voters were promised that the Court would appoint such a man, and that the big vote for the bond issue was largely influenced by this promise.

This engineer, the communication states, should have power to prepare plans and specifications, make contracts, advise the Court and Engineer Elbring and to employ such engineers as are necessary.

Dr. Lawrence I. Hewes, senior engineer of the United States Department of Rural Roads, who is in the county, offered to direct the taking of a traffic census, and promised the use of Government laboratories in testing the road materials.

WASHINGTON DENIES KNOWING IN ADVANCE OF OTTAWA FIRE

Great Britain Asks if Stories Printed in Canada That Attorney-General Was Apprised of Plot, Are True

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Great Britain has made inquiries through the State Department as to the correctness of reports published after the recent fire in the Canadian Parliament buildings at Ottawa that the United States Department of Justice had been informed that such a fire was being planned by anti-British sympathizers here. Those reports, it was said, have been widely published in newspapers in Canada.

The State Department referred the British inquiry to Attorney-General Gregory and, under his decision, copies of correspondence which passed between his department and the editor of the paper which first published the report were prepared for the use of the State Department in making its reply.

It was understood at the State Department that Gregory denied that he was informed of any plot to set fire to the Ottawa buildings and included in his answer a communication from the editor of the paper publishing the report, acknowledging that no such information had been given to the Attorney-General by him.

Hopkins, with his bride, was at the Barnett residence, where friends were celebrating the marriage. Thinking to scare them all with the report of a shotgun, Barnett started out the front door. He slipped on the steps and the shotgun was discharged through a window.

Barnett's son is wounded in both eyes and is certain to lose the sight of his right eye. Goodwin is shot in the face and may die. Hopkins was shot through the brain.

ECZEMA WOULD ITCH AND BURN

On Chest and Back. Scratched and Little Blisters Would Come. Could Not Rest at Night.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had eczema on my chest and back for about a year. The first appearance was a scarlet rash and it would itch and when I rubbed it or scratched it little blisters would come, and if rubbed open would run water and then dry up and have a fine scale. It would itch and burn so I thought I would go out of my mind and I could not rest at night or do my work in the day.

"I got no relief until I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and then gently rubbed on the Ointment, and in two weeks I was healed." (Signed) Miss Ella M. Yates, Coleman, Mich., July 14, 1915.

OKUMA SAYS WAR HAS MADE JAPAN A WORLD POWER

Points Out Nation's Right, on Equal Footing, to Speech on All Peace Problems.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Jan. 30.—From a great power Japan has become a world power, and the nations of the West can no longer make light of Japan's strength, particularly of her pre-eminent position and immense influence in the affairs of the Far East, according to Premier Count Okuma in an article in his popular monthly, New Japan.

He calls his contribution "Japan's New Position in the World's Diplomacy." In a general way it bears out the feeling of observers in the Orient that Japan's policy of the future will be that of trying to play the predominating role in China, on account of her power and special position and interests.

He says: "Japan, which half a century ago was an insignificant and mere island empire, isolated in a corner of the extreme East, has now become one of the world's powers and come to sway a great influence. Japan finds herself with Great Britain, the United States, Germany, France and Russia, and every move made by Japan affects in some way or other the interests of those great nations and reflects on the situation of the world.

"Even Great Britain, which took pride in her world-wide influence and stuck to her favorite traditional policy of 'honored isolation,' was compelled to conclude an offensive and defensive alliance with Japan, casting aside her national pride of 'isolated independence'—a proof that Britain recognized the greatness of Japan's national activity and future ascendancy.

"The great work and rapid development Japan achieved in the comparatively short period of only half a century, after the country's opening to international intercourse, favorably compares and competes with the progress and development attained by the occidental countries through several centuries, and after hard, laborious experience of wars and revolutions."

He points out that adhesion to the London peace agreement, by which the entente allies mutually promised to make peace only in common, gives Japan the right of speech at the peace conference to be held at the conclusion of the war not only on questions pertaining to the Orient, but also on matters concerning the Balkans, the disposition of the colonies of the Powers in Africa, and their territories in the Pacific—in fact, on all problems that may arise—on an equal footing with the other great world Powers.

The premier concludes: "In short, Japan's participation in the London agreement makes her an important element in the maintenance of the balance of power in the world. Practically, peace east of Suez has been and is maintained by Japan. Our nation has come to sway a great power, by which we can control the peace or disorder of Asia and affect the issue of the gerat European war."

500 AUTO MACHINISTS AT BUFFALO GO OUT ON STRIKE

200 in Airship Factory Also Quit—10,000 Likely to be Involved by Saturday.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 2.—Five hundred machinists of the Pierce-Arrow Automobile Co. struck today in response to the strike vote taken at a meeting of the Machinists' Union. More than 1500 machinists remained at work. Only a small proportion of these men belong to the union. The plant has large war orders for motor trucks.

Two hundred of 900 employed at the Curtiss Aeroplane Co. joined the strikers. Several other small concerns were forced to close when their machinists walked out. Union officials predicted that 10,000 men would be affected by Saturday. The men demand an eight-hour day, time and a half for overtime, no Sunday work and a wage scale with a minimum of 40 cents an hour.

NEW USE FOR BABY CARRIAGES

English Put Lamps on Them and Pushed Them to Light Their Way.

LONDON, March 2.—The baby carriage has been put to a new use in some of the East Coast towns. The lighting regulations make it a misdemeanor to use a flash lamp in the streets during these nights of precaution against Zeppelin attacks, but at the same time the law insists that a perambulator must carry a lamp.

Some ingenious individuals have hit upon the idea of pushing baby carriages around at night to light their way, and still keep within the law.

FOOD RIOTS GENERAL IN SPAIN

Serious Trouble Has Resulted and Many Are Injured.

MADRID, March 2.—Strikes and disturbances have occurred in most of the provinces of Spain as a result of the increased cost of food. A general strike was proclaimed in Valencia where serious rioting took place, one person being killed and many injured.

There is a general demand that the Government take steps to lower the price of food and to start public works in order to provide labor for the unemployed and thereby avoid a serious crisis.

SUBSCRIPTION SWINDLE FEARED

West End Residents Who Pay $1.50 to Collector Fail to Get Magazine.

Mrs. R. E. L. Winter of 5136 Westminster place, Mrs. G. S. Maddox, 5103 Washington boulevard; Dr. John M. Grant, 5063 Westminster place, and a dozen other West End residents believe they were swindled early last month by a man who posed as the representative of a magazine agency, and collected $1.50 from each subscriber. He said he was trying to raise funds to pay his way to South America, where his relatives were.

A week ago Mrs. Winter wrote to the concern in Chicago that the solicitor said he represented, and received no reply. It is said none received the magazine.

WOMEN WILL AID PHYSICIAN'S WIFE, HELD IN SANITARIUM

Kirkwood Women Take Steps to Have Lawyer Represent Mrs. Fayette C. Ewing.

Leading women of Kirkwood, friends of Mrs. Martha Macdonald Ewing, wife of Dr. Fayette C. Ewing, are discussing a possible means of helping Mrs. Ewing, who is temporarily held in the Glenwood Sanitarium, under an order of the Clayton Probate Court, to establish her legal claim to freedom. Robert E. Collins of Kirkwood, a lawyer with offices in the Pierce Building, has been asked to represent Mrs. Ewing, and he said today that he would confer with her tomorrow.

The order committing Mrs. Ewing to the institution, for observation as to her sanity, was issued Monday afternoon by Judge Hodgdon. At that time Mrs. Ewing was a guest at the home of Mrs. Lucian G. Blackmer at Scott and Woodlawn avenues, Kirkwood.

Tuesday morning, as Mrs. Scott was walking on Woodlawn avenue, near the Blackmer home, she was taken in charge by three men and placed in a closed automobile, in which she was driven to the Glenwood Sanitarium. This institution is a private one, conducted by Dr. H. S. Atkins, former Superintendent of the City Sanitarium.

Mrs. Blackmer, who is the wife of the secretary of the Blackmer & Post Pipe Co., told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that she first heard of the seizure of Mrs. Ewing through a telephone message from a neighbor, a few minutes after Mrs. Ewing had left the house. This neighbor, she said, told of seeing the closed automobile stand for some time on Woodlawn avenue, and said that when Mrs. Ewing approached, the three men stepped out, placed her inside, overcoming some resistance on her part, and drove rapidly away.

Mrs. Blackmer said Mrs. Ewing was not in court and was not represented there when the order for her temporary commitment was made. She believes she should have a better opportunity to present her case, before any permanent decree affecting her is made, and she said a number of Kirkwood women took the same view.

"Mrs. Ewing later called me up from the sanitarium," Mrs. Blackmer said, "and I went to see her. She remarked that it took three men to take her away in the automobile. I did not learn who the men were.

Thinks Mrs. Ewing Is Rational.

"Mrs. Ewing is, in my opinion, not only rational but of brilliant mentality. Our families are distantly related, and when she returned to St. Louis in the middle of January, after a stay in the East and South, I invited her to be my guest. I have several times left my little daughter with her.

"She has many friends who refuse to believe that her mind is impaired. She is particularly well known to the members of Grace Episcopal Church, and she has a wide social acquaintance."

Mrs. Ewing is 50 years old. Her husband testified before Judge Hodgdon that she had acted strangely and had refused to live with him. He is a physician, with offices in the Century Building.

Mrs. P. S. Scudder, who leases the Ewing home in Kirkwood, testified that Mrs. Ewing had appeared at the house and threatened her. Mrs. Scudder had previously obtained a summons for Mrs. Ewing's arrest, on the charge that she disturbed the peace by looking in at the windows of the Scudder house. This case was dropped when Mrs. Ewing was committed to the sanitarium. A letter was introduced in court which stated that, while in Florida recently, Mrs. Ewing had attempted to kill her aunt.

Rights of Americans on British Ship Will Depend Upon Actions of the Ship

By Sterling E. Edmunds.

Lecturer on International Law, St. Louis University Law School.

IN a dispatch from London printed in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, is reported to have issued the following statement with reference to the alleged instructions to merchantmen to take the offensive against submarines:

"The British view has always been that defensively armed merchantmen must not be on submarines, or any other warships, except in self-defense. The Germans have twisted a passage in a document taken from a transport, which they sank, into meaning that merchant vessels have instructions to take the offensive. This is not so.

"The passage in question, which lays down a maximum distance beyond which merchant ships are advised not to fire, must be read in conjunction with another passage which makes it perfectly clear that merchant vessels must not attack until a submarine shows unmistakable hostile intentions."

Reported Instructions.

The instructions are reported to be as follows:

"If a defensively armed vessel is pursued by a submarine, the master has two alternatives: (a) to open fire at long range immediately it becomes certain the submarine really is in pursuit, (b) to restrain fire until certain the submarine has come into range, say 800 yards, at which the fire is likely to be effective. In view of the great difficulty of distinguishing between a friendly submarine at long range, it is strongly recommended that course 'b' should be adopted by all defensively armed ships."

It is difficult to form any other judgment upon these instructions than that armed merchantmen are to resist submarines, and the only qualifications are that resistance shall begin either at long range or at shorter and more effective range.

If the resistance take place at the moment an enemy periscope appears, such action actually amounts to an offensive hostile operation, relieving the submarine from all responsibility in overcoming that violence. In addition, it may place the members of the crew outside the protection of the laws of war and may justify their courtmartial and execution as unlawful combatants. They are lawful combatants only in defensive operations. But if the submarine is to attack all armed vessels without warning it becomes a question whether the initiation of attack by a merchantman is not actually defensive.

Practice of the British.

That this is the practice of British merchantmen generally, may be seen from the following quotation from the London Times of Feb. 10, written by its naval correspondent:

"The number of cases in which merchant ships have put up a good fight against submarines is increasing and successful escapes of liners, owing to their carrying a gun, are more frequent. Not all such encounters got into the papers, but within the last few week three good examples, among others, have been made known.

"The P. and O. steamer Kashgar, when off Malta on her way to India, saw a submarine's periscope and fired at it, obliging the boat to dive. It reappeared on the opposite side of the liner and was again fired at, if not hit, when the submarine dived and was seen no more. The Ellerman liner City of Marseilles also had a similar encounter off the Sardinian coast 10 days earlier. In her case, the submarine opened fire without any warning, but after two shots the liner's gun got to work and discharged eight shells at the U boat, after which the latter disappeared.

"The third instance is that of a French ship, the Plata, owned by the Transports Maritimes, which on Jan. 27 sighted a submarine half a mile away. Fire was opened from the stern of the steamer, and the hostile craft, believed to be struck in a vital part, soon dived and made off.

"The action of the Clan Mactavish, though it did not meet with the success it deserved, points to the readiness with which the merchant seamen can attack when threatened. Her captain and crew fought in a manner which might well have been successful had their assailant been a submarine, but which was unavailing against the more heavily armed raider."

"Mere Shadow of a Right."

When it is considered that, under these circumstances, the German submarine owes no duty to the protection of crew and passengers, that the resistance of the merchantman has forfeited that protection, that the merchantman has the right to resist, though not to initiate attack, the contention of the United States Government that the rights of its citizens to travel upon such vessels shall not be abridged will be seen to have become a mere shadow of a right.

These merchantships cannot be considered warships in the sense that neutrals may regulate their visit and sojourn, but are rather merchant ships exercising a lawful right of resistance and, perhaps, also, exceeding that right at times in offensive action. They are not commissioned or under the control of a naval officer, but are primarily engaged in commerce.

The logical solution of the problem so far as the rights of United States citizens to travel on such vessels is concerned, would seem to be, not a warning to them against traveling on such vessels, but the dissemination of information making it plain that they can look to the United States for protection only when the vessel upon which they are traveling has submitted peaceably to the submarine.

Annual Election of the Famous & Barr Welfare Association.

James O'Keefe, after a spirited, but good natured contest, defeated Harry Laffer for the presidency of the Famous & Barr Welfare Association, at its annual election, which was held at the Odeon last night. Mr. Laffer was incumbent of the office. Mr. O'Keefe's opponents declare that his victory was due to his Chauncey Olcott voice, that he sang his way into office.

The Woman's Suffrage suffered defeat when Miss Nonie O'Brien, one of the most popular members of the association, was defeated by Helmuth Mayne for the office of second vice president. However, the girls are not daunted, and are determined to elect one of their number to the highest office of the association next year.

The Famous & Barr Welfare Band and Orchestra furnished music for the evening. This was the first public appearance of these musical organizations. The band and orchestra will play for charity. In the near future the band will give a free concert in one of the charitable institutions.

The officers elected for the coming year are: James O'Keefe, president; Herman Linhoff, first vice president; Helmuth Mayne, second vice president; Miss Ela Shaw, financial secretary; Mrs. May H. Breeding, corresponding secretary; Miss Ida Schrieber, treasurer; F. Z. Solomon, Miss Lottie Rickwell, W. B. Long, A. F. Alphonse, P. C. Baker and Fred Coombs, trustees.

ENGLAND PLANS TO PROHIBIT GERMAN IMPORTS AFTER WAR

LONDON, March 2.—The Daily News learns that the inner circle of the Cabinet will recommend the incorporation in the budget of an announcement that German imports will be prohibited after the war and also that measures will be taken, probably in the nature of preferential duties, for the purpose of encouraging exports from the British colonies to the countries of the allies.

No decision is likely to be reached in the matter, adds the newspaper, until it has been considered by the entire Cabinet and as well as by the economic conference of the allies, the forthcoming meeting of which Reginald McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in his speech at the Guild Hall yesterday.

Woman Slightly Injured in Accident at 3438 Lindell.

Mrs. Martha Phillips, 60 years old, of Chicago, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Haskall of 1327 Montclair avenue, was cut over the right eye by flying glass last night when the automobile of her son-in-law, Charles G. Haskall, skidded into a plate glass show window in the Oakland Automobile Co.'s storeroom at 3438 Lindell avenue.

Haskall was driving west on Lindell and at Theresa avenue turned sharply to avoid a collision with an automobile going south on Theresa. His car skidded across the sidewalk and hit the show window.

MARTIN H. GLYNN ANSWERS ROOT'S RECENT ADDRESS

Declares "Former Dove of Peace" Has Become a Swooping Hawk of War," and Is Trying to Incite the President to Incendiarism in a World Afire.

SAYS WAR IS ALWAYS LAST RESORT OF U. S.

Declares Answer to Belgium Contentions Is Republican Inactivity as to Kishineff, Macedonia, Congo, Korea and Morocco.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 2.—Former Gov. Martin H. Glynn, at the Democratic State conference here last night, gave his party's answer to the speech of former United States Senator Elihu Root before the Republican State convention several weeks ago. Taking up Root's charges against the present national administration he answered each point. He also took Root to task for his speeches in the United States Senate and for his acts as Secretary of State.

Glynn replied to Root's reference to the Federal reserve act. He charged Root as Senator opposed the passage of the measure.

"This law," continued Glynn, "is one of the greatest achievements of any administration in the last 50 years. Why, there never has been a finer exhibition of foresight and statesmanship than that exhibited by the President in insisting upon the passage of the Federal reserve act.

The Underwood tariff law has "stimulated American industry," the former Governor declared, and he blamed the foreign war for the decline in imports. Denying that Root was the "keeper of national honor," Glynn said:

"For years Mr. Root has been the star performer at peace conferences, and yet he condemns President Wilson for maintaining peace. For years Mr. Root has been acclaimed as an apostle of peace, and in 1912 was awarded the Nobel prize for the promotion of peace, but now he sallies forth as a drum and trumpet statesman.

"From a cooing dove of peace Mr. Root suddenly transforms himself into a swooping hawk of war.

"Years ago enthusiasts in Bohemia took the skin of John Ziska, the patriot, and stretched it as a drum head to rouse their followers to war. So, today, Elihu Root would stretch the skin of the victims of the Lusitania, the skin of the victims of Belgium into a drum head to rouse the kindly sentiment of sympathy into the cruel frenzy of war. Mr. Root may beat his drum head and blare his trumpet, but President Wilson will go right on winning the plaudits of the American people by appealing to reason, humanity and common sense and by keeping the United States the uncompromising champion of the neutral world and the undaunted maintainer of the principles which have guided this nation since 1776."

President's Foreign Policy.

In his foreign policy the President, Glynn said, was following the example of Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, Lincoln and Grant.

"The President," he declared, "has only shaken his finger. When he has to shake his fist the world will find it mailed.

"The President stands where George Washington stood in 1793. When England, in the war with France, seized and held hundreds of vessels floating the Stars and Stripes, he prepared for war. He built ships, he erected forts; but he did not shoot. He settled our differences with England by negotiation, just as Woodrow Wilson is trying to do today. And here, parenthetically, let me remark that while Secretary of State Elihu Root, in a speech in Argentina, practically repeated the great sentiment of Charles Sumner. Washington upholding the peaceful neutrality of this country, while he met unmoved the clamor of the people wickedly crying for war, is a greater man than Washington crossing the Delaware or taking Cornwallis' sword at Yorktown. Yet Mr. Root condemns Mr. Wilson for the very policy for which he praised George Washington.

War Only as Last Resort.

"If Mr. Root will turn to the Declaration of Independence, he will find a reminder that this is a country which resorts to war only after every other form of redress has failed.

"He will find that before the American colonies drew the pistol they warned, reminded, appealed and conjured the British Government to disavow the usurpation of which they complained. Then, as now, a race of freemen claimed the right to be patient, and now, as then, a race of freemen will not falter in a final appeal to arms should their patience be exhausted and all other means of asserting their right be in vain. As a nation, we deprecate the waste, the horror, the unreason of war, because we are masters of our own destiny.

"The efforts of politicians like Mr. Root to make political capital out of the course which President Wilson deemed it wise for this nation to follow in respect to Belgium during the early stages of the present war, deserve, and will receive, unqualified condemnation and rebuke at the hands of the most right-thinking and patriotic American.

"No fairminded man can question the wisdom and integrity of our Belgian policy."

Former Governor Glynn declared that Root himself, as Secretary of State, adopted the same policy in handling the Japanese-Korean situation, despite the protests of Korea against the domination of Japanese and despite a treaty between Korea and the United States.

"The insincerity of the Republican party," the speaker said, "in its Belgian attitude is shown by the words of Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt, and by its record between 1901 and 1909. In 1903 occurred the massacre at Kishineff, and for many years after 1903 Macedonia ran red with blood; in 1905 the horrors of the Congo were officially published; in 1905 Korea lost its independence; in 1906 Morocco was parceled out by the Powers, and yet no note of protest came from the Republican party. What reason, then, has the Republican party to expect people to believe that it would have acted any differently in 1904 than it did from 1901 to 1909."

Charging that the Taft administration "nagged and persecuted" the Madero administration in Mexico, Glynn declared that the Mexican situation was an "unfortunate inheritance" of the Democratic administration.

"The truth of the matter is," he said, "if the Taft administration had given Madero one-tenth part of the support and assistance that this administration is giving the de facto Government, President Madero would most assuredly have been successful in establishing peace and order, the alleged crime of Huerta would not have been committed, the loss of American lives and property since that time would not have occurred and Mexico would have been spared the horrors of the fratricidal war which has since prevailed there."

Turning to the Lusitania case, Glynn said that Root ignored what has been accomplished and overlooked the assurances for the future and the reparations for the past, which have been made.

"Does it become Mr. Root," he asked, "to criticize the President and the administration for not enforcing its demands, when a previous administration with which he was intimately connected failed to use ordinary foresight in laying the foundation for suitable military and naval forces?"

Root forgets, the former Governor said, that the belligerent countries are wrought into a state of excitement by the nervous tension of the conflict in which they are engaged.

"Mr. Root," the speaker declared, "would make of the President of the United States an incendiary in a world of fire. He could make the chief executive a swashbuckler instead of a statesman. He would have the President forget that while we debate men are dying by thousands across the ocean, that while we are inconvenienced the rest of the world is enduring the agonies of the damned; that while we are sitting quietly by our fireside, the rest of the human race is writhing in the torments of the firing line.

"Is it Mr. Root's conception of American honor that we should assert that honor by adding to universal misery?

"Excitable people whose European sympathies one way or the other have for the moment blinded them to the welfare of this land—and whose spokesman Mr. Root seems willing to become—may just as we realize, once for all, that Woodrow Wilson will not swerve from the course he has laid out for himself in this crisis.

"No reward, no punishment will make him swerve from what he knows to be his highest duty. He has preserved, strengthened, dignified and uplifted our noblest national traditions and he will continue to do so no matter what the cost or what the penalty."

The Democrats in informal convention recommended the following delegates-at-large to the national Democratic convention at St. Louis for the support of the party voters at the spring primaries: United States Senator James A. O'Gorman, William Church Osborn, chairman of the Democratic State Committee; George J. Meyer of Buffalo, a German-American supporter of the President, and Samuel Untermyer, a New York attorney.

The convention also adopted a resolution recommending the re-election of Norman E. Mack of Buffalo as Democratic National Committeeman.

The "big four" delegates to the national convention were unpledged, but were nominated with the understanding that they are to work for a second term for Mr. Wilson.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN FOR INDIGESTION OR A SICK, UPSET STOMACH

Instant Relief from Pain, Sourness, Gases, Acid Stomach, Heartburn and Dyspepsia---No Waiting!

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—ADV.

SAYS BUSINESS IN ST. LOUIS RESERVE ZONE FLOURISHES

Federal Agent Martin Points to Gains in Bank Clearings Throughout District.

The February report of William McC. Martin, Federal Reserve Agent for the St. Louis district, published in the bulletins issued by the Federal Reserve Board at Washington today, indicates that business is flourishing in all the states and districts embraced in the territory of the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank.

The report shows the important fact that banks have not reduced their interest rates to customers. When the banks and trust companies in St. Louis recently reduced the interest rate to savings depositors, and ceased to pay interest on daily balances of less than $500, it was announced that this was made necessary by the lower rates of interest.

The St. Louis district embraces all but the extreme western section of Missouri, takes in Southern Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and portions of Indiana and Mississippi. The report is compiled by Martin upon direct information received from authoritative sources throughout the district. Here is his review of the business situation:

"Reports from various business interests in this district indicate a degree of prosperity which has been unknown for several years. The dry goods market is firm, with a marked scarcity in certain lines and with a general tendency toward higher prices. The large wholesale dry goods houses in St. Louis and other cities show important gains in shipments this January as compared to the same period in several previous years. One house reports a gain in shipments of over $600,000 in January; another reports a gain of $1,250,000 since Dec. 1.

Shoe Industry Shows Increase.

"The large shoe manufacturers report similar increases, one company reporting a gain of over $500,000 in shipments in January. The millinery, clothing, hats, woodenware and hardware interests report similar gains. One large manufacturer of roofing reports that 1915 was the biggest year in the history of the company and expects that 1916 will again break the record.

"The building interests and allied lines show the effect of the increase in building which has been so pronounced in the last 60 days. Manufacturers generally report an increase in prices of raw materials; and there is a scarcity in many lines. The prices of drugs have steadily increased.

"One of the largest manufacturers of envelopes in the United States is located in this district, and this company reports a scarcity of paper available for its product. Quotations on certain grades of paper are made by telegraph and all prices are subject to change without notice.

"There has been a marked decrease in applications for aid from organized charities in St. Louis. Reports indicate that the charities have had only about 75 per cent of the applications for aid this winter as compared to the winter of 1914-1915.

"The livestock situation at the National Stockyards, East St. Louis, Ill., is quieter than it has been for some time, as foreign governments have practically withdrawn from the market. While there have been heavy shipments of horses and mules during the past year from this district, figures issued by the Government show that the natural production throughout the country has more than made good the exports.

$111,000,000 More Bank Clearings.

"From figures available at this date, it appears that the winter wheat acreage has been reduced about 15 per cent in this district. It seems probable that some damage has resulted from the succession of severe cold, sleet and rain, but it is too early to estimate the extent of this damage.

"The number of commercial failures for January 1916, shows a decrease as compared to January, 1914, or January 1915, and would seem to reflect the present healthy condition of business. Another interesting index to present conditions is found in the examination of the bank clearings in the principal cities within this district. The gain in clearings for January, 1916, as compared to January, 1915, is as follows: St. Louis, 20.8 per cent; Louisville, 48.5 per cent; Memphis, 12.1 per cent; Little Rock, 17.7 per cent; Evansville, 55.7 per cent; Paducah, 15.9 per cent.

"In January, 1915, these cities cleared a total of approximately $466,000,000, and in January of this year their total clearings amounted to over $577,000,000, or a gain of over $111,000,000.

"In spite of the marked increase in all business activity, bank reserves are still considerably higher than is usual at this time of the year. There has been no change in rates to customers or in the commercial paper rate. Bank demands for suitable investments for their surplus funds continue active and their effect on the bond market is noticeable."

President Wilson's Message on Advertising

Contained in the following letter to the President of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World

ASSOCIATED ADVERTISING CLUBS TRUTH WORLD

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

October 11, 1915.

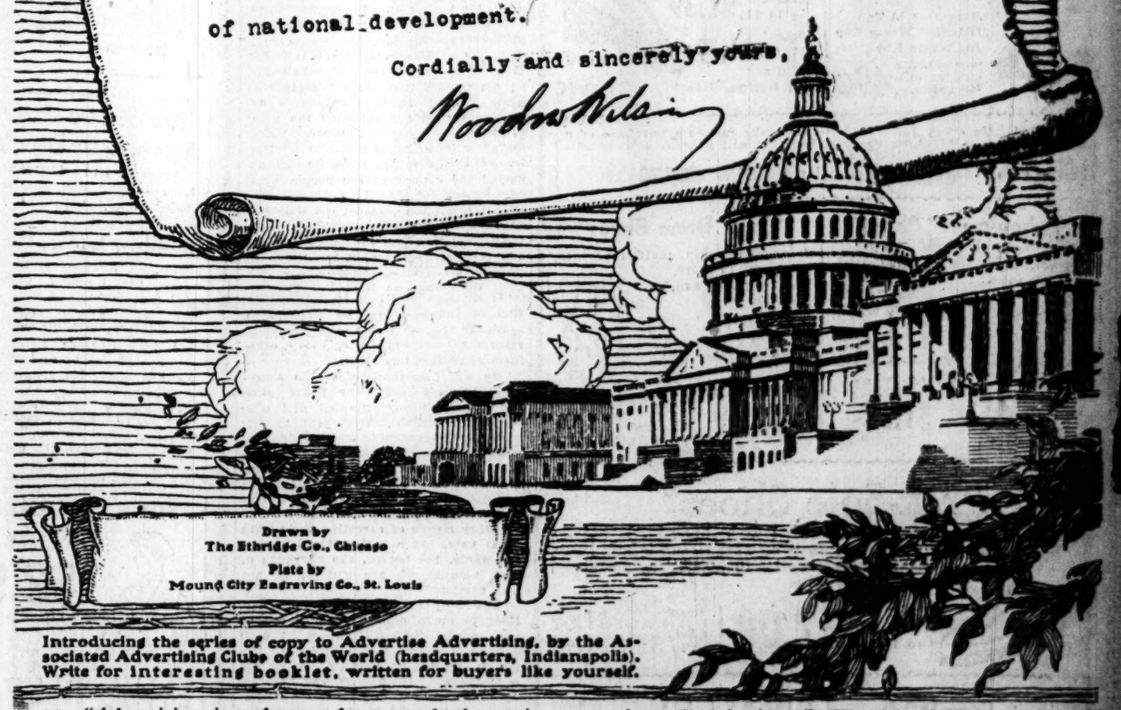

My dear Mr. Houston:

Advertising is a factor of constantly increasing power in modern business and it very vitally affects the public in all its phases, particularly since the mediums for the dissemination of advertising have increased so remarkably in recent years. For business men, therefore, it is of the utmost importance that the highest standards should be applied to advertising as to business itself.

The country is to be congratulated on the work of the Associated Advertising Clubs to establish and enforce a code of ethics based upon candid truth that shall govern advertising methods, and the effect of its work should be of the greatest benefit to the country. It augurs permanence and stability in industrial and distributive methods because it means good business judgment, and more than that, it indicates a fine conception of public obligation on the part of men in business, a conception which is one of the inspiring things in our outlook upon the future of national development.

Cordially and sincerely yours,

Woodrow Wilson

"Advertising is a factor of constantly increasing power in modern business."—Woodrow Wilson.

This terse excerpt from President Wilson's message on advertising expresses a fact that is apparent to close followers of advertising and its results. Effective advertising has been the upbuilding of many merchant princes from obscure beginnings to a position of power in the community.

The Post-Dispatch has also grown from a small venture to the greatest newspaper in its territory and today carries more "quantity and quality" of display advertising than any newspaper in the seven largest cities of the United States.

Its Sunday circulation is more than 30 per cent greater than that of ALL other St. Louis English Sunday newspapers COMBINED.

CHIEF OF POLICE IS ACCUSED

Society Charges Kansas City Official With Protecting Vice.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 2.—The Society for the Prevention of Commercialized Vice has requested the dismissal of H. W. Hammil, Chief of Police, as the result of testimony in recent trials of Edward M. Harrington, former leader of the vice-raiding squad who has been suspended by Hammil. Harrington said his wife, from whom he is separated, members of the police department and the liquor element sought to force him out of his position.

The chief is accused of failing to act against gambling, immoral resorts and illegal liquor sales. It is charged he interferred on several occasions with policemen who attempted to arrest and prosecute these offenders.

LUTHERANS ASK CONGRESS NOT TO BACK UP PRESIDENT

Clergymen Wire House Leaders to Resist His Efforts in Ship Issue.

Leading St. Louis clergymen of the German Lutheran Church, who last week sent President Wilson a letter charging him with "yielding American rights," yesterday sent the following telegram to Senator Stone, Speaker Clark and Representatives Meeker and Pou:

We, the members of the St. Louis Lutheran pastors' conference, urge you to resist to the end every effort to make the present differences between our Government and Germany a cause of war.

The message, signed by 33 ministers, was drawn up by Prof. Frederick Bente and the Rev. W. H. T. Dau, both of the faculty of Concordia Seminary. These two, with President Pieper of the seminary, signed last week's letter to the President. The argument of the letter was that the President, by his policy, had surrendered the right of protesting, in future, against the sale of munitions to America's enemies by neutrals; has disclaimed the right of objecting to the carrying of munitions on passenger ships and has disclaimed the future right to protect American submarines against armed merchant ships.

Prof. Bente has been active in the work of the so-called American Neutrality League, a local pro-German organization, which last week demanded that the United States withdraw its protection from all Americans traveling on ships of belligerent countries, whether such ships are armed or not.

"I can say to anybody in the world that Tanlac has been a real God-send to my husband and to me," Mrs. Mary Hurst of 1227 North Twelfth Street, St. Louis, stated.

"We have both received real benefit from it.

"I suffered from stomach trouble, nervous indigestion, and catarrh of the stomach. Every bone in my body ached. My appetite was poor, that and loss of sleep brought on a general run down condition.

"But since I have taken Tanlac, my indigestion has entirely disappeared, my appetite is fine, and my nerves are better and stronger. I am glad to say that my bones no longer feel as if they were going to break. I sleep like a child."

Referring to her husband's great improvement by the use of Tanlac, Mrs. Hurst stated:

"My husband, Mr. Sam Hurst, who is a trained nurse, broke down in health over four years ago. He suffered with rheumatism and neuralgia of the muscles. But while he received many different treatments and tried many different medicines, no good came of them. Tanlac has made him feel better than he had for many months, and he tells me that if he continues to improve as he has in the past two or three weeks, he will soon be out and working."

Thousands of men and women praise Tanlac for just such benefits as those described by Mrs. Hurst as having been gained by her and her husband through the use of Tanlac. Tanlac builds health and strength through the stomach, blood and nerves. Tanlac is purely vegetable.

Tanlac is being specially introduced in St. Louis at the Wolff-Wilson drug store, Sixth and Washington avenue, and at the seven Johnson-Enderle-Pauley drug stores.—ADV.

HOUSE COMMITTEE EXPECTS TO FINISH ARMY BILL TODAY

Effort Still to Be Made to Fix Maximum for Standing Forces at 200,000.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Finishing touches are being put on the bill to increase the army by the House Military Committee today, with prospects that a final vote on the measure will be reported before adjournment.

Before the vote, however, a new effort is to be made to make the maximum peace strength of the regular army 200,000. Under this plan it is proposed to authorize the President to bring the army up to the full strength at any time without specific act of Congress.

Another proposal, anready incorporated in the bill, would provide for a far-reaching industrial and technical reserve for the fighting lines in war time. This reserve would include practically every profession or occupation which would be useful to the army.

While the House committee was completing its task the Senate committee was having reprinted its plan for federalizing the national guard and was ready for a final review of the bill.

The industrial and technical reserve was suggested by Representative Kahn of California. The plan contemplates not only an effort to enlist in the reserve, in peace times, teamsters, mechanics, railroad men, chauffeurs and other noncombatant forces necessary to an army, but extends the scope of the reserve system to include civilian aviators, ordnance engineers, workers in munition plants, telephone and telegraph operators and mechanics, civil engineers, electrical engineers and members of every other civil profession or occupation whose services would be useful to the army in war.

It is understood a general authorization will be included in the bill, the War Department being left to work out the details in actual practice. Reservists of this character would be regularly enlisted as reserves for the fighting arms and would be liable for assignment to duty by the War Department in time of war.

J., the resignation of two of the company's executive officers has been announced. These are Henry T. Leeming, assistant general manager, and Ernest J. Berggren, secretary-treasurer.

There have been rumors in West Orange recently that Henry Ford has acquired an interest in the Edison plant.

BULL MOOSE HERE INSIST ON T. R. FOR PRESIDENT

Six-Word Resolution Says: "We Want Theodore Roosevelt for President."

The spirit of the Progressive party, as materialized at the Roosevelt dinner at the Planters Hotel last night, followed by the St. Louis city and county convention for the election of 114 delegates to the State convention at Kansas City April 3, was that the Progressives hold the balance of political power in the State and Nation and will amalgamate with the Republican party upon the sole condition that Theodore Roosevelt be made the presidential candidate of both parties.

The Bull Moose, long heralded as dead by the Republicans, showed surprising life and enthusiasm at the beginning of the presidential campaign of 1916. The dinner and convention was attended by 250 party leaders and workers and they yelled like wild men at every mention of Roosevelt's name. There was not a suggestion in any of the speeches that any of the compromise candidates mentioned by the Republicans—Hughes, Root or Hadley—would be acceptable to the Progressives. It must be Roosevelt, or the Republicans could go down to defeat with their candidate in 1916 as they did with Taft in 1912, was the spirit expressed.

Six Words in Resolution.

The resolution adopted by the convention simply said:

"We want Theodore Roosevelt for President."

Joseph A. Wright, toastmaster of the banquet and chairman of the convention, declared that the Progressive party had, in Roosevelt, the greatest political leaders of modern times.

Judge Albert D. Nortoni of the Court of Appeals, asserted that the 4,219,000 voters who followed Roosevelt in 1912, within 90 days after the organization of the Progressive party, would rally around him again whenever he blew his horn. Judge Nortoni said the Progressive party was only 2,000,000 votes removed from the presidency, and that the only way the Republicans could unite the opposition to the Democratic party was to nominate Roosevelt.

The plan of the Progressives, as revealed at the meeting, is to nominate a full State ticket in Missouri, headed by Judge Nortoni as candidate for United States Senator and Arthur M. Hyde of Princeton for Governor. The party leaders expressed the belief that Roosevelt would be nominated by the Republican national convention at Chicago, which meets on the same day as the Progressive national convention.

Even the Missouri Republican leaders, who are trying to head off the Roosevelt movement, have learned that some of their delegates to the Republican national convention, already elected, will vote for Roosevelt.

Arthur N. Sager of New York, former Circuit Attorney of St. Louis, and candidate of the Progressive party in Missouri for Senator in 1912, said the responsibility of defeating Wilson had been put squarely up to the Republicans by the Progressive National Committee. He said the Progressive party would not yield a single one of its principles and was going to Chicago and nominate Roosevelt for President.

Opportunity of Republicans.

"The Progressive party offers to the Republicans an opportunity to defeat the Democratic party, which has brought shame upon this country," Sager said. "The Republicans stole the nomination from Roosevelt in 1912 and gave it to a man who was no more entitled to it than I was. Are they going to do that again? Are they going to stand in the way of the defeat of Wilson?

"We want Americans protected everywhere they go in this world. We don't want a Secretary of State to say to the American people that they cannot travel on any ship on which they have a right to sail. If Roosevelt was President now there would have been no trouble in Mexico, and the Lusitania never would have plunged her nose to the bottom of the sea. Col. Roosevelt said to me, when I saw him just as he was leaving for the West Indies with his wife, that he did not want war with any nation, but that we, as a nation, have suffered some things worse than war.

"He said, further, discussing the presidential situation: 'Sager, I do not think you can do anything with me, because I won't pussy foot.' I told him that he did not know how the American people loved him. We are going to wrap the American flag around him, and stand with him for a vigorous foreign policy and America and Americanism."

Speeches were also made by the Rev. Dr. John L. Brandt, the Rev. Father Russell J. Wilbur, pastor of St. Cronan's Church; Chauncey Ives Filley, Paul V. Janis, Paul V. Bunn, James M. Robbins, C. C. Bell of Boonville, Frank Wyman and Henry C. Patterson.

Before the delegates were elected to the State convention a committee was sent around to ascertain whether they were willing to pay their own expenses and go to the Kansas City convention. Only those were elected who were willing to sign a pledge to that effect.

The Kansas City convention will elect four delegates and alternates at large to the Chicago National Convention, and the delegates from the different congressional districts, will hold group meetings to elect the district delegates to the national convention. A national committeeman will be elected, and presidential electors nominated. Judge Nortoni and Irwin R. Kirkwood of Kansas City were indorsed last night an two of the "Big Four" to the Chicago convention.

EAT LESS MEAT AND TAKE SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACHE OR BACK HURTS

Says Bladder irritation or Rheumatism means your Kidneys aren't straining uric acid. Begin taking Salts.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

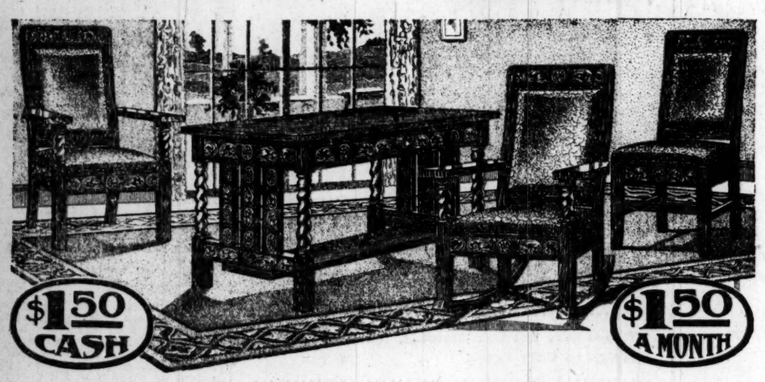

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—ADV.

A Trainload of Buicks!

Brought more than 500 miles on flat cars to get them here for Buick buyers. A feat of auto-selling service almost without precedent.

With scores of orders in for Buick cars, the problem was how to get them here—for the worst freight congestion in years existed, and automobile freight box cars were scarce as hens' teeth.

But we got them here! We hustled our own men right up to the Buick factories at Flint, Mich., and they loaded the autos on flat cars, covered them with tarpaulins and accompanied the special train all the way to St. Louis to expedite its movement and to look after the Buicks.

$123,525 worth of Buicks brought more than 500 miles on open flat cars was the risk taken by the Vesper-Buick Company solely to make certain that Buick buyers would not be disappointed.

There were 123 Buick autos on this special train when it left Flint; loaded on 30 cars. Five carloads of Buicks were stopped at Litchfield for delivery to near-by points. The others, 89 Buicks—all sold and tagged with the owners' names—arrived in St. Louis yesterday and will be delivered to Buick buyers immediately, except to those out of town buyers, who will wait until the roads are better for driving.

Selling Buicks in such numbers as to require trainload shipments is worthy of notice, but the feature of this shipment was the difficulty of getting it here and the risk taken by the Vesper-Buick organization to see that it DID GET HERE, so that Buick buyers would get their cars.

Both the Buick Car and the Vesper-Buick Company give service!

Vesper-Buick Auto Co., 3205-7 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo.

H. G. HURD, St. Louis Retail Distributor, receives a share of this shipment for delivery to St. Louis buyers whose orders have been held up because of freight car shortage.

FOR BRONCHITIS, SEVERE COUGHS, COLDS AND WHOOPING COUGH

Make the Best Medicine at Home—128 Teaspoonsful for 50 Cents.

Money spent for the old style, readymade medicine usually sold in bottles holding only 2 to 2½ ounces (16 to 20 teaspoonfuls) is largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it were all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better remedy for bronchial affections, at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to (Wolff-Wilson Drug Co.) and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth of Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, which they guarantee will give perfect satisfaction or money will be refunded. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (128 teaspoonsful). This new, simple pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold, Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough. One bottle will make enough homemade medicine to probably supply the whole family. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take. It is unlike any other medicine, and positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist, in fact any druggist in this city, will return the money (just the same as is done with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador) in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy—under this positive guarantee. —ADV.

WEAKER and WEAKER!

At Edwardsport, Ind., Mrs. Frank Hulen said: "I had had good health up until after the birth of my first child." Mrs. Hulen then describes how she was not given proper advice, thought she could get up and go about her work in five days, how from that time on she grew weaker and weaker, suffering intense agony, was given medicine that soothed the pain, but the pains soon came again. "I was a wreck," says Mrs. Hulen. "My friends thought I'd die ...my mother insisted that I take CARDUI. . . . In a short while after I took it my nerves were relieved and I could sleep and rest better. . . in four weeks I was well. . . I will praise CARDUI as long as I live, for I can truthfully say it saved my life." Try CARDUI. Your druggist sells it.

Wine Is Not Poison.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In news dispatches from New York, Virginia and other States, I find that the Anti-Saloon League, which claims to be "the church-in-action," desires that wine and other liquors shall be marked "poison."

Now the authority for the church is the Bible, and if the church is to label wine as poison then I would suggest that the church should so revise the Bible as to make it consistent with the Anti-Saloon League's doctrine by substituting the word "poison" for "wine" wherever the word "wine" appears in the Bible.

For instance, there is 1st Timothy, 5-23, which revised would read as follows:

Drink no longer water, but use a little "poison" for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

Then there is the story of the Good Samaritan, which, if revised, would read in part, Luke 10-34, as follows.

And went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and "poison" and set him on his breast and brought him to an inn and took care of him.

Then too there is the 104th Psalm verse 15, which if revised would read:

And "poison" that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine and bread which strengtheneth man's heart.

Also there is Proverbs 3-10 in which there is a promise of blessing and which, as revised, would read:

So shall thy barns be filled with plenty and thy presses shall burst with new "poison."

But it may be contended by the Anti-Saloon League, "the church-in-action," that Bible wine was not wine at all—that it was only unfermented grape juice. If this contention is made, then the revision should provide for the use of "unfermanted grape juice" wherever the word "wine" is use.

Then we read Ephesians, 5-18, revised as follows:

Be not drunk with "unfermented grape-juice."

But if unfermented grape juice is nonintoxicating why the warning against being drunk with it?

On the whole, perhaps, it would be just as well for the Anti-Saloon League, "the church-in-action" to give up all reference to the Bible. It was written before the Anti-Saloon League was formed and cannot be expected to meet the requirements of that organization. T. M. GILMORE.

Belgian People Are Grateful.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In behalf of the Belgian Benevolent Society of St. Louis, we hereby beg to express our thanks for the noble and generous good you have done in giving space in your paper, by making known the real need of our devastated country and their people caused by this destructive war.

We also feel that we are indebted to your paper for the manner in which you publish without fear the atrocity done in our country by our foes in their unwarrantable invasion.

Through results of your articles our people have gained the sympathy of your readers, thereby aiding us morally and financially, for which there are no words illustrious enough whereby we can express our sincere thanks.

The above is our sentiment which we adopted at our last meeting, with instructions that we send this letter of thanks to you and a copy of same be inserted in our records. A. De VOS, Secy. Belgian Benevolent Society of St. Louis.

The Irish Pale Was Not a Ghetto.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Several persons in the Post-Dispatch and Mr. Judson at the anti-segregation meeting at the Central High School have told us that the Irish Pale was a ghetto. It never was in any sense of the word. A ghetto is a part of a city set aside as Jewry—Webster's International Dictionary.

The Irish Pale was a stretch of country, in fact, several counties. I, of Norman Irish blood, was born in the Pale; the descendant of an Irish chief who was called "The Terror of the Pale," because he harried its barons and carried war to the gates of Dublin, yet his wife and mother bore Norman names.

I beg leave to tell Mr. Judson and other ill-informed persons that it was the English, not the Irish, who were segregated by the outside pressure of the clans. "No Englishman's life was safe outside the Pale," says Green, the historian, not inside the Pale in many instances.

The Pale was no more a ghetto than the Daneleagh and many other historic districts, even modern Alsace and Lorraine where the invader has sought to impose his law, language and customs on the invaded. The English of the Pale were forbidden to marry the Irish, but they did marry and became "more Irish than the Irish." M. S. C.

DEMONSTRATE GOOD ROADS.

The Permanent Good Road and Bridge Association, which successfully conducted the good roads bond issue in St. Louis County, voices the will of the St. Louis County people when it urges the County Court to obtain the best available expert assistance for the planning and construction of county roads.

There is no intent to set aside or supersede or humiliate County Highway Engineer William Ellinger, who has served the county well for many years. The direction of the work will be in his hands, but with the ordinary work required, the additional job is a big one calling for efficient assistants to aid in working out and conducting the program.

Nor is there any partisanship, as the Globe-Democrat viciously intimates, in the intent of the men who are endeavoring to co-operate with the County Court in assuring the best possible roads and bridges for the money.

The sole object is to obtain permanent good roads and bridges and to assure a wise and economical expenditure of the proceeds of the funds to this end.

The County Court as well as the association is pledged to obtain expert assistance and the best results. This pledge was given to the people before the election to assure them that their money would not only be honestly, but efficiently and wisely expended. The pledge should be kept.

The value of St. Louis County's splendid contributions to the good roads movement depends wholly upon the results obtained. The demonstration is in the roads themselves. If the best results are obtained St. Louis County will be committed to good roads and will supply all the money needed to complete the county's equipment; other counties in the State will follow St. Louis County's example.

A failure to realize public expectations in the county and to obtain results commensurate with the expenditure of money would be a heavy blow to the good roads movement there and elsewhere. No more money by bond issue will be obtainable in St. Louis County. The counties in the State will be discouraged in their good roads plans.

We feel sure that the members of the County Court and Mr. Elbring realize their responsibilities. Certainly they ought to do so. Everything depends upon them and they will be held to strict accountability.

ST. LOUIS' ANNUAL BABY LOSS.

The value of a baby's life, according to the estimate of the New York Babies' Welfare Association, is $2900. Accepting this estimate, the 1210 babies that died in St. Louis in 1915 represented a loss to the city of $3,509,000. But who can figure the loss to the parents of these babies, in terms of long-drawn-out anxiety and heartrending anguish? Baby week, then, beginning March 4, which is to be kept in all the progressive cities of America, means very much to St. Louis. It is a time to take stock of our resources and our methods for the saving of the city's babies.

Mrs. Philip Fouke, chairman of the St. Louis Baby Week Committee, says that of the 1210 babies that died here in 1915, 605 lost their lives from the ignorance of those who had the care of them. This ignorance can be and is being gradually removed. Mothers can learn, without cost, how to care for their babies by writing to the National Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. If they are very poor, they can get advice and aid free at the various St. Louis charitable children's clinics and hospitals. And they can obtain pure milk and expert advice, during the summer, at the distributing stations for the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund.

Baby week is not a money-making week. Its object is educational. All mothers and others interested in young children should co-operate with the local Baby Week Committee to make the week a success and to learn as much as possible from the exhibits and the free lectures that will be given.

CLEAN UP THE DES PERES.

The appropriation of $15,000 asked of the Board of Estimate and Appropriation by Director of Streets and Sewers Talbert, for work on the Des Peres, is the least that should be granted for this necessary improvement. With this amount Director Talbert proposes to clean the channel of snags and other obstructions and to straighten out some of the worst kinks in the troublesome stream.

This will not altogether remove the danger from floods, but it will be a good beginning. And it will help to make the Des Peres Valley a healthier and more attractive part of the city during the hot months. The thorough conquest of this flood stream must be brought about as one of the works to be undertaken with means to be provided by a bond issue.

EGGS 95 PER CENT GOOD.

We prefer that our eggs should be 100 per cent good. Until it is explained, the announcement of the Department of Agriculture that eggs must be 95 per cent good to permit of shipment as interstate commerce is somewhat alarming. What is really meant is that shippers who are found to pack more than 5 per cent of bad eggs with the good ones will be required to keep all their eggs at home.

Be that as it may, the 5 per cent hazard is still rather disconcerting from the consumer's point of view. The probability, almost certainty, that every other dozen contains a bad one, or that one breakfast in the course of three weeks will bring tragedy—who can contemplate it with equanimity? It quite ruins our pleasure with eggs in toto; and what is breakfast without eggs, what is life without breakfast?

Five per cent of bad eggs is a travesty on existence as she is existed in these United States. Rotten eggs spell rotten ethics, fraud, unwholesome social, commercial, domestic and culinary conditions; rotten economics, ill-adjustment of supply and demand, carelessness, waste. Formerly there may have been a demand for rotten eggs, but dramatic criticism has refined, and political enthusiasm found other weapons.

Let us hope for a considerable reduction of the 5 per cent of defectives or delinquents. This would be accomplished if the Department of Agriculture would permit all such to be thrown back on the shipper.

A STATE EFFICIENCY SYSTEM.

Lieutenant-Governor Painter promises that if he is promoted to the chief executive position he will create a State Efficiency Board and limit all State departments and institutions to the appropriations the board finds to be strictly necessary.

This is a sufficiently attractive pledge to deserve a place in the personal platforms of all the candidates for Governor. A board with power to place all minor appointees on the basis of efficiency would end the disgusting nepotism scandal. It would go far toward solving the State's financial problems. Coupled with a reform of the taxation system, it would enable the State's amelioration and educational activities to be extended, while at the same time saving the people a tremendous amount of money. It would cut off awards of public printing contracts as bribes to favored newspapers and bring down the high cost of the machine's perquisites in patronage.

A genuine efficiency system would convert the penitentiary into a place where human derelicts are reclaimed, for the cruel methods of the old penology are the negation of efficiency. Missouri has many needs. Among them the need for efficiency in State government has first place.

Wiping out "waves" of warriors on land and drowning as many human beings as possible at sea should at last bring the big, foolish war to an end!

THE NEW M. A. A. CLUBHOUSE.

The completion of the Missouri Athletic Association's $850,000 new home places in St. Louis one of the most commodious, bst furnished and most costly structures devoted to club purposes in the United States.

While making a provision for social needs unsurpassed at least in this city, the organization is dedicated to ends more appealing and important. It has not permitted its social features in the past to obscure its prime object of promoting physical culture and probably will not in the future. Its distinctive aim of safeguarding health and contributing to sound bodies mark it as one of the most important and valuable organizations in St. Louis.

To thousands of St. Louisans the new structure represents something more than a clubhouse or a school of athletic exercises and manly accomplishments. It is a worthy architectural monument to persistency, energy and brilliant success attained under difficulty, such as have had few counterparts in St. Louis history.

We have seen older social organizations which have inherited large assets from the past incur loss of prestige and even fall into financial straits. The M. A. A. emerged from a sad disaster of a few months ago not only without assets, but with heavy contingent liabilities—for though reorganized, the M. A. A. must be deemed one in identity and leadership with the old M. A. C.

To the qualities which have brought the club out of the shadow of a great tragedy to its present status, and from a depleted roster to its existing membership of nearly 2000 persons, St. Louis is glad to give recognition. To indomitable enterprise and persistence, individual and collective, St. Louis ought to pay tribute. It is pleasant to think that what the M. A. A. has done is characteristic of the community.

THE SACRED SUBMARINE.

Befogged views still persist in regard to the right of a merchant ship to carry a gun for defense and the submarine's sacredness from attack by possible prey.

Few of those who want the United States to rewrite international law would deny the right of a cargo vessel, if it could, to run away from or to fight off a motor boat, for instance, if such a craft with a machine gun attempted to stop it on the high seas. Such a privilege is a natural one and has always existed. As lately as the Civil War many of our sailing ships went armed, not to sink pirates, but to repulse Confederate raiders. Frequently they did it. Either merchant ships must continue to have this right or they must surrender immediately when hailed, no matter how puny the foe—even to an armed naval officer in a rowboat waiting in the steamer's path. The captain must not even attempt to flee. He cannot defend the lives and property entrusted to his care by so much as a single pistol shot.

Such practice is not defensible. If therefore the right is conceded to resist capture when deemed feasible it is immaterial so far as principles are concerned whether the attacking force comes in an airship, a surface or undersea boat, so long as the general rules of war are observed.

That the submarine cannot hail a merchant ship, without risk, it is generally admitted, is its own weakness. It is no duty of any neutral to overcome that weakness so that it shall favor one nation at war and harm its opponent. Should the United States do what is urged, we would encase submarines with an armor more powerful than that carried by any dreadnought, while on the other hand we would reduce every merchantman, however peaceable its character, to absolute impotency. We would say to the allies that the only ships of war which Germany has at large must not be fired upon. You must surrender your vessel and cargo, put your passengers and crew in boats and see the ship sent to the bottom because the ship which stops you is so vulnerable that it cannot resist even a rifle shot. You cannot touch them, but they can destroy you.

The fact is, the submarine is a naval implement of war designed for use against enemy battleships, just as 42 centimeter guns are to be employed not against civilians but armed forts and forces.

It is not wholly against submarines that merchant ships are armed. Has no one heard of German sea raiders in the present conflict?

EDITH CAVELL.

ONE less to soothe the fevered brows war breeds,—
One less to bear a life for Kings to slay!
She died triumphant!—and her gentle deeds
Shall long survive in God that brutal day
When martial law like murder shot her down:
There will be days in the forthcoming years
To breathe the story of her brave renown,—
There will be heartaches, sighs, a few warm tears;

And when the ruthless arm of mail hath won
Or lost its lusty bagatelle of souls,
When monarchs are no more,—lo! when the sun
Across a verdant field in Flanders rolls,
Then may you smile or weep, thou martyred Nightingale,
Heroic woman of this coward-bearing vale!

IRVIN MATTICK.

MEANT WELL.

Viscount French of Ypres often tells an amusing story about a French review that he attended a good many years ago.

Gen. French—as he then was—attended the men's dinner in camp one day, and, as he puffed on his cigar, he noticed that 300 young Frenchmen had nothing to smoke whatever.

Accordingly he sent to his tent for three boxes of Havanas, and these were quickly distributed among the troop. A rare treat, truly.

To show their gratitude the soldiers, without consulting their sergeants, lined up in two files, marched towards the English General, and raising their hands to their caps, and holding their lighted cigars in their left hands, they shouted as with one voice:

"Vivie la Russie!"

They had mistaken the uniform.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

Mrs. L. H.—Steam to raise nap.

J. H. G.—Tamales, see this office.

ANXIOUS.—Leave vaseline on scratched furniture a day or two, then rub with cloth. Have a talk with the paint store man before painting your house.

SCHARMEL.—Opinions vary as to "best" chile con carne. We should hesitate to eat it, made from any recipe whatever. The Around the World Cook Book has these recipes: (1) Chile con carne, Mexican: 2 pounds round steak, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 garlic bud (one division of garlic bulb, generally called a clove), 2 tablespoons of melted butter or drippings, 4 pods of dried chile peppers, salt. Remove all seeds from the pepper pods. Soak the pods in a pint of warm water until they are soft, then scrape the pulp from the skin into the water, discarding the skins and saving the pulp and water. Cut the steak into small pieces and cook in hot frying pan with 2 tablespoons of melted butter or drippings until well browned. Add the flour and mix thoroughly, then add the sliced garlic and the pint of chile water. Simmer about two hours or until the meat is tender, adding hot water if needed. When done the sauce should be of good consistency. Season to taste with salt. (2) Mexican chile con carne: 1½ pounds of lean meat, 1 can kidney beans, 2 red peppers, cut fine, 4 tablespoons olive oil, 3 onions cut fine, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 large tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. To abbreviate directions: Fry onions and peppers in hot oil; when onions cook yellow add diced meat gradually and sear. After 5 or 10 minutes add a cup of hot water. Stew 2 hours. Heat beans separately; add to beef after Worcestershire sauce and thickening (flour wet with water).

LAW POINTS.

A. B. C.—Try writing the divorce court at Reno.

ANSWER.—The little furniture of a single man may be attached.

E. E. B.—Landlords are not required by law to screen tenants.

WANT TO KNOW.—Mortgage may be foreclosed when interest is unpaid. No "month's notice" required.

PATENT WANTED.—Consult patent lawyer, write Patent Office, or see World Almanac at this office or in Public Library.

H. M. W.—After paying off deed of trust, borrower must pay cost of releasing same, being 35 cents. If some notes are lost the affidavit necessary in that event would cost 50 cents more.

MISCELLANEOUS.

D. D. D.—Uncle Sam and John Bull appeared Fe. 27.

SPORT.—Smokeless powder is much stronger than "black powder."

A. B.—Write Recorder of Deeds, city hall, about duplicate marriage license.

B. B.—See pedigree books in Public Library or write the Genealogical Quarterly, Boston, Mass.

WILSON.—For violin stain: Plain logwood boiled in water makes brown; a pinch of washing soda in it makes green; a little ammonia will make it bright; bear makes it dark. Or aniline colors may be used.

J. R. G.—In case of wedding in church parlor, with invited guests, it would be well to offer to pay any incidental expenses, and a tip to the janitor would not be amiss. The church would hardly expect a fixed rental for the use of the parlor.

E. N. R.—Highest point in Missouri, Taum Sauk Mountain, approximately 1800 feet. Taum Sauk is the culmination of a group generally included with the Ozarks, but older and differing in structure and outline. They are known to geologists as the St. Francois Mountains, and extend through St. Francois and adjoining counties of Southeast Missouri. Mount Nebo, health resort, Yell County, Northwestern Arkansas, is the highest town in the Ozarks—1750 feet.

JOVIAL.—Only practical way to begin chess is with someone who knows plays. Membership in St. Louis Chess Club, International Life Building, costs $4.50 a quarter and includes right to use library. Membership fees in People's Game Club, 1013 Pine street, and West End Chess Club, Cabanne Library (Tuesday nights only), merely nominal. All welcome beginners and gladly instruct them. For advice as to best books write secretary St. Louis Chess Club. The moves are complicated and bewildering at first, but these difficulties rapidly clear away under the tutelage of a good player.

TOOTS.—The following rhymes are not by Tennyson or Longfellow, but they may serve you: "Sleep but little, never eat anything that's fat or sweet. Shun tobacco, and alcohol; eat potatoes not at all. Beans, rice, puddings, pie abhor. Never pass your plate for more. With your meals no water take; walk until your muscles ache. Exercise an awful lot, especially if the weather's hot. Hungry always leave the table; eat as little as you're able. If you're really faint for food, unbuttered toast is very good; or if that does not suffice, two or three stewed prunes are nice. Milk and cream you must taboo, sugar in your coffee, too. Try this plan two months or three, and I'll give my guarantee the advice I give is true, and you'll lose a pound or two.

READER.—A German observer has developed a sort of 35-year cycle, based on general observations extending over 2 centuries of Western Europe. The relatively warm years appear in 1746-1755, 1791-1805, 1821-1835, 1861-1870. The relatively cold years were these: 1731-1746, 1756-1790, 1806-1820, 1836-1850, 1871-1885. The wet and dry years have a different arrangement. Here are the wet years: 1726-1765, 1771-1790, 1806-1835, 1841-1855, 1871-1885. The dry years were: 1766-1770, 1781-1805, 1826-1840, 1856-1870. There is a good deal of variation between countries in these periods. In some regions the cycles do not hold good and there is much irregularity in them. The period varies from 24 to 36 years. Attempts have been made, also, to find a connection between the sun's rotation period of 26½ days and the weather. Occasionally what seemed to be a pronounced recurrence of weather types in about that period has been observed. But most of the time no connection is to be found.

SWISS DEFENSE PLAN MEANS EQUAL RIGHTS

No Just Reason Why One Able-Bodied Citizen Should Expect Another Able-Bodied Citizen to Do His Fighting—Sons of Rich Families Are Compelled to Do Their Part.

The declaration of the Union League Club of New York for universal military service for all able-bodied men is an effective answer to the assertion occasionally heard that if the United States should find itself in a defensive war the burden fighting would be thrown on the workingmen.

Under the unfair volunteer plan there may be some semblance of truth in that complaint. Under compulsory universal service, as with the Swiss system, that injustice would disappear.

The Union League Club has a large membership of wealthy and well-to-do men. When they declare for compulsory training of all the young men of the nation they manifest a democratic and patriotic readiness to bear their share of the burden of national defense. It means that such of them as were of military age would be enrolled in the great citizen army of the republic. If war should come their sons, their nephews, their friends would have to go to the front.

The Swiss plan carries three invaluable features:

1. It is essentially just. The rich, the well to do and the poor are all called on alike to render their share of patriotic service. There is one common bed for all—not two beds, as under the volunteer plan; a bed of sacrifice for the high spirited volunteers and a bed of defended ease for the shirkers in the land.

2. It develops the physical qualities of the individual and the nation and, through discipline, the moral qualities as well. The youth is made a better, more reliant, more efficient man.

3. It would give the United States a defensive force so large and ample that the risk of war would practically vanish. With a strong navy as our first line of defense, a small regular army as the second line, and several million young and hardy Americans for the third line, trained to use a rifle, to maneuver in the field, to take care of themselves in camp and on the march, it is beyond reasonable belief that we could ever be assailed; and if any foreign power should be so reckless as to try to land an invading force upon these shores, the outcome would never be doubted for a moment. Our people would go calmly about their alloted industrial and business tasks. We should scarcely feel the shock of war at all.

The lessons of Europe's great war point impressively to our need of preparedness that will be ample to protect. Even such noted former peace advocates as Nathan Straus have been driven reluctantly to that belief.

"Now the power to do this thing—the power to prevent war," declares Mr. Straus, "can be achieved only by the most thorough preparedness on the part of the nations that want peace and order in the world.

"This, I maintain, is the overwhelming reason why America should have a powerful navy and a strong army and the thorough equipment essential to the efficient use of this power.

"We need preparedness not to fight battles, but to prevent battles being fought. * * * I deny emphatically that preparedness leads to war. I assert with deep conviction that thorough preparedness on the part of America will be the best guarantee that the world can have that there will be no more wars.

"If it is possible for this country to be threatened by war—and who can say that it is not possible—can such a calamity be better averted by weakness or by strength?"

That strength must not be sought in a great standing army. All our traditions, all our convictions, all the judgment of great Americans of the present and the past, speak a solemn protest against the building up of a vast standing army and placing on it the nation's hope of peace and defense.

We ought to put our trust in a citizen army of defense that will impress powerfully every ambitious aggrandising country in the world.

The national safety, the perpetuation of peace, our sense of fairness and our principle of equality of all before the law, speak weightily for the Swiss plan. We cannot afford to stake so much on the bare hope that volunteers will always be found. If we are to be prepared we must make our preparations in time of peace.

Modern warfare, as everyone must see, calls for long preparation on a definite and continuous policy. That policy cannot be built and maintained on the uncertainties of volunteer response.

There is no reason why everything should be expected from the volunteer and nothing demanded from the shirkers. There is no reason why one able-bodied American should expect another ablebodied American to do his fighting for h[illegible] There is no reason why one selfish household should be allowed to keep its sons out of training, and out of fighting if war should come, while the brave sons of other braver and more patriotic families send their sons to the flag.

If we mean it when we declare about "equal rights for all and special privileges to none," we should make our national defense democratic in fact as well as in campaign oratory, with patriotic service from all who are physically fit to give it.

That will make for justice, for peace, for a stronger nation physically and a manhood more efficient from discipline and a patriotic duty done.

The Straight Tip

Story of how a woman's good business head, not only saves her employer from being ranked as a quitter, but makes the firm $250,000, as well.

By Evans Macauley Randall.

"I'M through!"

Roland Dalton looked it. Young, handsome, well dressed, sober, energetic, ambitious—this had been his record "on the board" for two years, but just now there was in his face an appalling discouragement.

"See here, Jerry," he said to his trader and manager, "there's no need to publish it, but I don't dare to go any further. If I did, it would be on baseless credit and I'll take no chance with other people's money."

"But, sir, we owe nothing, the decks are clear"—

"And I'm going to quit, while they are. You follow orders. Pay off every bill and close up the office. I'll pay you and Miss Blount a month's salary ahead. I'll leave each of you a first-class recommendation to Burtelle & Co., who will be glad of your services. I'm going up into Wisconsin and get as far away from the hubbub and worry as I can for a month. Then I think I'll strike out for the coast and begin all over again."

Loyal Jerry Watson's lips puckered. Marcia Blount, at the typewriter, was white as a sheet. Dalton stole a glance at her and he gulped down a sigh. Shattered business, a shattered, though half-fledged, romance—it was pitiful!

"Close up the office and tell any inquirer that I'm off for a rest," proceeded Dalton, "but pay everybody and let Dalton & Co. fade away without any sensation."

"But, sir," expostulated Jerry. "things aren't so bad as you think. We're square. Well, then, how about the big broomcorn consignment?"

Dalton shook his head drearily.

"Jerry," he said, "the market's down on that and may stay down."

"But the ten thousand dollar option, sir?"

"I'll lose it rather than take the lot and involve others in loss. No, I'm through, I tell you, for good."

THEN Roland Dalton went away, reckless, desperate. Jerry stood looking about him like a lost soul. Miss Blount was crying softly.

"I never thought he'd flunk!" muttered Jerry. "Well, we're through, too. It's a new job for both of us, I'm thinking."

"I will stay and get everybody checked up," volunteered the pretty stenographer. "You're feeling blue, sir. Go home and forget it all."

Jerry was seated in the midst of his family that evening when Miss Blount unexpectedly intduded. She looked excited and exhilarated.

"Mr. Watson," she announced, "two strange things happened at the office after you left."

"Yes?" murmured Jerry, interrogatively.

"The first was a notification that our people at Aberdeen had shipped the entire broomcorn assignment."

"Why!" fairly shouted Jerry, in dire consternation, "a million dollars' worth! No market! Freight charges a small fortune in themselves! A $10,000 forfeit up!"

"Don't you see," suggested Marcia eagerly, "they are banking on the good credit of our house. They are not afraid to trust Mr. Dalton."

"But, my dear Miss Blount," exclaimed Jerry, "there is absolutely no demand for the stuff, the quotations are disastrously below the profit point, no one can handle it on our contract price without a disastrous loss, and we simply cannot take it!"

"We must!"

Never had Jerry Watson seen so determined a look on the little lady's face. There was power unutterable in the expression.

"Mr. Watson," she said, resolutely, and there was a tremulous thrill in her voice, "I am not willing that an opportunity should be allowed to pass unregarded, after his extreme kindness to us, that may mean the rehabilitation of Mr. Dalton's business."

"But that is impossible!"

"So I thought until, just after receiving the telegram from the broomcorn people, Ned Prosse came into the office."

"That kid," ejaculated Watson, dubiously. "What's he got to do with it?"

"EVERYTHING. You remember I got him his position with Vermilye & Co. He is a grateful little fellow. He always boasted he would do great things for us some day. Well, he comes into the office this afternoon, all excitement. 'I've got the straight tip,' he declared. 'Vermilye & Co. are going to run a corner in stock feed and broomcorn. They are going to rush the market up 20 to 30 points delivery day, and hold it there. It's a sure play. Mr. Watson, it is more than good to us—it is the salvation of our business!'

"Allowing we can depend upon the tip, where is the capital coming from to carry the stuff until settling day?"

"I have thought it all out, responded Marcia. "The Dalton credit is good—isn't the Dalton word a power everywhere? We will go to the bank and borrow sufficient to cover carrying charges. Then—oh! I have blocked it all out. We cannot fail. We will send confidential word to all our clients. We will give them the tip of a corner. We will guarantee 10 points profit within 30 days."

"A daring scheme!" fairly gasped Jerry. "And how about the payments to the broomcorn people?"

"Why, that is simple. As we sell to our clients, we will borrow on our bills of lading. That will make us square all the way around. We can certainly place half our consignment for cash. The amount we realize will satisfy our shippers. When the squeeze comes in this market we will release the actual stuff in warehouse to supply the shorts, get the highest price and close out at a big profit."

"It's a dream!" spoke Jerry, musingly—"but it looks tangible. I'm willing. Go ahead with the scheme."

Three weeks later Roland Dalton left his remote solitude, which no gossip or newspaper had invaded. On the train bound for the city he sat spellbound as his eye scanned the commercial column of the first newspaper he had seen for nearly a month.

It was the graphic story of the broomcorn corner in Chicago. It told of the wonderful coupe that had given Dalton & Co. practical control of the market and a profit of a quarter of a million dollars!

DALTON burst into the office two days later. It wore an air of briskness and prosperity. Jerry beamed upon him, Marcia stood flushing, eager, trembling like a child who had assumed a daring initiative and wondered if the result would be punishment or appreciation.

"What have you two been doing here?" challenged Dalton, and then Jerry told, and Dalton added, "Come into my private office until I discipline you."

Out of it Jerry came a few minutes later. His eyes were aglow. He held in his hand a little strip of paper. It was a check for more money than he had ever thought of possessing. He nodded to Marcia, who took her way to the "inquisitorial room."

Roland Dalton poured forth his surging soul to the loyal girl who had saved the house on the point of collapse.

Dalton & Co. were to take in two new partners—herself and Jerry. She was to send to her widowed mother in a distant country town sufficient to make her comfortable for life.

Further:

"I say, they're in there a long time," murmured Jerry Watson, and then, as the door finally opened and Marcia and Dalton came forth hand in hand, the chuckling old fellow understood that love as well as success had come to the house of Dalton & Co.

A most remarkable ruin in Haiti is the great citadel, La Ferriere, built by the black King Christophe, some of the walls of which, 80 feet high and 16 thick, are still guarded by batteries of antique cannon of huge bore. The citadel was partially ruined in the earthquake of 1842, but is still a colossal and impressive mass.

Always Has Bed With Him

A TRAVELER who makes use of the trunk which has been recently invented by an Oklahoman genius will never be cheated out of his bed, for wherever his trunk is there also is the bed. The trunk is composed of hinged sections which permit of their being spread out over the floor, forming a double accommodation for the sections of mattress, which are of such a size and shape that they are readily packed away inside the trunk when folded. By making use of a pneumatic mattress instead of one made of springs, there is considerable space left inside for the storage of clothing and other essentials.

Today's Beauty Talk

You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that make arranging it a pleasure.—ADV.

GORDON TELLS OF NEPOTISM IN HIS OFFICE IN LETTER

Declares Son and Another Relative Are Only Relatives He Ever Empoyed.

Traveling salesmen living in St. Louis recently have received an undated circular letter from State Auditor John P. Gordon, who is a candidate for renomination on the Democratic ticket, in which Gordon attempts to defend nepotism.

Before being elected Auditor eight years ago Gordon was a traveling salesman. Gordon says in his letter:

"I am charged with nepotism, and from reading certain newspapers some people may have been led to believe that all the members of my immediate family and a great many other of my relatives are employed in this office.

Outlines the Facts.

"Now the facts are simply these: During the time I have had the honor to hold this office I have never had at any time more than one member of my family employed in this office, except for a period of four months in 1913, when I had two of them (one doing extra work for that length of time), and for three and a half months of the same year no member of my family was in my employ."

The auditor's report shows that in 1913 his son, Maurice G. Gordon, was bond clerk and drew $1000 in salary that year. About the middle of the year he was appointed Building and Loan Supervisor at a salary of $2000 a year.

Although the auditor says in his letter that in 1913 he had two of his family on the payroll part of the time, and none part of the time his official report does not disclose that he paid money in 1913 to any member of his family except his son.

Wife's Name Appears.

In 1914, however, the name of Gordon's wife, Mrs. Oma Gordon, appears on the payroll at a salary of $1500 a year. Gordon in his letter to the traveling men said:

"I would not employ a member of my family or anyone else in my office unless they properly performed the service for which they were paid."

A year ago expert accountants, examining the Auditor's office, found the name of Mrs. Gordon on the payroll. They didn't see Mrs. Gordon in the office, and made inquiry regarding her. They reported they were informed by the Auditor that Mrs. Gordon did her work at home. They reported the Auditor showed them an office record which he said was Mrs. Gordon's work.

The letter of the Auditor also contains a defense of his action in making a trip to a convention of State Auditors in Salt Lake City last July at the expense of the State, for which he was criticised.

FOUR YEARS FOR MAN FOUND GUILTY OF BOX CAR ROBBERY

One of His Alleged Companions Was Killed by Detective, Another Wounded.

Benjamin Kraus of 2714 North Tenth street, was found guilty of burglary by a jury in Judge Grimm's court today and his sentence was fixed at four years in the penitentiary. Kraus was identified as one of three men who were surprised by railroad detectives while robbing an M., K & T. box care the night of Nov. 26 last, at Doddridge avenue and the Burlington tracks.

The detectives testified the moon was shining brightly on the night of the robbery. E. E. Rudolph, attorney for Kraus, introduced an almanac to show that the moon was full on Nov. 21, five days before the robbery, and consequently was on the decline, and giving comparatively little light on the night of the robbery.

The detectives and robbers exchanged many shots and the detectives killed George Cockrill of 4249 Lexington avenue, and wounded Clifton Henry of 3521 North Twelfth street. Kraus escaped, but was captured two days later.

Henry pleaded guilty Jan. 24 and was sentenced to a year in the workhouse, clemency being extended to him because he had been severely wounded.

CHIEF TO INVESTIGATE ARREST OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS

May and Wright, Contend That When on Emergency Duties They Were Not Subject to Traffic Rules.

Chief Young, this morning, ordered an investigation of the arrest Tuesday of Election Commissioners May and Wright while those officials were responding to a call from a poling place at Vandeventer and Finney avenues. If it is found that the patrolman erred, according to the Chief, he will be dealt with accordingly.

The Board of Election Commissioners filed a written protest with the Chief and each member of the Board of Police Commissioners. May and Wright were arrested at the instance of a negro who called Patrolman Oscar C. Saxy's attention to the fact that they had left their automobile facing west on the south side of the street in conflict with traffic regulations.

The Election Commissioners contend that under the law they are not subject to traffice regulations while performing emergency duties in connection with an election.

CIVIL SERVICE REPORT ON CHICAGO GRAFT IS TABLED

Document Recommended That Mrs. Eaton's Split Salary Charges Go to Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, March 2.—In submitting a report on the split salary charges of Mrs. Page W. Eaton, Superintendent of the Bureau of Social Surveys, against her chief, Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, head of the Department of Public Welfare, the Committee on Civil Service recommended to the City Council at its meeting last night that the case be submitted to the State's Attorney. Transcript of the testimony taken at the committee's hearing of the charges at which Mrs. Rowe declined to appear, accompanied the report and the committee urged that the State's Attorney present the same to a grand jury with a view to indictments if the evidence submitted warranted such action. An effort to suspend the rules for the approval of the report failed and a motion to "defer and publish" prevailed.

A number of questions as to the power of the committee to summon witnesses, impose oaths and the probable judicial effect of such power, if possessed, were submitted to the corporation counsel as the result of the committee's experience in its inquiry.

Columbia Records TRADE MARK Note the Notes

The Simple Songs of Long Ago

HOW beautifully the sympathetic tonal sweetness of Columbia Records brings out the sentiment, the heart-appeal, and touching simplicity of the fine old ballads!

All the romance of the Springtime of Love, of the age "when all the world was young," is expressed with tender, poetic charm in these Columbia Records:

A-1913 75c — When You and I Were Young, Maggie, Tenor Solo, Harry McClaskey. The Gypsy's Warning, Harry McClaskey.

A-1793 75c — Two Roses, Stellar Quartette. Juanita, Columbia Mixed Quartette.

A-1916 75c — Where the River Shannon Flows, Broadway Quartette. A Little Bit of Heaven, Broadway Quartette.

The quaint tenderness of these records makes an appealing addition to the musical program of a "Columbia Evening." By all means hear them at your dealer's, then select those you would like to hear on quiet evenings at home.

And if you have other favorites among the ballads of long ago, you will find them all, sung by favorite artists, in the Columbia Record Catalogue.

TERRIERS TO PLAY BROWNS IN FIRST REAL 1916 BATTLE

Show for Which Phil Ball Once Offered $2500 Will Be Put on for Practice.

PLANK TO CAPTAIN FEDS

Regular Team With Exception of Vaughan and Marsans Will Be in Field.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Staff Correspondent With the Browns.

PALESTINE, Tex., March 2.—It remains for Palestine, which is famous for its red dust, that kind that bites and chews its way into your shoes and clothes, to see a ball game that Philip D. Catesby Ball offered to pay $2500 for last fall.

Before Mr. Ball bought his way into Organized Baseball, he had a high regard for the efficiency of the Federal League and complete disgust for the inferior ball purveyed by the pastimers in the American League.

So he blankly offered to bet $2500 that the Terriers could eat the Browns alive, the side bet and receipts to go to charity if the proteges of Fielder Jones won. His idea never took. The Browns remained beautifully aloof from the Terriers.

Next Tuesday afternoon the Browns and Terriers will clash here for an admission fee of 25 and 50 cents, with the crowd limited to 2000 because of the size of the park.

There are many fans in St. Louis who would willingly separate themselves from one iron man to see such a battle, but we know of no freeborn American visitors in Palestine who are losing sleep over the prospect of their inability to spare time Tuesday afternoon to watch the struggle.

Players Cut Loose Too Early.

It promises to be considerable game, too, although the club has been in camp only three days; the players are cutting loose with such abandon as makes one marvel. Jones, however, isn't worried. Only on rare occasions does he admonish the over-anxious athlete, while he finds innumerable opportunities for suggesting more intensified effort on the part of the drones.

There are few of the latter, by the way. It doesn't pay, in this camp. So followers are looking forward to considerable excitement Tuesday.

Jimmy Austin will captain the Browns. Eddie Plank probably will be field tactician of the Terriers. Jones must remain strictly neutral and for that reason he will not be acceptable even as an umpire.

This is a delicate situation for Jones to handle, something he tried to dodge. Of course he was not forced into the business of dividing his squad into equal parts of Terriers and Browns for the first game, but he felt the pulse of the team and decided that every heart had an abnormal beat for just such a fracas. So he has decided to let 'em go to it.

How the Clubs Line Up.

Austin probably will have Paulette on first, Pratt on second, Lavan at short, with himself on third. Shotton, C. Walker and Severeid will man the outer defenses, with Clemons behind the bat. Three pitchers will be used.

Plank will have the regular Terrier infield with the exception of second base, which will be defended by Otis Crandall. Tobin, Ward Miller and Chapman will go to the outfield, with Hartley behind the bat and Dave Davenport on the hill when hostilities begin.

The Chief of Police may umpire, if he can get enough of his men in the stand to stand by when trouble begins.

The game was scheduled for Saturday originally. At the request of the business men here Jones today postponed the contest to next Tuesday, when all stores will close to let everybody attend. There will be a fungo game Saturday.

A date with the Giants on March 17 has been suggested by McGraw. It may be accepted.

It was colder today with snow promised tonight.

This will be the saddest day in camp. Soreness begins to crop out and it will be another day before the muscles adjust themselves to the new demands made by Jones.

Jones Prescribes "Army" Work.

There are fewer frills to Jones' style of managing than any we have ever seen. He sticks to the old army style of preparatory work, giving the large doses of batting practice. He's a particular bug on bunting, and every man who goes to the plate must bunt the first one. And it is then that Jones usually has something to say. It is his idea that only one player in 10 knows how to bunt. And this accomplishment is by no means the least in a perfect ballplayer's life.

Vernon Clemons has all the earmarks of a winner. He's a second edition of Hack Spencer, only faster afoot and possessed of a keener eye. He drove one against the left-field fence yesterday and the man who built the park says the fence is 350 feet from the home plate. It looks it, too. So you may imagine how Vernon wallops the ball.

George Sisler is hitting 'em squarely on the seam. The more you see of Sisler the more you appreciate Branch Rickey. If Branch never does anything else for the St. Louis ball club, he has earned his salary for eons to come.

Sisler is the sort of player who should steadily improve for three years, although he's far and away better than the average athlete now. He's a genuine gem, a Kohinoor among major-league clowns.

Speaking of Sisler's youth gives us a hunch for another paragraph, which come rather hard these days, to-wit: If Jones builds a pennant pretender out of the material now at hand, he will have a team which should endure in first-division stride for five or six seasons to come. Paulette, Pratt, Lavan, Johnson, Deal, Tobin, Hartley, Clemons, Koob, Wellman, McCabe, Baumgardner and a few others are only kids. They all should have six years of baseball usefulness in their respective carcasses.

This business of sending Vin Campbell and Bill McKechnie contracts is merely a cover-up for Harry Sinclair, who owns these men. There was a possible chance that Campbell or McKechnie would revert back to the O. B. clubs whence they came. To avoid such a loss, Sinclair ostensibly turned the men over to Jones. Both are welcome if they can make the team. Campbell is particularly attractive. Jones likes his style. But the chances of them coming here are very remote.

Leos Play Ben Millers.

The schedule Sunday in the St. Louis Soccer League at Robison Field calls for a clash between the new champions, the Ben Millers, and the ex-title holders, St. Leos, in the curtain raiser. The closing contest will be between the Innisfails and Naval Reserves. A victory for the Leos and a defeat for the Navals Sunday will put the blue and white in third place.

Pool Stars Are Beaten by Novices

Champion Allen and Maturo Lose to Unknowns; Johnny Layton Wins Twice.

Johnny Layton, who learned most of what he knows about the pocket billiard game right here in St. Louis, and who is entered in the American pocket-billiard (formerly "pool") championship tourney in Chicago, has a record of two victories and one defeat to date. In his opening match Layton lost to Taberski, but since has walloped Ralph and Blankenship.

Benny Allen, the present champion, is having a tough time of it. First Petrie walloped him 100 to 29, and in his second match Ralph Greenleaf, the 16-year-old youth from Monmouth, Ill., forced him to bow to defeat, 100 to 70.

Of the newcomers, Mike Petrie of Chicago, with two straight victories, has made the best showing. "Cowboy" Weston, an added starter, has won one and lost one.

Results of the matches played to date follow:

SATURDAY.

Petrie 100, Allen 29.
Taberski 100, Layton 84.

MONDAY.

Greenleaf 100, Allen 70.
Blankenship 100, Concannon 55.
Ralph 100, Maturo 39.
Clark 100, Fink 99.

TUESDAY.

Bob Cannefax, the Rex entry in the Interstate Three-Cushion Billiard League, averaged 1.08 in beating Hugh Heal of Toledo, 50 to 28, in the match at the Rex last night. Cannefax ran out his string in 42 innings. He holds the high average of the league, having run out a game against Catton in 38 sessions. In last night's match he uncorked a high run of six, while in six frames he had runs of three. His record for the season now is 18—17.

Vernon Gasper, the Indianapolis cueist, who last night defeated Charles Legros, in Peoria, 50—39, in 91 innings, will tackle Pierre Maupome, the Mexican, at Peterson's tonight. In the game with Legros Gasper had a high run of four. Recently in Indianapolis, Maupome was an easy winner over Gasper.

In the other Interstate match played last night, Charles Morin, Chicago, defeated George Felton, 50—45, in Boston.

Last Night's Fights

New Orleans—Ted Lewis easily defeated Harry Stone, 20 rounds.

Muncie, Ind.—Chuck Wiggins and Rube Wenners, eight-round draw. Merl White beat Jack Johnson, six rounds. Mick Donahue defeated Kid Ebert, six rounds.

Shenandoah, Pa. — Knockout Sullivan defeated Knockout Ketchell, 10 rounds.

Reinstatement Is Denied Wolffs by Municipal League

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Municipal Athletic Association held yesterday, the players of the Wolffs, who last season were indefinitely suspended, were denied reinstatement. It was decided, though, that should any of the players wish to join different clubs, they could seek reinstatement after June 1. If they apply then it will mean they will miss more than a month of the present playing season.

Three protests were handled by the soccer body. The Eckhardts were awarded a victory over the Southern A. C. at Carondelet, while the K. F. M. team of the C. B. C. division was given a game from the C. A. C. The other between the Ruhrs and Leacocks will be decided later.

The soccer elimination games will be played at C. B. C., and an admission will be charged. The Busch trophies for the best players were also accepted. The referees of the different leagues will decide on the best players.

SPORT SALAD

BY L. C. Davis

Training in Texas.

BRING the good old bugle, boys, we'll sing another song;
The Browns are down in Texas, where they're training thirty strong.
Thirty husky athletes answer to the dinner gong,
While they are training in Texas.

Hurrah! Hurrah! the doors are open wide!
Hurrah! Hurrah! the feast is set inside!
Round that training table to their places they will slide,
While they are training in Texas.

TEXAS has the climate and our Brownies have the "pep;"
If they 'tend to business they'll be making quite a rep.
Under Fielder's management they'll have to watch their step,
While they are training in Texas.

Hurrah! Hurrah! the flag's as good as copped!
Hurrah! Hurrah! they never will be stopped!
Rousing resolutions for those Brownies we'll adopt,
While they are training in Texas.

HUGGINS and the Cardinals are down in San Antone,
Working like the dickens; in the camp there's not a drone;
Everybody's pulling for those boys of brawn and bone,
While they are training in Texas.

Hurrah! Hurrah! for Huggins and his crew!
Hurrah! Hurrah! they're slightly overdue!
All the fans are keeping tab on everything they do,
While the are training in Texas.

All Nature Smiled.

JESS WILLARD is training hard for his coming contest with Frank Moran. Jess is working out on the typewriter. He says:

"When I rose at 6:30 this morning everything looked happy."

We presume the clock had a smile on its face, the corn was grinning from ear to ear, the bed shook with laughter from head to foot, while the potatoes just couldn't make their eyes behave.

Good boy, Jess, you're doing fine! Wonder if the lemons banished their sour look for the nonce and joined in the general joviality.

Ted Lewis won a 20-round decision over Fred Stone in New Orleans, last night, and then claimed the welterweight championship. Claiming the welterweight championship is a habit to which most box fighters become addicted at some time during their career.

You Know It.

IT'S easy enough to look pleasant,
When bubbling over with youth.
But the fellow worth while
Is the one who can smile
When the dentist is pulling his tooth.

Lewis has the arms and shoulders of a middleweight, the chest of a welterweight and the legs of a lightweight. The title of champion "composite" weight would fit him like a glove.

The Cleveland Indians began training at New Orleans yesterday. They are game guys, and anyone betting that the Indians won't finish the season will probably regret his rashness.

The Browns and Terriers will battle next Saturday for the championship of Palestine. Incidentally, it will be a battle for regular jobs. Better than a spring series.

Grover Hartley has elegant teeth. Looks like the Browns are going to eat their way into first division.

Poggenberg Is Winner.

NEW YORK, March 2.—J. Ferd Poggenberg of this city won his first match in the class A amateur balk-line championship tournament yesterday, when he defeated Jacob Klinger of Australia, former champion, 400 to 275. In the other match, Morris D. Brown beat Edgar Appleby, 400 to 269. In today's matches Poggenberg plays Edward W. Gardner, while Charles Heddon tackles Francis S. Appleby.

Willard in Better Shape Than When He Started Work for Johnson Bout

Post-Dispatch Writer, Who Saw Havana Fight, Declares After Watching Champion Practice That the Big Fellow Has Improved Since Winning Title.

By Robert Edgren.

(Copyright, 1916, by the Press Publishing Co.)

I'VE been watching Jess Willard at work and comparing him with the Jess Willard I saw daily in Havana before the fight with Johnson that gave him the world's championship.

In many ways he's exactly the same Jess. In some others he has changed. He is much thicker in features, arms and body than when he fought for the title.

The Tex O'Rourke, who conditioned Willard for the Johnson fight, sat beside me, watched every move Jess made and declared that he is thinner and lighter than when he began training in Texas before the postponement of the Juarez match.

In boxing Willard has even improved, although it's difficult to tell whether he will have more fighting effectiveness. He moves about more, and with a certain cocky self-confidence that he never showed before. When merely one of the heavyweight contenders Jess felt some people were inclined to laugh at him because he was so big and because he didn't fritter about like a featherweight. Today he knows that he's champion, that he sets the pace in his class, that he's the model to be looked up to and admired, that he is superior to any other fighter in the world, and that he isn't the only man in the world who knows it. So he boxes without self-consciousness or restraint.

And he boxes very well. He's the nimblest 250-pound man that ever put on a glove. He's as nimble as any 200-pounder might need to be. He doesn't feel big, clumsy or awkward.

After his workout we were talking in the dressing room, where Jess, wrapped in blankets, was waiting for Monahan and Hemple to give him a final polishing off.

"Did you know Corbett?" asked Willard.

"Sure—very well,' said I.

"It's funny," said Jess. "When I was a boy I used to have an idea that Corbett and Fitzsimmons were great men. I thought Corbett was a big man to be a champion, but I hear he was only a little fellow—somewhere around 180 pounds."

"From 182 to 185 at Carson," I said, "and Fitzsimmons weighed only 158 when he knocked out Corbett."

Jess laughed.

"It seems funny to me," he chuckled, "little fellows like that being heavyweight champions. Guess they didn't have any regular heavyweights then. That was before Jeff's time. Jeff must have been a good one. He weighed around 230."

And Jess chuckled again and heaved his 260 pounds up and stalked into a bathroom to see if the tub was big enough for him to get into it. Jess in a bath tub is a unique sight. There isn't much room for water.

Champion Thinks Layer of Fat Will Diminish Effect of Opponent's Blows

I ASKED Jess how he developed his arms, for, although always large, they now look like an ordinary pair of legs.

"I've developed myself by boxing," he said. "I boxed from January last year until the fight with Johnson, and then on through the season until November. I boxed in the open when I was with the show. The ring wasn't covered and I boxed every day, rain or shine. On rainy days the crowd sat there just the same to see me box. Boxing so much developed my arms and developed me all over. I weighed yesterday just 272 pounds in my street clothes, and they are light, about 12 pounds. That makes me about 260. I weighed more than that when I began training for Johnson.

"I always have a little layer of fat over my stomach and a little all over me. It won't come off, and I'm satisfied. My muscles are loose and flexible. It's better to be soft than muscle bound. And that little fat over my body makes a good cushion for hard punches to land on. It saves me from getting the shock. I'll be in first-class shape for Moran. I'm feeling fine—full of life and pep—and I'll be ready for Moran when the time comes.

"I had many a good laugh over some stories in the papers that said my cold was only an excuse for dodging Moran. Wouldn't it be funny to dodge a fight with all that money in sight?" Jess laughed again.

Talking of his endurance in the Johnson fight, Jess said:

"I surprised myself. I expected to get tired, and I felt fresher in every round. When he was all in I was fit to fight 100 rounds more."

Jess Doesn't Like Fighting.

Willard is just the same big, good-natured ex-cowboy that he was a couple of years ago. Being champion hasn't made him in the least conceited. He's a little more experienced and a little wiser.

"I like boxing more than any other exercise," he said. "I think everybody in the country should be taught to box and always to use his fists in a fight, instead of a knife or a brick. Boxing is good for the body and the eye and the quickness of the mind. I don't think boxing or fighting is brutal or degrading, and I think the people who say it is never tried it and don't know anything about it.

"I don't care much about fighting in the ring. It's interesting, but I'd rather box in a gymnasium, for fun. When I have enough I'm going to stop fighting and go West some where and buy a ranch and stock it up with black cattle. I want some timber land, and water, and good fishing and hunting near, so I can get on my horse early in the morning and go out after it. I want to get away out where I won't have to see a lot of people and where I can have time to enjoy life. Being in a crowd, and posing for pictures, and getting introduced to thousands of people, and traveling around used to be fun, but I'm tired of it. When I'm ready to live on my ranch somebody else can have the championship. I won't want it. I won't want to bother about it any more."

Having finished dressing by this time, Jess went down to the street, where about a thousand boys were eagerly watching the door to see him for a moment. There was a wild rush. Willard hopped into his waiting automobile, waved his hands cheerfully to the boys around him and told the chauffeur to drive along. There's no grouch about Jess. He's as cheerful and amiable as if he had nothing on his mind more important than a dinner engagement. And, come to think of it, that was exactly the way he seemed before he fought Johnson. I remember one day in Havana—just before the fight.

"Jess," said I, "you don't seem to be worrying at all."

"No," said Jess, "there's nothing to worry about. I'm going to knock Johnson out."

He probably has the same cheerfully optimistic idea regarding what the future holds for one Frank Moran.

KENTUCKY DERBY ENTRY LIST SURPASSES RECORD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 2.—Entries to the forty-second annual renewal of the Kentucky Derby closed at midnight last night, with what horsemen predict will be the largest number of possible starters in the history of the stake. The list, however, probably will not be announced for two or three weeks. It is known that it will include all of last year's two-year-old stars.

The race this year, with $10,000 added money, will be worth approximately $15,000 to the winner. The Derby will be run at Churchill Downs, probably May 6 or May 13.

Of the crack 3-year-olds thought to have been named to go in the race are Thunderer, full brother to Regret; Dodge, George Smith, Bulse, King Neptune, Bromo, Gillies, Big Smoke, Ting-A-Ling, Candle and Tom Edward. The derby is at a mile and a quarter.

AUTO DAREDEVILS ENTER EVENT AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 2.—Announcement was made today that a 50-mile automobile race will be staged at the Fair Grounds, March 25, under the direction of the Panama-California International Expositions.

Entries have been received from Teddy Tetzlaff, Bob Burman, Barney Oldfield, Earl Cooper and Cliff Durant, and it is said at least seven other noted racers will participate. The entrants will compete for a $2500 cup offered by the exposition and money prizes.

The race will be run over a one-mile track inside the exposition grounds.

THREE FIVES TIE FOR LEADERSHIP OF CITY LEAGUE

Soldiers Now Favored in Mid-Week Division of Municipal Basket Ball Race.

PLAY TWO MORE GAMES

Favorites Each Have Contests Scheduled With American Brakes and Commerce.

Less than a month ago the struggles for supremacy in the two divisions of the Municipal Basket Ball League seemed to be pretty much one-team affairs. In the Wednesday division the Euclids were the strongest contenders, with the American Brakes having an outside chance. Followers of the league play considered the Commerce five and the Battery A team out of the running.

In the Friday division the Compton Heights were practically awarded the bunting, not only in that flight of clubs but in the entire league.

As a result of the play in last night's double-header at Washington University, three quints are now tied for the leadership in the Wednesday division, the other team being hopelessly out of the race. The American Brakes, Euclids and the Battery A fives are now deadlocked for the top notch. The Battery A team, which was bolstered three weeks ago, has won every contest played since then and now is favored to land on top. A month ago the team was in third place.

The soldier boys showed their greatest strength last night in walloping the Euclids, 35 to 24. The Brakes stayed in the running when they gained a victory by forfeiture. The lowly Commerce five failed to appear for the contest.

Two Games Each Remain.

Each team has two games yet to play. The Battery A five meets Commerce and the A. B. quintet, while the Euclids play the same two squads. Both Commerce contests will probably be forfeited, while, judging from recent play, the American Brakes are not strong enough to cope with the Battery and the Euclids. This will make it necessary for these two teams to meet in a post-season game for the division title.

The Compton Heights and Y. M. C. A. will meet for the third time Friday night. The first two meetings resulted in victories for the former team. A victory for the "Y" lads will put them on even terms with the Comptons.

The Principia Academy five meets the Yeatman High School team in the former's gymnasium, tonight. In a game played early in the season Yeatman defeated the Science quint, but owing to the recent improvement of Coach Hubbel's charges, Principia is favored tonight.

Although announcements have been made that Bill Berry, captain of the Washington U. basket ball five, was to join the Columbian A. C. forces next season, Bill doesn't know a thing about it. He says that he was approached by "Tangled C" players, but upon invitation to play with the South Siders next season told them that he would in all probability be out of the city and would make no arrangements.

Coach Friecke is working his Pikeway basketeers to a finish these bleak afternoons. The Washington mentor sent the maroon squad up against the McKinley High quint yesterday afternoon, and it came across with a 55 to 24 victory. However, Capt. Palmer was still out of the play. The high school boys will stack up against the collegians again this afternoon in a scrimmage.

The Union A. C. and Missouri A. A. basket fives, members of the A. A. U. League, played an exhibition contest at the opening of the new Missouri A. A. clubhouse last night. The U. C. quint found little difficulty in smothering the Cherry Diamond tossers, 34 to 16.

Inasmuch as the St. Phillips Episcopal Church five, winners of the League B title in the Sunday School Association, were unable to meet the Grand Avenue Presbyterian five of League C in the scheduled post season game, and its agents are bemoaning a lost opportunity for victory, the Grand Avenue quint desires to meet the St. Phillips squad as two independent teams. The game would be an interesting one.

LEWIS BEATS STONE IN WELTER TITLE CONTEST

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—Ted Lewis of New York earned every round of the 20 rounds he fought with Harry Stone of this city and Dick Burke, the referee, did not hesitate a second to award the bout to Lewis at the last bell. The bout was the first of a series for the welterweight title and took place at Burns' open-air arena before a crowd of 4000 persons.

Neither lad tipped the beam at 145 pounds. Lewis never had to extend himself except twice, in the eleventh and nineteenth rounds, to earn the money. It was not nearly as hard as stiff working-out in the gymnasium. Teddy was not in his best form, but at that was 100 per cent better than Stone.

Wray's Column

Oi Yoi! Such a Trimming!

GENTLEMEN who have advanced the theory that good baseball players would receive the same salary after the war as before, are either reflecting on the ability of certain players or the intelligence of their audiences.

The ball players are getting a trimming right, except where the well-known armored contract intervenes. The cases of Eddie Plank and Dave Davenport, who everyone will admit, have proven their merit, will illustrate.

Davenport and Plank are both in the fold today. Contracts calling for $4000 with a $1000 bonus for exceptional performance, have been offered and accepted by both men, according to reliable information—as reliable as such information can possibly be.

Last year both received $7000 or over.

The cut, if they do their very best, is at least $2000.

In the case of men like Tris Speaker, net salary $15,000 during war times, the case is even more pronounced. Speaker drops $6000 of his old contract.

That's a body blow to the bank roll, eh, Bo?

Joe Wood Officially Passes.

THEY passed Joe Wood on, yesterday.

Get that, Bo? "Smoky" Joe has been waived on by every club in the American League! Y' understand?

The lad that streaked 'em over the pan for the Red Sox and established a world's winning record of 34 victories and 5 defeats in one season, is expelled from the set of which he was king less than four years ago.

Here's a man under 28 YEARS OF AGE on whom they are counting 10—pitched out, both as to arm and the A. L.

Joe gave his arm to the Boston Red Sox. He now is reaping a release at an age 13 years less than Eddie Plank's. Fielder Jones says Plank is as good as ever.

* * *

Wood's 1915 Mark .750!

OF course, Joe's days must have seemed over, to Messrs. Lannin and Carrigan. They are not the sort of men to let a star get away from them, if he's useful. Lannin has proven that money is not a prime object with him.

But one would think there surely might be the ghost of a chance for such a once-sterling pitcher to come back. Wood did not do so badly, last year. He had a good record; in fact he won 15 and lost 5 games, percentage .750.

Moreover he has ALWAYS had a good record, even in the years when he was suffering. Here's the complete dope on Joe since he came up from below:

Year	G	IP	W	L	Pc	SO	BB	H	Av
1909	24	158	11	7	.611	88	43	121	2.37
1910	35	197	12	13	.480	145	56	155	1.91
1911	44	276	23	17	.575	231	76	226	2.00
1912	43	344	34	5	.872	258	82	267	2.56
1913	22	145	11	5	.688	123	61	116	2.28
1914	18	113	9	3	.750	67	34	94	2.62
1915	25	157	15	5	.750	63	44	120	1.49

Why are they waiving a pitcher who allows a low average of 1.49 earned runs per game?

* * *

"Sea Lion" Hall's Case.

THE Cardinals have a brother in misfortune to Joe Wood, in "Sea Lion" Hall. This twirler was also formerly with the Red Sox; he, too, failed to hold on. He drifted to the American Association, where last year he won 17 successive victories for the Saints.

"Sea Lion" may again prove his worth, supported by the Cardinals, in big league society.

However, Hall was never as good a pitcher as Joe Wood. Not near it. Wood's last year was better than Hall's best, in the major leagues.

Last season the Seal had a record of 7 victories and 10 defeats, outside of his consecutive string of 17 successes. He was also taken out of the box in 10 games.

However, it must be stated in his defense that his early season showing was his worst and, when under headway, he pitched winning ball.

St. Louis fans would like to see both Red Sox discards come back to their very best form, this season.

Stanley Signs With South Bend.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 2.—Joe Stanley, outfielder, who has played in the American League, American Association and the Central League, has signed a contract with the local Central League club. Floyd Grims, outfielder, of Grand Rapids, Mich., also has signed with South Bend.

Koob's Letter Writing May Get Him in Bad With the Higher Ups

Ernie Koob, the southpaw, who at present is in Palestine, Tex., trying to gain a regular berth on the Browns' pitching staff, may get in trouble with the powers that be in the national pastime, and all because of a letter written to a friend in Kalamazoo, Mich., last summer. Koob, in his missive, admits that he used resin, which is entirely against the laws of O. B. In part, Koob's letter just turned loose in the Detroit Times, follows:

"I hurt my finger in Washington in that last game. I used too much resin, which caused a blister the size of a dime to form on my finger and in the eighth inning it busted."

Umpires last year had instructions to watch out for the flingers using the emery ball, mud ball and other peculiar deliveries, but it seems Koob put one over on them in Washington, D. C., on Aug. 3. Hildebrand and O'Laughlin were the arbiters working in the contest.

The Browns lost the game, when the Nationals got to Carl Weilman for a run in the ninth, while Doc Ayres held Rickey's men scoreless.

Agnew Gets Steady Job.

The passing of the veterans, Joe Wood and Ray Collins means that Bill Carrigan intends to rely solely on his younger hurlers in the coming A. L. pennant chase. Waivers yesterday were obtained on the two pitchers and catchers Cady and Thomas. The flingers Carrigan will rely upon are Foster and Shore, right handers and Leonard and Ruth, southpaws. The passing of the two receivers means that Sam Agnew, late of the Browns, is to have a regular job.

Dick Shaner, who formerly acted as ground keeper for the Cardinals, but last season acted in that capacity for the Braves, has left Boston for Miami, Fla., where he will get the diamond in shape for the early season training of George Stallings' men.

The Reds will try out a youth this season, who swatted better than .300 in two circuits last season. He is "Greasy" Neale, an outfielder. Neale started with the Saginaw club of the Southern Michigan League and swatted .388. When that club disbanded he signed with Wheeling in the Central Association and clouted .351 in 51 games. Last spring he had a tryout with the Cleveland club, but failed to make good.

The age of 40 is no limit in baseball. Here is a sprightly quartet: Hans Wagner aged 42; Eddie Plank, aged 41; Napoleon Lajoie, aged 41 and Miner Brown on the sunny side of 40.

More Work for Cardinals.

Manager Miller Huggins is lengthening the work of his battery candidates every day, and figures by the time the remainder of the squad arrives next Monday the flingers will be in pretty good shape. Hiking around the ball yard a few times after the practice is the hardest task for the athletes. The weather at San Antonio has been so good that there is some talk of making it a permanent training camp for the local National Leaguers. Yesterday the thermometer hovered around the 80 mark.

Hugh Jennings, boss of the Tigers, is not satisfied with the pitchers he owns. At least that's the way it looks. Yesterday he ordered George Kaiserling, last year with the Newark Feds, to report at Waxahachie, Tex. Kaiserling is a right hander and last year allowed an average of 2.45 earned runs per game, ranking eleventh among the hurlers. He pitched 261 innings and was found for 71 runs.

The 11 leading hurlers in the Federal League last year, with the exception of Cy Barger, have been signed by major league clubs. Plank and Davenport will be with the Browns; McConnell and Brown, Cubs; Moseley, Reds; Anderson, Giants; Cullop, Yankees; Allen, Braves; Reulbach, Pirates, and Kaiserling, Tigers.

TENPINNERS PAID $49,450 TO ROLL IN A. B. C. EVENTS

Prize Fund at Toledo Will Amount to $32,500, Which Is High Water Mark.

$850 FOR WINNING FIVE

It Will Be a Long Time Before Records Set This Year Will Be Equaled.

ST. LOUIS' SCHEDULE AT A. B. C. TOURNEY

The official schedule for the St. Louis teams rolling in the American Bowling Congress tournament, announced by Secretary A. L. Langtry yesterday, is as follows:

March 11—8 o'clock: H. C. Mennes, Washingtons, Budweisers, Burkes, Duponts, Werder-Hughes, Jack Daniels, Falstaffs, Union Sodas, Alpen Braus and Schweigler Sodas.

March 12—8:30 o'clock: Cobwebs, Old Lynch Ryes and Golden Rods.

March 13—8:30 o'clock: Petersons and Sweeney Specials.

March 14—9:30 o'clock: Western Rowing Club Stars and Ziegenheims.

March 16—8:30 o'clock: Money Backs and Cabannes.

March 17—8.30 o'clock: Martin Fellhauers.

When the American Bowling Congress tournament opens in Toledo on Saturday night, the tenpinners of the country will be shooting for the biggest prizes ever put up for any tourney. The prize fund will amount to at least $32,500. This is almost $6000 in excess of the former high mark made in Chicago in 1912, when $27,813 was distributed among the bowlers.

This total is $6136 more than was awarded the pin knights in the tournaments of 1901, '02, '03, '04 and '05 put together. In these five tourneys, the total prize fund amounted to $26,364.

It will pay the five-man team winning the leading honors handsomely. It is estimated that the leading prize for teams will be at least $850 and maybe more.

Any quintet that hauls down this sum will be $825 in the clear, as the entrance fee is $25. The two-man and individual prizes this season also are expected to be far ahead of those of other years. This is all because all the entry records have been shattered this season.

It Will Pay to Win.

When the Toledo officials announced they were going after an entry of 600 five-man teams, they were laughed at in many parts. But witness the official total. It stopped at the 756-mark, 160 more than the former high mark in Chicago in 1912. There are 1466 two-man and 3178 individuals entered.

While the prize fund will be the biggest ever, just look what the pintopplers spent for the honor of competing in the tourney:

The five-man entry total amounts to $18,900 at $25 a team.

The two-man reaches the $14,660 mark at $10 a team.

The individuals paid $15,890 for the right to compete for leading honors.

This brings the total entry fund up to $49,450.

It is believed by many bowling enthusiasts that the high water marks set at Toledo will stick for some time to come.

Record Hard to Beat.

With the bulky entry total, this means that about 3000 tenpinners will have to pay railroad fare, hotel bills and other incidentals to compete and it is conservatively estimated that after everything is said and done almost $100,000 will have been spent by the pin topplers.

That's an awful amount of money, but it just goes to show how tenpins has grown since 1901, when the first A. B. C. tourney was held in Chicago. The prize fund in this event was $710 for five-man, $499 for two-man and $383 for individuals, a total of $1592.

This will not even pay the leaders in the different events this year.

Chicago Comes Strong.

Chicago bowlers came strong in helping swell the total entries for the A. B. C. The Windy City association entry totals 84 squads, second in line to Toledo—the home city—with 215. Detroit and Cleveland also came strong, with 57 and 53 teams respectively.

East St. Louis has the honor of sending one quintet, the St. Clairs being scheduled to roll with the 10:15 squad on March 26.

Owing to the bulky entry, the officials of the tournament have been forced to add three days. The tourney now will end on March 28, instead of March 25, as was originally intended.

Of the two-man teams and individuals rolling in the South Side handicap tourney on the Werder-Hughes alleys last night, not one was able to break in among the 10 leaders. In the doubles, Briesbacher and Heil did the best rolling, with 1143, including a 45-pin handicap. Eller, aided by a donation of 33 maples, topped the individuals with 611.

Houck Goes to Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 2.—Announcement was made today that Byron Houck, a pitcher, formerly with the Philadelphia Americans and for the past two seasons with the Brooklyn Federals, had been signed by the Portland (Coast League) team.

THAT LOST ARTICLE MAY NOT BE FOUND TODAY
Or tomorrow or next week. In fact, a month or more may elapse before it turns up. A little persistency may be necessary. Often the article may be unfound; often fear of prosecution or hope of more satisfactory reward may delay the restoration. Then the belated awakening of the finder's conscience explains many delays. But persistency and Post-Dispatch wants will usually recover a lost article if an honest person finds it. The service of the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau is also enlisted in behalf of advertisers. (93)

FRANCE EXPELS A BIG AMERICAN BUSINESS MAN

Head of French Westinghouse Air Brake Co. Forced to Return to New York.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

(Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)

PARIS, March 2.—Pursuing its inflexible policy of ridding the country of any foreigner suspected of tampering with the national safety, the French Government has expelled from France Gustav Adolph Trube, a native-born American, who for four years has been head of the French Westinghouse Air Brake Co.

He was given the usual time of 48 hours to leave French soil, but there being no steamship departure within that period the French authorities allowed six days additional grace, which permitted him to sail for America aboard the French liner Chicago on Jan. 22.

The authorities of the Ministry of the Interior, which has entire charge of these matters, assure the Post-Dispatch correspondent that such proceedings against individuals must not be taken to mean hostility against American residents in France.

"Every expulsion case," said M. Leymarie, chief of staff of the Ministry of the Interior, "is considered separately, and the decision reached only after the most painstaking investigation, the results of which remain secret owing to the exigencies of secret service work in time of war.

"You may mention Mr. Trube, however, because as a special favor we have decided that when the American Ambassador's request reaches us we will reconsider the whole Trube case and order a counter investigation."

At the American embassy the Post-Dispatch correspondent was informed that Ambassador Sharp had already made such a request through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Mon. Leymarie emphasized the "special care and consideration taken in cases concerning Americans."

In thus weeding out those it considers undesirables, the French Government is simply exercising a State's sovereign right of summarily ejecting any person whom it deems unwelcome, hence in the case of expelled Americans, no matter how high their standing, Ambassador Sharp can do nothing beyond requesting the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to confide to him the evidence on which the expulsion was made or at least to reconsider the entire incident.

The decision to reconsider the Trube case is a rare exception out of courtesy to the United States. No inkling of the motive for expelling Trube has been obtained since his departure, either by the United States representatives or by Mrs. Trube, who has remained in their Paris home awaiting word from her husband.

Trube's inquiries in the week before he sailed for New York were entirely unavailing. As far as anyone here is aware, there is only one thing which might have prejudiced the authorities against him. That is the fact that his father was born in Germany. Inasmuch as the elder Trube emigrated to America in his teens, and became a naturalized citizen of the United States 45 years ago, his German origin would appear to be scarcely sufficient to bring his son, whose birthplace was Brooklyn, into disrepute in France.

1960 CAPACITY OF PROVENCE

1100 Believed to Have Been Lost When She Sank.

PARIS, March 2.—The Ministry of Marine has given no information as to the number of persons on board the auxiliary cruiser Provence when she went down. The vessel, however, could carry, when in the transatlantic service, a total of 1960 persons, including the crew. It is presumed that she was transporting men aggregating somewhere near her capacity.

The disaster to the Provence took place in clear weather, although the sea was slightly rough. She was transporting troops to Saloniki.

FRIDAY POST-DISPATCH

BIG ADVANCE SEAT SALE FOR 'LOVE IN TOYSHOP'

Mayor Mitchel of New York to Attend the Opening Performance Tomorrow Night.

Most of the seats have been sold for the opening performance of "Love in a Toyshop," the society play to be given at the Victoria Theater tomorrow and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon by the Junior League of St. Louis, for the benefit of lunchrooms in the factory districts. These lunchrooms are intended to serve free hot lunch to factory employes who are not able to buy them.

Mayor Mitchel of New York is to attend tomorrow night's performance and will make a short talk from the stage on the work of the Junior League of America, of which the St. Louis organization is a branch. Saturday night Miss Anne Morgan of New York is expected to attend the performance. John H. Holliday is Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, in charge of the three performances of "Love in a Toyshop." Miss Katherine Semple is president of the league, Miss Mary Crunden vice president; Miss Frances Jones secretary and Miss Helen Wood treasurer.

Story of Play.

The play is a modernized adaptation of the story of Pygmalion and Galatea, and is a combined pantomime and musical comedy, with a slender plot hinging upon the love of the mortal for a beautiful doll. The first act is a toyshop in Nuremburg, in which Herr and Frau Kraus (William la Beaume and Mrs. Lawrence Post) make and sell dolls. Cinders, the shop slavie, who dusts the dolls and winds them up for the customers, is in real life Miss Anna Benoist, and Mr. Grubb (William Crowell) is a poet who comes to the shop for inspiration.

There are all sorts of dolls, standing up around the shop in their long boxes Chinese dolls, ballet girls, Tommy Atkins dolls, smocks, two-faced negro dolls which are both "mammy" and child, boys, jockeys, and there is Piff-Puff, the most wonderful of all the dolls, whom her maker will not sell because he thinks she is so beautiful.

Piff-Puff (Miss Edith Whittemore) is the only doll Maurice (Virgil Lewis) wants, and when he finds Herr Kraus will not sell her he kisses her good-by, thereby bringing her to life. This brings all the other dolls to life also, and the second act sees them all dancing and eating in a Paris roof garden cafe. The mortals, Mr. and Mrs. Bosserhusband (Mrs. Arthur Stickney and Huntington Smith), Mrs. Pinch-the-Dollar and child (Miss Winifred Tittman and Frank Hamilton), Lord and Lady Knottpoere (Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crunden), the Misses Chitterchatter (Miss Minnie Potter and Miss Katherine McCreery) and Maurice, visit the cafe, find the dolls and Maurice again kisses Piff-Puff, and turns her into a doll once more.

Some of the special features are a Chinese dance by Miss Isabel Capen and Virgil Lewis, a whistling solo and chorus by Miss Ann Talbot Day, and the two-faced dolls, Messrs. Boyle Rodes, Hayward Niedringhaus, Carl Frescott, George O'Neil, Sterling McKittrick, and Richard Upshaw, a chorus of the "flirts" with their live monkeys, led by Mrs. Lewis Rumsey singing "Here Comes Tootsie," and an Oriental dance by Mrs. Charles P. Pettus and John Downing Johnson of Indianapolis.

The boxes have been taken for all three occasions. Tomorrow night Mayor Mitchel of New York will make a short address on the work of the Junior League of America, of which the St. Louis organization is a branch, and Saturday night Mayor Mitchel and Mayor Kiel, with Miss Ann Morgan, will be guests of the league in one of the boxes

Following the performance tomorrow night, the Racquet Club will be open for a supper dance. Members of the "troupe" will go in their costumes, and will be guests of the club for the evening.

M. A. A. DISCHARGES NEGRO WAITERS, HIRES WHITE MEN

Threatened Breach Over Issue Is Dispelled—4000 Attend the Opening Reception.

The Missouri Athletic Association on the eev of the formal opening of its new home at Fourth street and Washington avenue, decided not to employ negro waiters.

Negroes who had been hired to serve the buffet luncheon at the formal opening reception last night were hurriedly discharged. White men took their places and peace again reigned. Edward F. Kearney, chairman of the Entertainment Committee and president of the Wabash Railroad, had threatened to resign if negro waiters were employed.

The reception started at 7:30 p. m. At midnight it was said more than 4000 persons had visited the club and inspected the new quarters.

The opening celebration continues today and Saturday. Today is members' day. There will be a formal reception and dinner dance from 6:30 p. m. to midnight. Dancing will begin at 8 p. m. on the fifth floor. Saturday night there will be a stag entertainment and smoker, beginning at 8:15.

TWO SURVIVORS OF ICE-LOCKED LINER TELL HOW 19 DIED

Ship Sappho Abandoned in Floes and Most of Men Fell Exhausted on the Ice.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

(Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)

LONDON, March 2.—Two survivors of the crew of the Wilson liner Sappho, abandoned in the ice of the White Sea at Hull yesterday told a graphic story of their sufferings. Of the 22 men who formed the crew of the liner, all but three are believed to have perished.

The Sappho left Archangel Nov. 28, and should have reached Hull about Christmas, but was caught in the closing ice floes. The crew stuck by her until Dec. 24, when, their provisions running low, they decided to abandon her and make for land as best they could.

On Christmas day some of them lay down on the ice to rest, but the others walked about to keep from freezing.

Keep Walking All Night.

"About 9 at night," said a sailor named Stokes, one of the survivors, "we started to walk again and kept on all night.

"At 10 in the morning the captain said: 'I cannot go any farther,' and gave the ship's papers and other documents to the steward; but the steward would not leave him.

"Nineteen of us, therefore, were forced to leave the captain, the steward and one of the sailors.

"We traveled all that day, with short intervals for rest for the benefit of the older men. One of the firemen fell into the water and was nearly frozen. His hands were stiff, and he could hardly move his legs, so we had to leave him behind.

"The 18 remaining walked all of the second night until 4 the next morning, when the younger men forged ahead, as the older men were handicapping them. What happened to nine of the others who went ahead I don't know, but six of us kept on another day.

"We had to drag the cook for nearly half a mile. He was badly frostbitten and we cut up some blankets and tied up his limbs. The first mate was the next man to give up.

"On the third day it commenced to snow, and in the evening the chief engineer gave up, saying he could go no further. There were only five of us now, and Third Engineer Bartlett kept calling for water. His mind began to wander, and he thought he was still on board the Sappho. We left him behind eventually.

Find an Abandoned Steamer.

"Then we came upon the abandoned steamer Mascara of Glasgow, with paraffin on board, and we took refuge on her. After remaining on board her for 22 hours, we set off again and reached land at length.

"A Laplander with a sledge discovered us about 10 miles from Sosnovetz. We were taken to a village, where a man cut away the blackened portions of our frozen feet."

NORTH SIDE Y. M. C. A. GETS GIFT OF $25,000 WITH CONDITIONS

One Is That the Association Raise an Additional $75,000 Within a Year.

A gift of $25,000 toward a fund for the erection of a new North Side Young Men's Christian Association building, at the northeast corner of Grand and Sullivan avenues, on property already owned by the association, was announced yesterday, conditional upon two things.

Of the conditions named by the giver the first is that his name shall remain secret in connection with the gift and, second, that the association shall raise an additional $75,000 within a year.

Louis Boeger, chairman of the Board of Managers of the North Side Y. M. C. A., made the announcement of the offer to the association. Last Saturday, Boeger said, a personal friend made the offer to him. It was not decided by the board until yesterday to accept the donation.

A campaign to raise the $75,000 will be launched shortly after March 12, which is the last day of the annual financial campaign to raise the necessary funds for the regular support of the present quarters at 1907 St. Louis avenue.

The plot on which the building is to be erected was bought for $18,000 a year ago.

ST. LOUISAN INDICTED AT BENTON, ILL., ON ARSON CHARGE

Myer Katz and Max Tucker of West Frankfort Arrested on Three Counts.

BENTON, Ill., March 2.—Myer Katz of St. Louis and Max Zucker of West Frankfort have been indicted by the special grand jury, which convened Monday, on three charges of conspiring to commit a felony, arson and malicious mischief. On the two first charges their bonds were fixed at $1200 each and on the last charge $600 each.

The indictments followed a fire in a car of merchandise at West Frankfort last week. The stock was intended to be shipped to Benton, where Zucker was to open a store, but that night, after Zucker and Katz had received a receipt from the railroad company the car was discovered on fire. The fire was extinguished and the contents brought to Benton, where railroad detectives say they discovered that virtually all the contents of the car had the appearance of having been soaked with kerosene.

ACCUSES SINGER OF ROBBING HIM

Cabaret Actor Denies Charge, and Says Property Was Given to Him.

Jack Baker, a cabaret singer, staying at the Cambridge Hotel, 517 St. Charles street, was arrested at 2:30 o'clock this morning after George F. Scheiber of 3902A North Eleventh street, had complained of being robbed of $57, a gold watch and chain and a scarf pin while in Baker's room. Baker had Scheiber's property and turned it over to the police. He denied having robbed Scheiber and said that the man had given him the money and jewelry.

Scheiber told the police that Baker, after inviting him to his room to play cards, locked the door and threatened him with a knife. Baker denied Scheiber's charge. He was ordered held.

LONDON ARCHITECT WOULD SHAPE THIS CITY LIKE A FAN

C. R. Ashbee Says Center of Ideal St. Louis Should Be Washington University.

FOR CIRCULAR DRIVES

His Plan Includes Great Roadway From University to City's Center.

A great central highway connecting Washington University with the heart of the city is a vital need in city planning for St. Louis, in the judgment of C. R. Ashbee, London architect, who came here to deliver addresses at Washington University. In connection with that artery there is need, he adds, for a system of laterals and circular driveways to facilitate traffic, obviate the present ridiculous necessity of going far out of one's way on a cross-town journey, and bind the city closer together in every way and promote civic self-consciousness.

"The ideal St. Louis, which has not yet arrived," said Ashbee this morning, at the home of W. K. Bixby, where he was a guest, "should be in the shape of a fan, with the river forming the straight line and the curve dominted by the heights, in the center of which is Washington University. The ideal in city planning should be for the university to be so related to the plan as to dominate the city architecturally and intellectually.

Ideal Garden Cities.

"The ideal suburbs, garden cities, as they are called in England, would be in the outlying district around the circle of the fan. But these are matters to be worked out by the co-operation of all interests for the benefit of all elements. In working it out the architects must lead. They are the specialists.

"I have been privileged to see something of the work they are doing, and can say that they are doing it well. What they need is public support.

"Every city must have a city plan. We have got into a condition in the development of modern industrial life where it is essential that cities become self-conscious. That is the work of the architects. The beginning of it in St. Louis is in Washington University, which is splendidly conceived in the bigger way of city planning. A city plan ought to be carefully worked out and explained to the citizens, made popular and accepted for ultimate execution.

"The architects are working at a splendid piece of work. It is not popular yet. There are many difficulties. It cannot be accomplished in a hurry.

Campaign of Education.

"There must be a campaign of education. That is the work an intelligent press can do. Chicago has been six years in procedure. St. Louis has not yet launched a plan. It is all in embryo here. The architects are tackling it in the right way and the need is for the city to support them.

"The press can get the people to see that a great city plan affects the whole life of the city. It is not merely a question of beautiful buildings here and there. It affects the congestion of traffic, the health of the children, the waste of time to business men, the smoke nuisance, decent suburban dwellings and property values.

"A city plan means very large study of life. The object is to get citizens to see that life and architecture are an identical study.

"The planning of Washington University on the heights is a fine piece of work. The selection of material and the color scheme are very happy. There is a very big question in the relation of the university to the city. That is that the university should exercise an influence in the esthetic development of the city.

Economic Basis for Arts.

We have got into a condition in which it is absolutely essential to find an economic basis for the arts. They are essential to the development of a city's life. One of the duties of the university is to preach that gospel and help find out what the economic basis of the arts should be.

"The arts, in an age of factories and machine labor, cannot stand by themselves. They cannot compete against machinery. As we know from experience that we cannot do without them, we must find some way of supporting them.

"The analogy of scholarship holds good. We cannot do without it, so we endow universities. We don't expect Washington University to pay its way. It must have endowments. Arts in the city under modern conditions are in the same case. They require an economic basis just as the university does. An intelligent city plan in this city, which has Washington University, will take that fact into consideration."

ENGLAND BUYS RACEHORSES AS SIRES FOR ARMY MOUNTS

Pays $328,000 for Breeding Farm to Be Added to $370,000 String Which Was Given to Nation.

LONDON, March 2.—Francis Dyke Ackland, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, announced in the House of Commons that the Government has purchased for £56,600 ($328,000) the breeding farms in Ireland and Wiltshire of Col. William Hall Walker, M. P., who last December made a gift to the nation of horses valued at £74,000 ($370,000) for breeding purposes.

"As it is important that horses to be used as sires should be tested on the racecourse," said Ackland, "arrangements have been made to lease several 2-year-olds to Lord Lonsdale, who has agreed to return half their winnings."

Several members criticised the purchase, one declaring it ridiculous to use such high-class sires for breeding cavalry horses, but the House finally consented to the purchase.

THE POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

STOCK TRADING IS DEAD DULL; PRICES MIXED

Some Issues Are Higher While Others Are Lower; Closing Is Irregular.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"After its slightly hysterical excitement of yesterday, the Stock Exchange relapsed today into the condition of inertia which prevailed before the German assault on Verdun began, or the clash between the President and Congress. Most of the business done was in the speculative industrial shares. Taking the general range of prices, both in these stocks and in the standard investment shares, the tendency of the day was upward. This was to be expected after yesterday's violent decline in response to things which had not happened. Only a part of that loss had been recovered, even with the further fractional over-night advance with which most stocks opened today.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, March 2.—The rally that attended yesterday's late dealings was fully maintained at the opening of today's market, numerous active issues advancing 1 to 2 points. Industrials, including the war group, coppers and such specialties as Industrial Alcohol and Distillers' Securities, figured prominently in the rise. Alcohol soon gained 4 points to 155 on its remarkable statement of earnings for the past year. Rails and U. S. Steel were distinctly firm, Reading gaining a point over yesterday's close. Trading was moderate with an absence of recent feverish conditions.

Coppers became more animated during the midsession, increased dividends on Utah, Butte & Superior and Chino infusing strength in that quarter. Specialties and standard shares also improved.

Gains were largely canceled before the end of the first hour, Washington advices regarding international conditions inducing fresh selling. Alcohol yielded much of its advance and Petroleum, Marine preferred, Erie and Northern Pacific were lower. Metals were affected by cables stating that drastic steps had been taken to prevent speculation on those products abroad. There were various items of favorable import, including the review of domestic conditions by the Federal Reserve Board, but these ignored. Trading was wholly professional and diminished materially, but prices hardened again at midday. Bonds were firm.

Prices Firm on Bourse.

PARIS, March 2.—Prices were firm on the bourse today. Rentes, 62 francs for cash. Exchange on London, 28 francs 4½ centimes.

FLORIST SHOOTS HIMSELF IN ATTEMPT TO END LIFE

Bullet Passes Through His Body, but He Is Found Still Breathing.

Seibel came to this country from Germany a year ago and established himself at O'Fallon. Unknown to him, Miss Hedwig Schreiber, who had once been his sweetheart in Germany, was conducting a grocery in O'Fallon. He renewed his attentions and they were married last summer.

This morning he purchased a revolver and said good-by to several friends and said they would not see him again. He went to his apartment and fired the shot. Mrs. Seibel was in the store. She called for help and H. Cohn, Joseph Weisbrod and Frank Hartmann broke into the room and found Seibel trying to shoot himself again. They took the revolver from him. He made no statement and the reason for his act is not known.

BELLEVILLE BOARD OF TRADE MUST TAKE ANOTHER NAME

Secretary of State Finds Organization of That Name Was Created in 1878.

The Incorporation Committee of the new Belleville Board of Trade was informed Wednesday by Secretary of State Lewis G. Stevenson that the organization will have to incorporate under some other name than that of the "Belleville Board of Trade."

Stevenson, on looking over the State records, found that a Belleville Board of Trade, which still retains its corporate seal and charter, was formed in 1878 by Bernhard Hartmann, Henry A. Kircher, Fred Sunkel, Philip M. Gundlach, Julius C. Koska, Charles F. Noetling, Michael Reis, John Eimer and August Hucke. All these men are dead except Bernhard Hartmann, who is owner of the Star Brewery.

The old corporation will have to dissolve or the new body will have to find another name.

SEVEN DELIVERY WAGONS HELD

East St. Louis Police Arrest Outside Drivers Without City License.

East St. Louis license inspectors yesterday began holding delivery wagons of St. Louis firms that send merchandise to East St. Louis without paying East St. Louis license fees. Seven were held. The drivers were not locked up, but were warned that they must pay license fees before they do any more business in the city.

The fee is $7.50 a year for one-horse and $10 for two-horse wagons. More than 100 St. Louis firms send wagons to East St. Louis. All must pay, City Clerk Walsh said.

Frisco Reorganization Plans.

Under the new Frisco plan of reorganization, filed with the Public Service Commission, the railroad properties will be sold under foreclosure of the refunding or general lien mortgages, or both, and a new corporation will be organized to take over and operate the lines. The financial plan provides for $25,000,000 of cash for the immediate requirements of the railroad, which will be utilized for paying up the interest on the present outstanding bonds, to pay the claims against the road, and to furnish a working capital so that another receivership will not follow. The financial plans were worked out by Speyer & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., the Guaranty Trust Co. and Lee Higginson & Co., all of New York, and they will organize the syndicate which will provide the cash capital requirements.

$47,000 Postoffice Increase.

Postal receipts of the St. Louis postoffice during February showed an increase as follows: February, 1916, $447,-322.98; February, 1915, $399,816.90. Increase, $47,906.08, or 11.82 per cent.

CATTLE—The fresh supply today was light in volume and no more than an average in point of quality. Trade was again brisk, with a strong demand prevailing. Buyers bought cattle at the week's full advance. Steer top was $9, and they could not be classed as choice. Southern offering, mostly canners, and they were strong sale.

Wheat futures displayed nervousness in the early market today, the July option averaging a fraction higher, while May was about unchanged. Many quick changes marked the trading, owing to the uncertain foreign outlook. The market closed irregular in tone, with prices fractionally under yesterday's finish.

Corn futures were steady, but trade was professional, and the price movement was largely in sympathy with wheat. Oats were quiet and steady, with corn. Course grains finished uncertain at small losses.

The Liverpool cable said: "The wheat market was dull today, with a small inquiry. Expectations are for larger exports and liberal American receipts. Spot market is dull, unchanged; cargo market quiet; Manitobas were 1½d lower; winters, 3d lower; plates, 3d lower. Argentine is offering freely and Australian offers are increasing. The corn market is easy. Spots were unchanged to ½d lower; parcels 3d to 6d lower. Mild weather has reduced consumption and stocks are increasing."

Liverpool spot wheat was quoted as unchanged. Spot corn unchanged to ½d lower.

Local wheat receipts were 60,000 bu, against 38,400 bu last year; corn, 35,120 bu, against 39,600 bu; oats, 34,000 bu, against 44,200 bu.

Total primary wheat receipts were 1,217,000 bu, against 653,000 bu last year; shipments, 729,000 bu, against 536,000 bu; corn, reecipts, 799,000 bu, against 490,000 bu; shipments, 674,000 bu, against 789,000 bu; oats, receipts, 607,000 bu, against 669,000 bu; shipments, 715,000 bu, against 884,000 bu.

An Argentine cable said: "Argentine weather fine; wheat offers firm. Corn offers firm; arrivals at ports light; freight steady. Buenos Aires wheat closed unchanged to 1⅛c higher, with spots freely offered. Corn was steady, unchanged. Corn crop well advanced, picking commencing in the North.

Russell's News, New York wired: "Export demand in the afternoon was a little more in evidence. There were some orders in the market and Manitoba wheat was quoted 2½@3c higher, with sales at the highest premiums on the crop. A small amount of Gulf wheat was done, with total sales about 250,000 bu.

"There were some inquiries for corn, and a report was current of another large line of oats done late yesterday, but definite confirmation was lacking.

"The sharp advance in Manitoba wheats and the advance in Gulf wheats tended to check business."

Broomhall cabled: "Rumania—It is reported that France and Great Britain are negotiating for the purchase of a large portion of the new wheat crop of 1916. Crop prospects are highly favorable.

"France—It is officially reported that imports now assured during March will be 5,500,000 bu, and that during April and May 6,500,000 bu. Further liberal purchases will be made with prices favoring to complete reserves. New crop prospects not favorable and supplies light. Foreign wheat is going into actual consumption."

Minneapolis stocks of wheat increased 240,000 bu for 5 days.

Total clearances of wheat were 629,000 bu; flour, 31,000 bbls; wheat and flour, 769,000 bu; corn, 57,000 bu; oats, 6000 bu.

Estimated Argentine wheat shipments this week 3,500,000 bu; corn, 850,000 bu.

WHEAT MARKET IRREGULAR ON BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, March 2.—Wheat showed increased weakness today, largely as a result of the unsettled outlook as to the American relations with Germany, and because of the difficulties of shipping. A general snowfall in the winter crop states tended also to handicap the bulls. The lower quotations from Liverpool counted further to weigh down prices here.

The opening, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to ⅜c down, with May at $1.11 to $1.11¼ and July at $1.08⅝ to $1.08¾, was followed by a sag all around, with a subsequent sharp rally, but then another decline all around.

Corn swayed with wheat. There was persistent selling in small lots. After opening a shade to ⅛@⅜c, the market fluctuated within a range of about ¾c, and chiefly below yesterday's latest figures.

Oats had no independent action. Floor traders, who did the bulk of the trading, seemed to incline to the bear side.

Higher prices on hogs gave only transient strength to provisions. Subsequent downturns resulted from the weakness of grain.

Reports of the capture of the German sea raider Moewe helped afterward to cause another upturn, but the effect failed to last. The close was nervous, at ¼c to ½c net decline, with May $1.11¼ and July $1.08⅜.

The fact that receipts were light and the prospects of a better domestic demand gave a slight transient advantage to the bulls. The close was unsettled, at a shade to ¼c net decline.

In later transactions the market was given support by packers and there were corresponding gains in prices.

COTTON FUTURES ARE HIGHER IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 2.—Trading was quiet in the cotton market today, but the tone was rather steadier, owing to the smaller offerings, relatively steady cables and talk of a better spot demand.

The market opened at an advance of 2 points on March and 1 to 3 points on later months, with the active deliveries selling about 4 to 7 points net higher. This advance carried May contracts up to 11.47c and July to 11.68c, or just about even with the best point reached on the rally of Tuesday.

Buying by trade interests was a little more in evidence during yesterday's late trading and probably promoted the covering of shorts this morning, but the demand was not general and sentiment still seemed to be more or less unsettled.

$100,000,000 IN COPPER DIVIDENDS

¶ These are the aggregate dividends that a conservative authority estimates will be paid to copper shareholders during 1916.

¶ As a hundred million dollars in dividends is out of line with present prices of copper stocks, a big readjustment must take place in the market valuation of copper securities.

¶ And it is universally figured we are on the threshold of this readjustment—that this is the psychological moment to invest in copper shares—that within the next sixty days we are to witness a period of extreme market activity in these stocks.

¶ A statistical book on the coppers will be sent upon request without charge. Ask for 12-PD, including booklet explaining "The Twenty Payment Plan"

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Roy L. McCardell.

Mr. Jarr Balks When Mrs. Jarr Asks Him to Run Errands During Business Hours.

"YOU ask me why I don't do it myself?" inquired Mrs. Jarr. "Why should I? ..ren't you going downtown?"

"I'm going downtown to work," Mr. Jarr answered, "and I've got a lot of it to do. Do you suppose I can be running out on errands for you?"

"It shows just how selfish a man is!" snapped Mrs. Jarr. "Before they marry you there isn't anything they won't do for you. Only, of course, they can say that all well enough because they know they won't be asked to do anything! But after you marry them, just ask them to do the least little thing for you and see what answer you'll get."

"Oh, stop fussing about it!" said Mr. Jarr. "I'll do it, what is it?"

"Never mind now," replied Mrs. Jarr. "It wasn't the thing itself, for I really can do without it if I try, but I'm very glad that in all our married life you were never called upon to make any sacrifices for me, for it's plain to be seen you wouldn't make them!"

"I make plenty of sacrifices, all right," growled Mr. Jarr. "I go without lots of things that you don't go without!"

"I go without beer and I go without cigars and I go without bowling, I suppose?" remarked Mrs. Jarr sarcastically.

"There you go again, kicking about my belonging to a bowling club! It's the only thing I do belong to!" said Mr. Jarr. "What would you have me do? Sit in the house twirling my thumbs like a mollycoddle?"

"You might belong to some bowling club that had ladies," said Mrs. Jarr. "We used to go to one years ago, and we had a lovely time!"

"Who stopped it?" asked Mr. Jarr. "You wouldn't go after the first few times."

"It broke up in a fuss. They were always fussing, those women, and I didn't like any of them, anyway," replied Mrs. Jarr, with feeling. "Every time they had a contest for ladies for a loving cup or a cut glass dish or anything like that, they used to run them when the women that could bowl the best were not present. I hate favoritism, and I hate cliques, and you never can get up any mixed affairs like a men and women's bowling club but what there is favoritism shown and cliques are formed!"

"Why," said Mr. Jarr, "the dates for the ladies' trophies were always known by everybody. There was a notice of them weeks ahead. And I distinctly remember that you and Mrs. Rangle wouldn't go."

"And why wouldn't we go? Because that Mrs.—what's her name—I forget it just now, but she had a bowling jacket like a man's, and she always won, because she was a regular shark and a cheat!"

"How could she cheat or be a shark in bowling?" asked Mr. Jarr. "The pins have got to be knocked over, they won't fall of themselves."

"I don't know about that; she was always tipping the boys," said Mrs. Jarr. "And, anyway, she had been playing for years and was always practicing and could bowl better than any one of us. Was that fair?"

"You could have practiced, too," said Mr. Jarr.

"I got tired of it; used to break my shoes and I got a blister on my finger," replied Mrs. Jarr. "And, anyway, I didn't like the crowd and I don't like the game!"

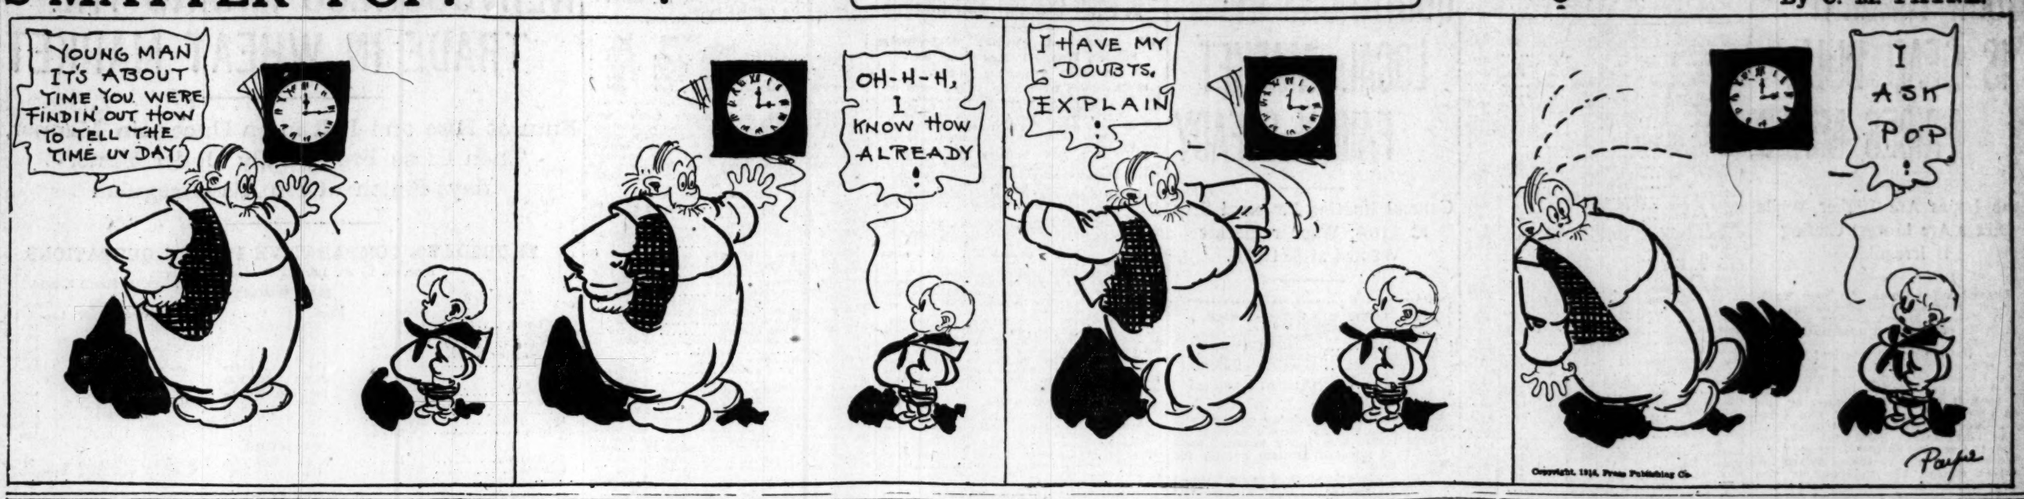

"Oh, all right, all right," said Mr. Jarr feebly. "Don't say any more about it. What is it you want me to do?"

"You needn't mind about it now," said Mrs. Jarr coldly. "I've got a headache just from the way you've quarreled with me, and I've forgotten what it was I wanted!"

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One

HAVE you heard the story about the deep hole?"

"No."

"Well! well!"

Make It Even.

A STREET CAR inspector was watching the work of the new conductor. "Here, Foley," he said, "how is this? You have 10 passengers and only nine fares have been rung up."

"Is that so?" asked Foley. Then, turning to his passengers, he yelled: "There's wan too many on this car. Git out, wan of yez."

Off Duty.

A DISTINGUISHED German scientist during his stay in the United States has been doing important laboratory work for the Department of Agriculture. One evening a friend dropped into the laboratory to find the Teuton bending over a spirit lamp on which a small pot bubbled.

"What is it tonight?" asked the caller.

"Guess," said the professor invitingly.

"Micrococci?"

"No."

"Sonococci?"

"No."

"Spirochaeta?"

"No."

The visitor ran the scale of micro-organisms as well as he knew it, and then said: "I give it up. What is in the pot?"

"Sausages," replied the professor blandly.—Everybody's Magazine.

Run Down.

JONES, in the hospital is very much run down."

"Nervous protration or automobile?"

Expertness.

Mr. Willis: "So your daughter is home from the Domestic Science School. I suppose she has learned how to wash dishes."

Mr. Gillis: "No, she seems to have learned several new ways of getting out of washing them."

What They Called It.

GOT a jitney in your town?"

"What do you mean by a jitney?"

"Why, an automobile that carries several people."

"Oh, yes, we got one; but we call it the 'patroi wagon.'"—Yonkers Statesman.

A Plea for Clemency.

IS that the officer who arrested you?" his honor inquired of an old negro whitewash artist, arrested for assault.

"I can't rekkerlect," answered the prisoner.

"Sure, I arrested him, Judge," put in O'Flynn, with indignation, "he knows it, too."

"Take a good look at him, Moses," insisted the Judge. "Isn't that face familiar?"

The darkey squinted long and scowlingly at his accuser.

"Now dat I uses mo' keer, Jedge," he said, "peers like dey is somethin' familyus erbout dat face, but dis yere worl' is so full ob nacherly ugly folks, jes' an ordinary man kain't always tell de diffunce betwix' 'em. Dat's him, Jedge, dat's him, * * * but be ez easy ez yo' kin on him, kaze he got a wife an' fo' chillun."—Case and Comment.

Looked That Way.

YOU know every boy in this country has a chance to be the President of the United States," said the schoolmaster.

"Oh, I know what you're driving at," said the bright boy; "you want me to be for preparedness."—Yonkers Statesman.

"Sold!"

"Has Jones moved into that new house he bought?"

"Yes, he's been in it over a month."

"Funny it's still got the 'Sold' sign on it."

Same Thing.

THANKS, old man. You've saved my life by lending me this tenspot, and I'll never forget it."

"In other words, you'll remember it until you pay it back, I suppose."

A Horse Laugh.

"I see Tom has got a job at last."

"What doing?"

"Hicks has horses in his stable that won't take the bit; so Tom talks to them till they yawn."

Splendid Experience.

HAVE you ever had any experience as a waiter?" inquired the restaurant proprietor of an applicant for that position.

"No," replied the young man; "but I have always eaten at self-service restaurants."

Immediately he was made head waiter.

Different Rounds.

THE ladder of success is not made up of one round of pleasure after another.—Judge.

It's near enough to spring to think
Of sitting on the river's brink,
And there in soft and sweet repose
Hear how the gurgling bait jug flows.

A TRUE poet is a man who can see more with his eyes closed than he can with them open, hear more in the silence of solitude than in all the music of the Metropolitan.

STRANGER: Have you a good hair tonic you can recommend?

Druggist (prohibition town): Here is something that is spoken of very favorably by the people who have drunk it.
